CABINET OUT IN JAPAN

Follows Plot to Kill Ruler

Would-be Assassin Fires at Prince Regent on Way to Convene Diet

Bullet Misses Hirohito, but Wounds Chamberlain in Same Auto

BY RODERICK MATHESON
[BY CABLE—EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH]
[Copyright, 1923, by the Chicago Tribune.]

TOKIO, Dec. 27.—The Japanese Cabinet today resigned following unsuccessful attempt to assassinate Prince Regent Hirohito while on his way this morning to convene the ordinary session of the Diet. The assailant, a shabbily dressed Japanese youth named Tamura, used a cane gun in the attempt.

A bullet from the assassin's gun missed the Regent's head by an inch an injured Chamberlain [illegible]. Tamura was arrested by the police after being rescued from a crowd which severely manhandled him. Feeling in the crowd ran high after the attempt.

Tamura confessed to the police that he sought to kill the Regent, but he would not give his motives. [illegible], Chief of the Metropolitan Police, resigned following the attempt, accepting responsibility.

BREAKS THROUGH POLICE

Tamura broke through the police cordon at the moment the Regent's car, which was escorted by several others, reached Toranomon corner, near the Russian Embassy. He ran several yards in the direction of the procession and opened fire as soon as he sighted the car in which Prince Hirohito was riding. He fired several shots.

The Prince was bowing in acknowledgement to the greeting of the crowd at the moment the shot was fired which smashed through a window of the limousine. It is believed that his action in bowing saved his life.

Your correspondent was standing in front of the Russian embassy when he heard the shots. [illegible] ran toward the procession, with mounted police galloping on all sides of him. The imperial automobile dashed past at top speed, while the crowd broke through the barriers and police lines, yelling "[illegible] the shooter." The assassin stood still, apparently paralyzed with fright. The police soon seized him and hurried him away.

CROWDS UNINFORMED

The majority of the people between the scene of the shooting and the Diet Building stood for some time awaiting the passing of the Regent, unaware of the attempt made on his life. They did not realize that the automobile passing at breakneck speed carried the Regent and his party. It was not until extras appeared in

OIL HEARING IS DEFIED

Sinclair Refuses Documents

Questions Power to Force Witnesses to Reveal Private Business

Fall Categorically Denies Receiving Any Money in Dome Lease

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE]

WASHINGTON, Dec. 27.—Authority of a Senate committee to compel a witness to testify concerning private business transactions was again questioned today by Harry F. Sinclair, who raised a similar issue nearly a year ago when the La Follette oil investigating committee unsuccessfully sought information of him about oil-stock deals.

Appearing as a witness in the investigation by the Senate Public Lands Committee into leasing of naval-oil reserves, Mr. Sinclair declined to answer questions relating to certain features of the organization of companies to handle his lease of the Teapot Dome reserve in Wyoming.

A ballot in the committee resulted 4 to 3 in favor of "compelling" the witness to reply to all questions, but when adjournment was taken "subject to the call of the chair," the members had not discussed any program designed to carry out this decision. Mr. Sinclair was excused until the next meeting when he promised to supply data relating to the Mammoth Oil Company, Sinclair Consolidated Company, Mammoth Oil Syndicate, Hyva Corporation and other corporate and copartnership groups which have grown out of his possession of the lease.

DEALINGS DENIED

Both Mr. Sinclair and Albert B. Fall, who was the head of the Interior Department when the lease was approved, denied that any consideration had been sought or given in connection with the transaction. From his bed in a local hotel, where he is confined by ill health, Mr. Fall sent a statement to the committee, reviewing in detail phases of his business and personal affairs which have been brought into the hearings by witnesses.

Questions objected to by Mr. Sinclair related to the part played by business associates in the formation or financing of the companies growing out of the lease and particularly to considerations given by various individuals for stock.

When he appeared before the La Follette committee last winter, Mr. Sinclair was directed to produce the books of the Hyva Corporation, formed to deal in securities of his various interests, but demurred on the ground that the firm was entirely owned by himself and his immediate family. After a lengthy discussion, he was ordered to bring books and other pertinent documents to the committee before a certain date.

Mr. Sinclair appeared on that

HOOVER HAS RIO GRANDE TREATY JOB

Joint Commission Will Form Pact With Mexico on Water Rights

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE]

WASHINGTON, Dec. 27.—Secretary Hoover has been named by President Coolidge to represent the Federal government on a joint commission which will be created to settle the rights to the use of water of the Rio Grande River, as between the United States and the States of Colorado and New Mexico.

The commission will attempt to devise a compact which will settle for all time controversies over the disposition of such of the Rio Grande waters as belong to the United States and its components. A part of the Rio Grande flowage, by treaty, is a possession of the Mexican government.

The chief question which the compact commission will attempt to settle, Secretary Hoover explained, is the use of the Rio Grande flow for irrigation. The possible hydroelectric development in the Rio Grande basin is much less than that in the Colorado basin, which area was covered in a previous compact between Western States, which Mr. Hoover assisted in making.

Gen. Wood's Son and Miss Graves Will Not Marry

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE]

WASHINGTON, Dec. 27.—Leonard Wood, Jr., theatrical manager and organizer, and Miss Dolores Graves of San Francisco, an actress, whose engagement was announced recently, have decided not to marry.

Mr. Wood, who is a son of the Governor-General of the Philippines, explained tonight that "in this business it is almost impossible for persons to marry happily."

"One of us would have had to sacrifice a career," he said. "When one marries one likes to have a home. Miss Graves is an actress and has her career ahead of her. We thought it all over and decided to call the wedding off."

Mr. Wood met Miss Graves about eight months ago, and later she joined the Wood players, a stock company, which recently closed an engagement at Lancaster, Pa. Mr. Wood now is organizing the Washington Theater Guild.

ASYLUM FIRE QUIZ STARTS

Eighteen Dead Accounted for; Coroner Believes More Bodies Are in Ruins

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH]

CHICAGO, Dec. 27.—Eighteen dead have been accounted for today in the Dunning asylum fire. Several of the maniacs are still missing, but undoubtedly some of them escaped and are hidden by friends or are concealing themselves. The Coroner believes there are more victims in the ruins.

The work of selecting a jury of business men to investigate every phase of the tragedy began today. Charges have been frequently made that the asylum buildings were flimsy fire traps and last night's horror seems to bear out this charge.

The disaster played queer tricks with the warped minds of inmates. Perhaps the most remarkable instance is that of Joe Vesley, a veteran fireman, whose mentality snapped ten years ago and who was classed as one of the incurables.

MIND RETURNS

Last night he was sitting in his room, twitching his hands and staring at nothing. Came suddenly the clang of fire engines, the commands of chiefs, the swish of water, the smell of smoke and all the excitement of a big fire. The thrilling sounds pulled Joe back through all the years. He rushed out through the dancing sea of flames and saw through the smoke and steam faces of his old mates in the department. His madness fell away from him like a shroud and for the remainder of the night he was again the experienced fireman, working valiantly, quietly, dropping into the old discipline smoothly.

Working without a helmet or rubber coat, he took all sorts of chances, dragging hose through the mud, scaling ladders and loosening the jammed wheels of a truck over which fifteen men, lack-

MURDERER CONFESSES TWO DEEDS

Blames Effect of War on Mind for Brutal Attacks Upon Women

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE]

NEW YORK, Dec. 27.—Captured on the tip of a keen-eyed employment agent, Frank Benner, alias Collins and Carleton, asserted war veteran, today was alleged by the police to have confessed that he assaulted and murdered Miss Estelle Phillips in this city last October and that three wees ago he attacked Mrs. Mary Mitchell, a nurse in a hospital in the Chestnut Hills section of Philadelphia, torturing her so that she is still an invalid.

Detectives were trying tonight to connect their prisoner with the murder and mutilation of pretty Ream Hoxie, 17 years of age, in New York in February, 1920, and with similar crimes reported in a half dozen cities by a man answering the prisoner's general description.

"Maybe it was the war that put such ideas into my head," Benner was alleged to have declared at the end of a frank, unemotional confession. "I get wild, like a maniac."

HUGHES WARNS HONDURANS

President of Republic Cautioned Against Interfering With Orderly Election Processes

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE]

WASHINGTON, Dec. 27.—The American Minister at Tegucigalpa has been instructed to inform the President of Honduras and responsible officials of that government that the United States regards with disfavor any attempt of a government to perpetuate itself in power except by accepted constitutional processes.

The communication was sent by the State Department as a result of the disturbed situation in Honduras incident to the Presidential election.

At the same time the department communicated to its representatives in the other four Central American republics a summary of its instructions to Minister Morales at Tegucigalpa and expressed the hope that nothing would develop in or between the five republics which would disrupt the concord reached by them at the conference held here several months ago.

The department recently instructed Minister Morales to repeat also to the Honduran authorities the representations sent them when the Presidential election situation first appeared to threaten trouble in that country.

In that communication Secretary Hughes suggested that the Honduran government take steps to the end that the elections might be conducted in an orderly manner and protection be afforded the voters.

According to advices, some of which have come to private individuals having interests in Honduras, Honduran troops not only put to death certain adherents to the cause of Gen. Carias, the opposition candidate for President, but crossed into Nicaragua and committed depredations against the citizens of that country.

The Nicaraguan government has protested and the belief in Latin-American quarters here is that a serious international situation may be developing behind the screen of secrecy interposed several days ago by a censorship.

DIXMUDE IS SIGHTED

Dirigible Seen in North Africa

Officials Believe Captain Will Sacrifice Ship to Save Crew

Court-martial Likely for Men Responsible for Desert Cruise

BY HENRY WALES
[BY CABLE—EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH]

PARIS, Dec. 27.—The giant dirigible Dixmude, with a crew of fifty officers and men on board, possibly is safe and still flying, according to news reaching Paris. The wireless station at Medine reports receiving a message from Ouargla stating that the Dixmude was sighted drifting toward Hoggar, 200 kilometers (about 125 miles) south of In Salah in Northern Africa, yesterday. Light north and northwesterly winds were prevailing.

This report was confirmed by telegraph from the Southern Algerian administration.

The airship sailed over In Salah at an altitude of about 600 feet and was carried in a southeasterly direction by a light wind toward the mountainous region of Hoggar.

The French military post at Tamanrasset, 300 miles southeast of In Salah and near Fort Motylinski, has been advised by wireless and Arab cavalry commanded by a French officer has been dispatched to scour the region for the missing dirigible. Arab troops from Hangain, under French officials, have started marching toward the Hoggar Mountains, which are 10,000 feet high, seeking the former Zeppelin.

JUSTIFY CRUISE

The naval officer responsible for ordering the Dixmude on its Africa desert cruise may be court-martialed on charges of negligence and inefficiency.

Col. Girod, a deputy, today announced his intention of interpellating the government as to why the dirigible was sent on a dangerous voyage when there was no safe place to land anywhere except at the home airdrome at Cuers Pierrefeu near Toulon.

On the other hand, certain aviation experts justify the cruise, pointing out that during the war Germany ordered the Zeppelins on long voyages, bombing Paris and London and even penetrating East Africa. They state that it is necessary to train officers and crews and that they must learn how to maneuver and handle airships.

It is announced that Admiral Gilly ordered the cruise after the commandant of the airship had personally suggested the trip for a tryout.

HOPE FOR CREW

Marine officials state that every precaution was taken to ascertain the meterological conditions everywhere and that wireless bulletins were directed to the Dixmude at frequent intervals after its departure, advising of weather conditions and warning it, for instance not to attempt to cross the Atlas Mountains during a gale raging there.

The officials are bewildered by the failure of the homing pigeons carried by the Dixmude to return to their base, as the airship always carried a score of pigeons for emergency. They are astonished also that the Dixmude did not drop some member of the crew by parachute when passing over a town to give warning of distress and to tell of conditions.

The loss of the airship was admitted in some quarters today, but hopes were held for the safety of the officers and crew, as it was believed that Commander Deplessy would sacrifice the airship in an attempt to save his men.

SEE LONG WAIT

It was generally believed that the former Zeppelin crashed somewhere near Northern Algiers, far out in the sands of the desert, and that the crew preferred to remain together around the debris than to scatter and attempt to walk across the burning and waterless sands, believing that rescue parties will easily find the carcass of the monster dirigible.

It was pointed out, however, that a long time may elapse before the finding of the Dixmude because the military airships vailable possess only a short radius of operations, less than 250 miles, permitting them to go only 125 miles from their bases.

There is hope that wandering bands of Arabs may discover the wreck and ride to the nearest military post on camels to inform the authorities.

Lassen Peak Is Reported to be Erupting Again

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE]

SACRAMENTO, Dec. 27.—Lassen Peak, the only active volcano in continental United States, broke out in eruption this afternoon, according to a special dispatch from Redding. The eruption, which began at 1 p.m., is the largest in years, as measured by the volume of smoke emitted, the dispatch said.

The first clouds did not ascend to any great height, according to the dispatch. The heavy ashen cloud extended to the south and late this afternoon continued to maintain its contour for several thousand feet.

OBREGON TROOPS SWEEP TOWARD GUADALAJARA

Mexican President Leads Army in Victorious Advance on Rebel Base in Jalisco

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE]

NOGALES (Ariz.) Dec. 27.—The offensive launched by Federal troops yesterday against the rebel fortress of Guadalajara is continuing successfully with the advancing army victorious in minor clashes north of Tamacula, which was captured yesterday, according to an official war bulletin received by the Mexican Consul here today.

The bulletin says the government forces are well equipped and fully organized. The offensive was started from Irapuato.

Rebel forces in Northern Jalisco, commanded by Gens. Fermin Carpio and Magano, which were trying to reach Gen. Estrada's army, were overtaken today by government forces. The rebels suffered heavy losses in the battle which followed and were completely routed, the bulletin said. Gen. Carpio, his brother, Jose Maria Carpio and Gen. Magano were all killed in action.

CONTROL WEST COAST

The federals are now in full control of the west coast of Mexico with the exception of the small port of Macanillo Colima, dispatches state.

One hundred rebels were killed and more than 300 captured in the attack against the insurgent forces of Gen. Estrada at Tamacula yesterday, according to official advices received by the consul. The federal army is continuing its march to the Estrada headquarters at Guadalajara and is now 175 miles from that town, the advices declared.

The Tamacula battle was described in the advices as one of the hottest engaged in during the present revolution.

President Obregon, who is in command of the offensive, has moved his headquarters from Irapuato to Guanajuato in the state of the same name.

GUERRERO CAPTURED

The town of Guerrero, near Puebla, also has fallen into the hands of government forces, following a clash during which 150 rebels were killed, it was reported.

The Federal general, Aguirre, who recently was named by President Obregon to assume command of military operations on the West Coast, left Hermosillo, Sonora today for Jalisco. Several ammunition trains also departed for the southern section of the West Coast. It was reported here that Gen. Aguirre will take active command of the troops of the government in a general offensive against the rebel-held city of Guadalajara, capital of Jalisco.

Decision of Shipping Chief Follows Conference With Coolidge

Committee Ruled He Was Geographically Barred From Appointment

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE]

WASHINGTON, Dec. 27.—Edward P. Farley, chairman of the Shipping Board, announced after a conference today with President Coolidge that he had requested the Executive to withdraw his nomination as a commissioner of the board which is before the Senate and that upon its withdrawal he would resign as chairman of the board, which office he fills by recess appointment.

Mr. Farley indicated that the President would accede to his request for withdrawal of his nomination, upon which an adverse report recently was voted by the Senate Commerce Committee. The chairman said his formal resignation would be sent to the President within a few days.

BARRED BY COMMITTEE

The Senate committee in voting adversely on the nomination of Mr. Farley held that he was geographically unqualified for a Shipping Board commissionership, inasmuch as the law provides that only one commissioner may be appointed from States bordering on the Great Lakes and that T. V. O'Connor of Buffalo, a prior appointee, qualified from that section.

Mr. Farley in explaining his intention to resign, declared that if he were unqualified as held by the Senate committee, he was unqualified to continue to serve under the recess appointment given him last May by President Harding.

The action of Chairman Farley is expected to bring about a de-

WRONG GIRL OPERATED ON

Quarrel of State Hospital Doctors Over Mistake is Aired by Civil Service Commission

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH]

SACRAMENTO, Dec. 27.—Physicians at the Sonoma State Hospital performed an operation on the wrong girl a year ago and then quarreled among themselves over the mistake it developed today when the State Civil Service Commission refused to dismiss Dr. Florence P. Chapman, assistant to Dr. F. O. Butler, head of the institution.

The presence of two Elsie Smiths as the hospital at the time of the operation is blamed by the doctors for the mistake. They intended to operate on one Elsie, but selected the wrong girl. Some months later the parents of the girl who was operated on came for her. When she reached home they discovered that she was about to become a mother, much to the embarassment of Dr. Butler.

Dr. Butler said his assistant, Dr. Chapman, should have known the girl's condition and asked the Civil Service Commission to dismiss her for neglect of duty. Dr. Chapman denied the charges and insisted that Dr. Butler should have known of the girl's condition, as he operated on her. The Civil Service Commission agreed with Dr. Chapman in an opinion made public yesterday.

Despite the operation, the child born to the Smith girl entered the world healthy and strong.

"The testimony in this case develops one of the most remarkable situations that has ever come to our notice, a situation which, despite the conflicting testimony, seems impossible and preposterous," said the Civil Service Commission in its opinion. "And further, a situation for which someone is to blame and for which some person or persons should be held responsible."

"It was perhaps an indictment against the efficiency of the institution to have Elsie Smith's condition discovered by her parents instead of by the superintendent."

No attempt is made by the commission to fix the responsibility for the mistaken identity of the Smith girls.

A page of skyscrapers all completed within twelve months, is a pictorial detail in the comprehensive story of Southern California's amazing 1923 building activity. Tremendously interesting articles, supported by voluminous tables and colored charts, show how the value of Los Angeles manufactured products has grown from $15,000,000 in 1900 to more than $1,000,0000,000 in 1923. Equally astonishing is the story of how Los Angeles' oil fields now produce between one-fourth and one-fifth of the world's total oil output. to the morale of the Federal troops, it is said. He now is in personal command of a large body of troops in the State of Guanajuato and has ordered a general advance aginst the rebel positions in the vicinity of the city of Gudalajara, capital of the State of Jalisco.

Troops directed by the President include the commands of Joaquin Amaro and J. Gonzalo Escobar, brigadier-generals, who have been concentrating their forces at Irapuato in readiness for a drive toward the stronghold of the rebel armies.

REBELS ROUTED

Consul-General Ruiz was advised of a victory of the Federal forces in the State of Guerrero during which the insurrectionists were routed and left many dead on the field. Prisoners also were taken. They will be given an opportunity to join the forces of the government.

Gen. Juan Andrew Alamazan, commanding a force of Federal cavalry, attacked De la Huerta forces at Tepeaca, charging them and compelling the rebels to disperse, Mr. Ruiz was advised. Two hundred prisoners were taken in this engagement.

Federal forces are following up the advantage gained at Puebla and are attacking the rebel rear guard, Mr. Ruiz was informed.

INDIANS ATTACK OAXACA

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE]

MEXICO CITY (Via Laredo) Dec. 27.—Three thousand Indians from the mountain fastnesses of Oaxaca are attacking the city of Oaxaca which is controlled by the rebellious forces of Gen. Fortunato Maycotte, chief of military operations, and Gen. Manuel Garcia Vigil, Governor, according to information given out at the offices of Gen. Arnulfo Gomez, commander of the Mexico City garrison and of military operations in the Valley of Mexico.

Isaac Ibbera, Senator of Oaxaca and administration leader, announced recently that Garcia Vigil had imprisoned three Indian generals at Oaxaca after calling a conference for the purpose of organizing volunteer forces to repel invasion of the State.

PEACE MOVE REPORTED

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE]

MEXICO CITY, Dec. 26.—(Via Laredo Junction, delayed.)—Upon the eve of Federal offensives against the rebellious forces commanded by Gens. Enrique Estrada and Manuel Diegues in the State of Jalisco and Gens. Fortunato Maycotte and Castro in the State of Oaxaca, reports are again in circulation of a peace move. The reports say the author of the new effort toward peace is Gen. Angel Flores, Governor of Sinaloa, a Presidential candidate.

According to unconfirmed reports which are given prominence in Excelsior, Judge Manuel Tellez, heading a commission from Sinaloa, has arrived in Mexico City with the Flores peace proposal. After conferring with Gen. Estrada at Guadalajara, Judge Tellez is reported to have been in wireless communication with Gen. Maycotte and with De la Huerta, leader of the revolt at Vera Cruz. Details of the reported peace proposals could not be learned.

It is stated, however, that Judge Tellez conferred with President Obregon before the latter departed yesterday for Irapuato to direct the offensive on the Jalisco front.

CAMPAIGN PERFECTED

The campaign in Jalisco, which is intended to overcome the forces headed by Estrada and Dieguez, according to semi-official information available at the War Department, has been perfected here for some time. Troop movements in considerable numbers already are under way.

It was stated that the offensive, which was first intended to begin about the middle of the month, had been delayed, first, for the purpose of driving out the followers of Maycotte and Castro from Puebla which was accomplished Saturday, and, second, to enable disposal of Federal columns in a strategic line in front of the forces of Estrada and Dieguez to prevent their escape from Guadalajara into the Jalisco mountains, and thereby prolonging the conflict into difficult guerilla warfare.

The principal advance of the Federal forces is scheduled to start near Iraquato under command of Gen. Joaquin Amara, with President Obregon assuming general supervision.

GET MOTOR TRUCKS

Several hundred motor trucks have been shipped from the capital to Iraquato to facilitate the advance of the Federal forces which has been delayed on account of the destruction of railways by the rebels.

The retreat of Gen. Estrada already has been cut off through the operations of columns under Gen. Lazaro Cardenas, which has interrupted communication near Zacoalco, between Guadalajara and Colima. Federal Generals Espinosa and Cordoba also cut the line leading from Guadalajara to Ameca. In addition the columns of Mayos, which were transported via the United States from Sonora, are initiating the advance upon Yurecuarco. They are commanded by Gen. Jesus Maria Aguirre.

According to a War Department announcement, Gen. Cardenas yesterday routed a rebel band of Dieguez followers at Tamaula, between Ciudad Guzman and Guadalajara, with a loss of twenty-eight killed. The announcement added that an airplane squadron under Capt. Rafael Ponce de Leon bombarded revolutionary encampments Sunday and Monday near Ocotlan. A vanguard of Amaro's division under Jose Gonzalo Escobar already has come into cantact with the Estrada forces at Ocotlan. Estrada has moved his headquarters from Guadalajara to Sayula. Skirmishes at Yurecuarco and Mazemetla have been won by detachments commanded by Generals Arenas and Cardenas, respectively.

READY TO MOVE

A contingent moving against Maycotte and Castro forces is scheduled to begin as soon as repairs to the railway leading to Oaxaca is completed.

It is announced that the city of Esperanza is being held by Gen. Pedro Gonzalez with 800 rebels and that Generals Maycotte and Castro are reorganizing the fugitives from Puebla. In addition, there are reinforcements from Oaxaca and other points at Tehuacan. The total force is said to not exceed 1000 effectives.

The offensive movement involves 2000 Federals under Gen. Juan Andrew Almazan which have reached Tepecaca where a rebel detachment wa srouted and a column of 1500 men concentrated at San Marcos under Gen. Lopez.

The rebels are also being menaced by the operations of Gen. Frederico Harbosa, who is threatening Esperanza from the fastness of the mountains near Zongolica. Armed agrarian bands, composed of ex-soldiers and hardy mountaineers, also are being organized near Cordoba for the purpose of attacking the rebels.

MARAUDERS PURSUED

A further announcement given out in official quarters states that Gen. Maximo Bertran is leading a column of 500 Federals against a band of fifty marauders operating near Ozumba in the vicinity of the Morelos State frontier. Gen. Marcelo Caraveo has repulsed rebel forces for a second time in their attack upon the mining town of Sultepec.

Gen. Jose Cruz, commanding the garrison at Puente De Ixtla reports that the rebel Gen. Figueroa is not showing signs of activity in that region, and apparently has retreated to Iguala.

Antoni Galvan, superintendent of the Isthmian division of the National railways, reported today from Rincon Antonio that train service under Federal operation is being continued to Tehuantepec, and the Pan-American system from Santa Lucretia to Salina Cruz as wel las from San Jeronimo to Suchiate.

PRISONERS ENLISTED

According to Federal officials a majority of the enlisted men captured when Puebla was occupied by the Obregon army re-enlisted in the Obregon army. They signed a statement that they had been withdrawn from their posts by disloyal officials who told them they were being sent to Vera Cruz for the purpose of suppressing the revolt. They were greatly surprised to find themselves in Puebla fighting loyalist forces.

Specials from Irapuato describe a petition presented to President Obregon from 1000 wives — camp followers of the Federal troops—after they had been informed it would be impossible for them to accompany soldiers during the advance upon Guadalajara. It is stated that the President offered to provide the women with living necessities while separated from the troops.

REBELS MAKE CLAIMS

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE]

VERA CRUZ, Dec. 27. — Gen. Lazoro Cardenas and his entire staff and 300 cavalry have been taken prisoner by the revolutionary forces, according to a statement issued tonight at general revolutionary headquarters here.

The official statement says:

"General headquarters has received news of an important triumph on the western front where the revolutionary general, Buelna, was detached from the columns of Gen. Enrique Estrada to offer battle to the Obregon forces who from Michoacan menaced the flank of the revolutionaries and were advancing along the railroad to Irapuato.

"Gen. Buelna completely routed the Federalists commanded by Gen. Lazaro Cardenas, taking him prisoner, together with his staff and 300 of his cavalry. The remainder of the Federal column went over to the rebels.

"This triumph leaves completely free the advance of the revolutionary army of Gen. Estrada and this is believed to be the principal reason for the withdrawal of the Obregon forces from San Marcos to Apizaco, which was announced yesterday.

"A general advance on Apizaco and Puebla has been ordered from here to prevent Gen. Obregon from moving troops to the western front."

VOICE OF RADIO STIRS BULLETS

Illinois Man is Given Burglar Scare and Starts Shooting

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE]

WAUKEGAN (Ill.) Dec. 27. Jewett Bairstow mistook his radio loud speaker for a burglar yesterday and shot it.

It happened this way:

Bairstow was asleep when a voice from the radio horn awakened him. Believing he was beset by burglars, Bairstow emptied his revolver and then yelled lustily over the telephone for the police. The bluecoats arrived and found nothing but the riddled horn.

the streets announcing the attempted murder that the crowds stopped waiting for the Prince.

Prince Hirohito calmly entered the Diet a quarter of an hour after the attempt on his life. He unrolled the imperial message which he read in a voice that did not indicate that anything unusual had happened. The diplomats and other visitors to the Diet were detained thirty minutes after the Regent left, without explanation, and it was not until they had returned to the embassies that they learned of the attempt.

PRINCE GUARDED

On his return to his palace, Prince Hirohito was heavily guarded. Tamura is believed to be an insane member of a radical group desiring the death of the Regent.

After the attempt on his life, the police blocked off the street and would let nobody pass.

It was evident that there was a fear of an attack on Prince Hirohito's life, for extraordinary precautions were taken to guard the streets. The existence of a plot was reported from Shanghai yesterday, when it was stated that Koreans were planning to take his life on his wedding day.

Co-operation is proving a strong factor in the economic life of the people of India, according to all reports regarding the movement.

Where Many Perished in Asylum Fire

Flames consuming annex No. 1 at the Chicago State Hospital for the Insane, known as the "Death House." Bodies of eighteen inmates were found in debris of this building. Other bodies may be found in the ruins. This picture was telegraphed to The Times from Chicago last night by means of the telephotograver.

ing his experience. were vainly tugging.

When it was all over Joe did not want to leave his old friends, but a guard put him back in his room and today he sat mutely, trying vainly to recapture the reason which came to him last night. But he had lived his brief hours of sanity and this was another day.

Other demented inmates were found wandering around the city—a city that was a new world to them after years of confinement. But they were like lost children and were soon overtaken and returned to their rooms.

COOLNESS DISPLAYED

Seventy-five of the epileptic patients displayed remarkable coolness and courage, braving death to save helpless comrades. Their sanity seemed to return while the crisis was on, but when the flames died out the reason faded from their minds.

Officials believe the fire was caused by a cigar or cigarette stub tossed into waste by a patient or attendant. Identification of a majority of the eighteen bodies so far recovered is difficult. Relatives of inmates clamored at the gates today, but no one was admitted. In many cases it was impossible to tell whether the bodies are those of men or women. It is known that Elijah Caraker and his wife, attendants, and their 8-year-old son perished in the "death house," as the annex was known because of its flimsy character.

cision by the President soon with regard to a new chairman of the board although the board will be able to continue to function with Commissioner O'Connor, now the vice-chairman, acting as chairman.

PRESIDENT UNDECIDED

White House officials declared today that the President, in looking no decision regarding the chairmanship.

J. E. Barnes, representing the Todd Shipbuilding Company, and F. J. Gauntlett, representing the Newport News Dry Dock and Shipbuilding Company, conferred with Mr. Coolidge today and recommended that one of the present members of the board be elevated to the chairmanship.

Shipping interests and others related to shipping, Mr. Barnes and Mr. Gauntlett said, generally favored the elevation of E. C. Plummer of Bath, Me., one of the present commissioners, to the chairmanship.

Indications developed during the day that the President in looking about for a successor to Mr. Farley as the interior States representative on the board, was considering among others Leigh C. Palmer, who until recently was the Shipping Board representative in Brazil and who during the World War served as chief of the Navy Department's Bureau of Navigation with the rank of rear-admiral.

Mr. Palmer had a lengthy conference with the President.

Mr. Palmer is a native of Missouri, and was accredited to that State while at the Naval Academy, from which he graduated in 1896. He thus could qualify for appointment as a representative of the interior States.

TESTIMONY IN HEARING OF DEFUNCT BROKERS

JONES & BAKER INSOLVENT BEFORE THEIR FAILURE, EVIDENCE SHOWS

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE]

NEW YORK, Dec. 27.—Indications that Jones & Baker, curb brokers, were insolvent eight months before they failed last May for several million dollars, were revealed in testimony at a Federal Court hearing today.

Customers' stocks, ostensibly held as loans, habitually were sold through roundabout transactions through the New Finance Corporation, a subsidiary, William R. Jones, head of the bankrupt firm, testified. On the day of the failure customers' debts which did not exist except on the firm's books, he said, exceeded $7,000,000. He admitted that customers were charged interest on the fictitious loans.

The solvency of Jones & Baker in October, 1922, depended on the ability of the New Finance Corporation to pay more than $3,000,000 from the sale of customers' stocks, Herman J. Hayes an accountant, testified. The financial status of the corporation has not been determined.

DOME OIL LEASE HEARING DEFIED

date and answered readily questions put to him, but the issue of the books was not again raised in the inquiry.

"I protest against being forced to answer," was his reply today to each of a series of questions propounded by Senator Walsh, Democrat, Montana. "That is a private matter affecting an individual in his personal activities, and is not pertinent to this inquiry."

Senator Walsh's declaration that he considered the information sought bore a definite relation to the matter before the committee was supported by Senator Adams, Democrat, Colorado.

"On the witness's own statement," the latter said, "the Mammoth Oil Company was organized to carry out a contract in which he considers himself 'a partner of the government.' The government then certainly has a deep interest in the make-up and activities of the company. I for one hope the committee will insist upon complete answers."

Senators Lenroot, Republican, Wisconsin, and Smoot, Republican, Utah, took opposite views in which they were joined in ballot by Senator Cameron, Republican, Arizona. The inquiry appeared to be going rather far afield, this group held, and the committee's purpose would be adequately served by information which the witness offered to supply in confidence to any member.

NAMES ARE GIVEN

The first clash between the witness and the committee came when he was asked to name those comprising the Mammoth Syndicate, a group said to have been formed to back an attempt to "make a market" for the stock of Mammoth Oil. When the committee voted to require an answer Mr. Sinclair gave fifteen names of individuals and companies, among the former being J. L. Replogle, H. P. Whitney, J. S. Cosden, E. G. Grace and A. W. Kelley, Percival S. Hill, Lawrence Waterbury, George H. Flynn, C. G. Salisbury and Clarence K. McCormick.

Discussing in his statement business and other questions which have attracted the attention of the committee, Former Secretary Fall referred to the Harris ranch, which adjoined his property at Three Rivers, N. M., and declared that in its purchase "it should be needless for me to say or in any other purchase or expenditure, I have never approached E. L. Doheny or anyone connected with him or his corporation, or H. F. Sinclair or anyone connected with him or his corporations; nor have I ever received from either of said parties one cent on account of any oil lease or upon any other account whatever."

Mr. Fall said funds for the purchase of the Harris property came from a loan of $100,000 made to him by Edward B. McLean, Washington publisher, on a personal note.

Founding Date Is Celebrated by Cathedral

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE]

NEW YORK, Dec. 27.—Theologians and laymen of a half dozen denominations participated tonight in exercises commemorating the fiftieth anniversary of the founding of the Protestant Episcopal Cathedral of St. John the Divine. Headed by Bishop William T. Manning, they crowded the edifice which is destined to be the third largest of the world's cathedrals.

With the golden anniversary celebration was combined observance of the day of St. John the Evangelist and the thirty-first anniversary of the laying of the cathedral's corner-stone.

Judges Decide Against Liquor Tax Court Plan

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE]

ST. PAUL, Dec. 27. — Federal Judges Wilbur Booth and John F. McGee today issued a temporary injunction restraining the Internal Revenue Department from operation of its "excise tax court" in Minnesota, through which the department sought to levy excise taxes on illegal manufacture and sale of liquor.

The ruling is declared to affect the whole scheme of the Internal Revenue Department to establish similar "courts" of procedure throughout the country, and officials at Washington have been awaiting the decision with interest, department representatives here said.

KLAN LEADERS ENGAGE IN ROW

Clarke and Elrod Start Public Attacks

Bitter Battle Looms as Sequel to Quarrel

Oust Evil Condition or Disband, is Cry

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE]

WASHINGTON, Dec. 27.—A demand for "reform" within the Ku Klux Klan was made here today by E. Y. Clarke, formerly high in the councils of the organization, and was met by a statement from Milton Elrod, director of the department of publications and education of the Klan, that Clarke for months had been attempting to "destroy" the order.

Mr. Clarke made known his position through a letter to President Coolidge offering to co-operate with the Executive in ending the activities of "an element" which he said is convertnig the Klan into an organization far different from that planned by its founders, and through announcement of his intenton to call "the better element" either to take hold and "remedy the existing evils" or disband the organization.

Mr. Elrod in reply issued a statement in which he said that "from less than 100,000 members after seven years of Clarke regime, to a growth of 70,000 per week in the month of November this year, and a total membership of millions under the present administration, is evidence of the sincerity of purpose and the knowledge of Klansmen themselves of the true ideals and high purposes of the Knights of the Ku Klux Klan."

"To the Klansmen of the nation," he added, "I would only refer them to Ecclesiasts 7:21—They know full well the meaning thereof."

The verse reads:

"Also take no heed unto all words that are spoken; lest thou hear thy servant curse thee."

Mr. Elrod stated he was opening permanent offices for his department in Washington, but did not indicate whether other offices of the Klan would be established here.

NEW STOCK OFFER ACCEPTED BY BROKERS

SHARES TAKE PLACE OF CONCERN RULED OFF THE CURB MARKET

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE]

NEW YORK, Dec. 27. — Wall street brokerage houses, which held shares of the Southern States Oil Corporation in which trading was suspended by the New York Curb Market yesterday, have accepted the offer of the Middle States Oil Corporation, another company headed by former Gov. C. N. Haskell of Oklahoma, to take up the stock, it was reported today.

The offer, providing for the payment of an average of not more than $11.25 a share, with Haskell and his assistants relinquishing their trading margins, brokers said, enabled them to fulfill all contracts without loss. Several stock exchange houses, which at first refused to settle for the stock, were reported to have met their obligations today.

CINCINNATI, Dec. 27.—Evolution, "the fundamental doctrine of modern scientific philosophy," is not dead and cannot be killed by legislative enactment, Dr. James Playfair McMurrich, head of the graduate department of the University of Toronto, and retiring president of the American Association for the Advancement of Science, declared at the opening session of the organization convention here tonight.

BACKS THEORY OF EVOLUTION

Can't be Killed by Law, Scientist Says

Teachings of Darwin Are Defended

Toronto Professor Speaks at Convention

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE]

CINCINNATI, Dec. 27.—Evolution, "the fundamental doctrine of modern scientific philosophy," is not dead and cannot be killed by legislative enactment, Dr. James Playfair McMurrich, head of the graduate department of the University of Toronto, and retiring president of the American Association for the Advancement of Science, declared at the opening session of the organization convention here tonight.

The theory first brought to general attention by Darwin but now advanced far beyond his conception through the work of scientists, has been the stimulus and dominating idea in all modern study of zoology and has resulted in inestimable benefit to mankind, Dr. McMurrich declared, and the evidence in its favor is so much stronger than in Darwin's time that "it seems incredible that man as a reasoning animal should presume to doubt its validity."

Confession on the part of scientists that there is lack of finality in what has been accomplished in the investigation of the theory should not be regarded as the "condemnation of the older truth as false," he declared, adding that in many cases the acknowledgment that some of Darwin's views may require modification is assumed to imply that the foundations of evolution are shaken. The misconception had arisen, he said, through failure of scientists to appreciate the popular viewpoint.

The intimation of disagreement, of modern theories of evolution with Darwin's theories, is fallacious, Dr. McMurrich declared, pointing out that evolution as established in the minds of scientists long antedated publication of Darwin's beliefs.

"Darwin was looking for the origin of species," the scientist said. "The modern biologist goes a step farther and is looking for the origin of variations and mechanism of heredity, problems far beyond Darwin's time. But he stands on the foundation built by Darwin since the whole structure of modern philosophy rests on that foundation."

KORETZ WARNS HIS SON

Letter from Missing Promoter Told Boy to Take Lesson in Honesty from Father's Fate

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE]

CHICAGO, Dec. 27.—A warning against dishonesty and weakness was issued to his son by Leo Koretz, missing promoter, who is alleged to have swindled his customers out of $5,000,000, two days before he disappeared in New York, Dr. Milton Mandel, Koretz's family physician, testified today at the bankruptcy hearing to determine Koretz's assets.

The warning was contained in a letter postmarked New York, December 10 in which the promoter declared he was "a victim of selfishness and desire to receive the acclaim of the world" and in which he asked that the father's fate be a warning to his son, Dr. Mandel testified.

WARNS OF FATE

The letter, he said, read as follows:

"My dear son: This is probably the last communication you will have from me. I am a fugitive without family or friends. I am a victim of selfishness, idleness and my desire to receive the acclaim and applause of the world.

"You have an adorable sister and mother. Be good to them. Be honest and strong. If you are ever tempted, or feel yourself slipping, think of the fate which awaits me. Your father, Leo Koretz."

LETTER TORN UP

Dr. Mandel said the letter was inclosed in an envelope accompanied with a note which read "If you think my son should have this letter, give it to him." He said that he had conferred with the boy's mother who, after reading the letter, tore it up without giving it to her son.

Samuel Cohen, an attorney, who had represented Koretz before his disappearance, expressed the opinion that the promoter had left for the South Sea Islands with a million dollars in cash. For a year, he said, Koretz had been fascinated by tales of adventure in the South Seas.

G. A. DENHAM IS TAKEN BY DEATH

San Gabriel Man Former Democratic Leader

Was Personal Friend of Henry Watterson

Party Head at Nomination of Cleveland

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH]

ALHAMBRA, Dec. 27.—Green Adams Denham, 71 years of age, former chairman of the Democratic National Committee and a personal friend of the late Henry Watterson, is dead at the home of his daughter, Mrs. Anna L. Murphy in San Gabriel, after an illness of only a few days.

Mr. and Mrs. Denham came to San Gabriel last October on account of the illness of their daughter, driving here from Omaha. Mr. Denham had been in his usual good health during the fall and was taken ill only a few days ago. The body will be sent to Omaha, where the members of the family will gather for the funeral and will later be taken to the old Denham home in Williamsburg, Ky., for interment. Besides his widow, Mr. Denham is survived by two sons and three daughters.

The deceased, a southern gentleman of the old school, was an outstanding figure in politics in both Kentucky and the nation for many years. He was District Attorney and judge of the Superior Court of Williamsburg district, and was Past Master of the Williamsburg Masonic lodge. When Grover Cleveland was nominated for the Presidency the last time, Mr. Denham was the chairman of the National Democratic Committee. He was the last surviving member of the original families which settled Williamsburg where he was born, the present city of Williamsburg being located on the old Denham farm.

Jury Indicts Ex-Governor of Oklahoma

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE]

OKLAHOMA CITY (Okla.) Dec. 27.—Former Gov. J. C. Walton, John A. Whitehurst, president of the State Board of Agriculture, three other State officials and a former employee, were indicted here late today by a district court grand jury for alleged offenses during Walton's administration.

Seven indictments already are pending against the former executive, charging irregularities in the conduct of his office.

The others indicted today are: Ed L. Speairs, secretary of the Board of Agriculture; George M. Cassidy and Harry Barclay, members of the Board of Regents of Tonkawa, Okla., preparatory school, and A. D. Snodgrass, an employe of the State Highway Department during Walton's administration.

Pupils Ignorant of How to Read the Newspapers

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE]

CHICAGO, Dec. 27.—Ninety per cent of the people, literate as well as illiterate, are ignorant of how to read a newspaper, Dix Harwood of Lawrence College, Appleton, Wis., told the American Association of Teachers of Journalism at its convention here today. Mr. Harwood recommended that a large proportion of the pupils in classes of journalism be taught to read news intelligently rather than to write it.

R. R. Barlow of the University of Minnesota said 75 per cent of the pupils never become reporters and 50 per cent were curiosity seekers who did not expect to.

Gen. Aguinaldo's Men Refuse to Join in Protest

BY WALTER ROBB

[BY CABLE—EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH]

MANILA, Dec. 27.—The Veterans of the Revolution, headed by Gen. Emilio Aguinaldo, voted today unanimously not to take part in the protest parade against the Territorial government, planned for the 31st inst.

They say that members of the organization may take part individually, but not as veterans, because they consider the movement unwise, and not called for by the attitude of the United States Congress. They have not received any advices, they say, that Congress contemplates any change in existing policies.

RUSSIA BALKS PLAN FOR GENEVA CAUCUS

LONDON MAY BE SELECTED FOR CONFERENCE OF NAVAL EXPERTS

[BY CABLE AND ASSOCIATED PRESS]

PARIS, Dec. 27.—Russia's refusal to attend the January meeting of the naval experts is likely to lead to the session being held in London instead of at Geneva. The soviet government declared it was willing to attend the naval experts' meeting if it were not held on Swiss soil. Its objection to Switzerland, it was added, was due to the assassination of M. Vorovsky, Russia's representative at Lausanne, and the acquittal of Conradi, the Swiss engineer who shot him.

League leaders are convinced that any European naval agreement or any general application of the principles of the Washington armament convention would be ineffective unless they include Russia, which is regarded as potentially one of Europe's greatest naval powers. The Scandinavian naval powers are particularly anxious that Russia should participate in the meeting of the naval experts because of their desire to have the naval strength of the Baltic Sea regulated.

ELDERLY COUPLE TO WED

Bride Eighty-five Years of Age Declines to Invite Relatives Because of Objections Raised

PONTIAC (Mich.) Dec. 27.—Mrs. Polly Von Schassen, 85 years of age, is going to make her third venture into matrimony. A wedding license for her to become the bride of Henry Owen Trumbull, 62, was issued, and Mrs. Von Schassen said all plans for the wedding have been completed.

All of the boarders at Mrs. Von Schassen's boarding house, which she has maintained for seven years at 40 Harriet street, and all of the roomers at Mr. Trumbull's rooming house, two doors farther down the same street, have been invited. Also, the other residents of Harriet street, who have spent many happy evenings on their front porches listening to Harry Trumbull play his violin for the entertainment of his roomers—most of whom also were Mrs. Von Schassen's boarders—will be there.

But according to Mrs. Von Schassen, there will be no invitations delivered at the homes of any of her four children, sixteen grandchildren and twenty-six great-grandchildren.

"They did not like Mr. Trumbull and did not approve of the marriage, so they are not going to be invited. We have slipped something over on them," she said.

Mrs. Von Schassen's children are: Mrs. Mary Wendall, 4404 Commonwealth avenue, Detroit; Mrs. Harriet Stevens of Jackson; Mrs. Jennie Lynn, Chicago, and Lewis McDonald, Davisburg.

Mrs. Von Schassen's second husband died seven years ago. Since then she has run a boarding house here.

"She is some cook," observed Mr. Trumbull today.

Jurors Decide Mother Killed Babe and Self

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH]

FULLERTON, Dec. 27.—A Coroner's jury here today held that Mrs. Esther Meeker, wife of a Fullerton business man, killed her 17-months-old baby girl, Jacqueline, with poison and then ended her life with a dose of the same poison. The bodies were found Wednesday night when the father, Horace Meeker, returned home for supper.

The couple had been married about four years and the baby was the only child.

Testimony at the inquest was to the effect that Mrs. Meeker had threatened to end her life on previous occasions but her motive in taking her baby's life could not be determined from notes she left nor from her husband.

C. B. Warren Is Asked to Head League Board

[BY CABLE AND ASSOCIATED PRESS]

GENEVA, Dec. 27.—The League of Nations secretariat today cabled an invitation to Charles Beecher Warren, former American Ambassador to Japan, asking him to serve as president of the proposed neutral commission to investigate the controversy between Lithuania and Poland over the Baltic port of Memel.

Brand Whitlock, former American Ambassador to Belgium, who was the most available of those placed on the tentative list drawn up during the meeting of the League council in Paris, telegraphed from the Riviera that he regretted being unable to accept.

SOUTH DAKOTA FUSION AGAINST REPUBLICANS

DEMOCRATS AND FARMER PARTY EXPECT TO BE IN CONTROL

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE]

SIOUX FALLS (S. D.) Dec. 27.—With reports of a successful fusion of legislative tickets being made in fifteen counties between the Democratic and Farmer-Labor parties at county meetings yesterday, U. S. G. Cherry, Democratic leader, tonight predicted that the coalition forces would be able to control the next State Legislature.

The fusion has been widespread, Mr. Cherry explained, and so far he had received a report from only one county—Brown—where a merger failed. The legislative vote at the last election showed that in more than 75 per cent of the counties, the combined Farmer-Labor (then known as the Nonpartisan League) and Democratic strength was greater than the Republican.

Though Presidential candidates are not formally discussed at the county meetings, Mr. Cherry said he believed the fusion success would do much to aid William G. McAdoo, who has been indorsed for President by the South Dakota Democrats.

ASSERTS BACHELORS COMMIT THE CRIMES

NOTED EDUCATOR DISCOVERS MARRIED MEN ARE MORE STEADY

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE]

WASHINGTON, Dec. 27.—Eight national societies in convention here today held a technical and scientific discussion of widely divergent subjects, among which were the benefits of marriage, the "Main-street" habits of New York, the education of women, the minimum wage laws and child-labor legislation.

The married men are less liable to disease, insanity and the commission of crime than bachelors and that manufacturing cities show a greater porportion of marriages than cities where activities are bound up largely in trade, were conclusions presented by William Fielding Osburn of Columbia University, before the American Sociological Society.

The need of a revised educational program for women was discussed by Warren S. Thompson of Miami University, who said the nation "must seriously undertake the task of remodeling school training for girls and women in order to focus the center of their interests where it must naturally remain—at home."

NATURE CLUB PLANNED

Museum Boosters to Form Free Society for Youngsters

Plans for the development of a Boy and Girl Club of the Southwest Museum will be outlined tomorrow morning.

Those wishing to belong to the Boy and Girl Club of the Southwest Museum, commencing January 5, are asked to enroll at tomorrow's meeting. There are no dues, but each boy and girl will be called upon to take part in some way on one of the programs during the year.

A number of field trips are scheduled for the purpose of observing nature more closely, each to be headed by a competent leader from the Lorquin Natural History Club or some other affiliated club of the museum.

All boys and girls actively interested in the club will be made student members of the museum.

Florence Don Carlos, librarian of the Arroyo Seco Library, and Eva Puffer will tell New Year stories, to be followed by "The Ghost of Slumber Mountain" and the "Moonbeam Trail" films.

Flores to Stay in Mexico Race for Presidency

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH]

MEXICO CITY, Dec. 27.—Gen. Angel Flores has not withdrawn as a candidate for the Presidency as reported in newspapers here recently, Ignacio Gastelum, president of the National Political League, declared in an interview yesterday. The league is the chief agency supporting the candidacy of Gen. Flores.

To substantiate his statements, Gastelum showed a telegram from Gen. Flores in which the latter declares that he is still a candidate and accepts the league's propositions. The telegram is in reply to one sent to Gen. Flores in which he was informed that the league had officially placed him in the race.

Six Hundred at Annual Banquet of Fraternities

More than 600 alumni and undergraduate members of thirty-seven national college fraternities attended the annual banquet of the Interfraternity Alumni Council of Southern California at the Biltmore last night.

In the absence of William Gibbs McAdoo, who was unable to attend the banquet because of a slight cold, President Von KleinSmid of the University of California, acted as toastmaster. Letters of felicitation from President Coolidge, Secretaries Hughes and Denby and other national figures were read by president of council, Lawrence L. Larrabee.

Brief talks were made by a number of prominent men, among them former Senator Cole, who was introduced as the oldest alumnus present, having graduated from Weslyan University in 1847. He is a member of Psi Upsilon fraternity. Charles E. Harwood, a graduate from Williams, class of 1852 and a Delta Upsilon, was introduced as the next oldest alumnus. Other speakers included Flavel Luther, President Emeritus of Trinity and a graduate of that institution in the class of 1870; Capt. Richmond P. Hobson, Judge Paul Burks, Judge Russ Avery, Edward Dickson and others.

TO HEAR PLEA

Habeas corpus proceedings in behalf of Louis Morris, convicted in this county of I.W.W. activities in violation of an injunction, will be heard before Superior Court Judge Crail the 31st inst., at 10 a.m. The petition for the writ was based on the fact that the injunction was issued by Superior Court Judge Busick of Sacramento county and the claim that Los Angeles county therefore is without jurisdiction in the case. Morris's offense was the distribution of I.W.W. literature after the writ of injunction had been issued.

SALE OF WOMAN JAILS TWO MEN

"Bargain at $400" Chafes Under New Regime

Story to Neighbor Passed on to Police

Seller and Purchaser Face Charges

YONKERS, Dec. 27.—Frank Conserve, accused of selling Mrs. Mary Leta, 23 years of age, a married woman, for $400, and Peter Cerruto, charged with buying her, were arraigned before Judge Boote on charge of violating Section 2640 of the Penal Code. They were held for further hearing.

According to Capt. Cooper of the Yonkers detective bureau and Detective Gilberti, Mrs. Leta and her husband separated in Williamsport, Pa., two years ago.

The police allege that afterward Conserve and the wife lived in a tenement at 440 Walnut street, Yonkers. When Conserve tired of her he is alleged to have "sold" her to Cerruto.

Cerruto and the young woman had some differences, and as she returned to Yonkers to meet Conserve the police intervened and arrested the two men. The young woman, described by the police as fairly attractive, was held as a material witness. She has been in this country twenty years.

CALLED HER A BARGAIN

Conserve is quoted as saying to Cerruto:

"And if she ain't all that I say she is you get your money back. She's a bargain at $400—not as beautiful as some, perhaps, but then women, when they are too beautiful, keep a man worried. Only 23 years old, fair-looking, a hard worker and faithful, she's a bargain."

Now, Pete Cerruto, who lives in North Tarrytown, had seen Mary Leta and found her good to look upon. Better, she was a stout worker. She did a man's work in the Smith carpet mills in Yonkers and got almost a man's wages. And more than that, she was a good cook, and at nights did the washing and other household chores without sign of weakening. Courting a girl cost money and marrying her cost more. Often a man spent more than $400 on a woman only to find that she was not a good worker.

COULD PAY INSTALLMENTS

"Besides, you can pay in installments—$200 now and $200 later when you're satisfied I haven't cheated you," Conserve, who lives at 161 Waverly street, Yonkers, and works in the Waring hat factory, is alleged to have said.

To Cerruto's way of thinking nothing could be fairer.

Mary was docile enough for a while. Presently, though, she began to chafe under the Cerruto yoke. She told her story to a neighbor. Another hour and the Tarrytown police had the story.

HEROES OF WAR TOPIC OF PASTOR

Advertising Club Told to Aid in Demand for Peace of World

The spirit of American heroes, who rest in France, received tribute at the Biltmore Hotel yesterday when Rev. Thomas Lutman, pastor of the Mesa Congregational Church, addressed the Advertising Club on "The Spirit of Christmas."

"These faithful thousands have a right to demand peace for the world they died to bless," the the speaker "We shall have broken faith with them if we do not seek to forget our differences."

A feature of the meeting was the presence of officials of the Kings' Daughters Day Nursery who thanked the Advertising Club for assistance given the nursery within the last year.

Preceding the address Christmas carols were sung by the women's chorus of the First Baptist Church. A. Carmen Smith, president of the Advertising Club, announced that the next luncheon will be given at the Biltmore on January 8 and that the speaker on that occasion will be Harold Stonier.

OIL VENIRE DISCHARGED

The special venire of sixty jurors, called for possible service in the trial of the pending oil cases, were discharged by United States District Judge J. Whitaker Thompson yesterday. They were called when the trial of the Great Angelus Oil and Land Company began, but only a few saw service in that behalf.

MANY AT RITES FOR CHINESE

Federal Officials Attend Services for Interpreter Killed in Accident

A number of Federal officials who knew Chan Kui Sing, the Chinese interpreter, when he was an almost daily attendant on the proceedings in the local Federal courts or at hearings before the Immigration Commissioner, who was killed by being run over by a truck last Saturday evening on Central avenue, attended his funeral yesterday.

"Chan," as he was universally known, had been a resident of Los Angeles for more than forty years, and was the Gamaliel, or the lawgiver, among the local members of his race. Years ago, when a resident of China, he was converted to the Christian faith. For twenty years before his tragic death he had charge of the Chinese Mission on Brooklyn Heights near his home, and made monthly trips to Mexicali, where he had charge of a Chinese Methodist congregation. Many of the best friends of Chan did not know, until after his death, that he was a duly consecrated minister of the Methodist Church.

The father of six children, Chan was a thorough-going American, and it was one of the joys of his life that two of his daughters were graduates of the University of Southern California. He insisted that all of his children should attend the American schools and secure an education, a boon that had been denied him in the Orient.

He wrote a history of the Chinese in Los Angeles, some years ago, took a census of the race in the city and county, and was an authority on everything relating to the Chinese people in Southern California. No man was better known in Los Angeles in the circle where he moved.

Chan was always a neat dresser, could talk well on almost any subject, was an omnivorous reader, and sought to keep abreast of the times. Always affable a personal acquaintance of Dr. Sun Yat Sen, the Chinese leader, he was one man in Los Angeles who could dissect in a few words the mixed situations in China as they arose.

FINAL PLEA FOR PLAGUE RELIEF FUND

Tuberculosis Society Endeavors to Reach $50,000 Mark by New Year

In an effort to bring the Los Angeles Tuberculosis Association campaign to a successful close before New Year's, Mrs. J. J. A. Van Kaathoven, president, is sending out a last appeal for contributions to the $50,000 fund with which to finance the work of the association during the coming year.

Because of the Christmas holiday, the flow of dollar contributions was somewhat checked, but the association hopes that the delay in response to the appeal will be followed during the next few days by an increase of donations, so that the entire budget can be realized by January 1.

Mrs. Van Kaathoven in her appeal said: "We need $50,000 with which to carry on our local fight against tuberculosis, and to date we have received only about half this amount. This means that there are more than 20,000 letters with a dollar quota of Christmas Seals, still unanswered.

"From the $50,000 budget the association provides nutrition classes and clinics; it gives thousands of under-par children a chance to grow strong and healthy in its big summer camp; it finances a program of education which is so essential in preventing the spread of the disease; and it provides care in sanitaria and preventoria for unfortunate and destitute victims.

"We are dependent upon the sale of the little Christmas seals for the raising of our annual fund. These little 'stickers' can be used on letters and for merchants they are appropriate for use on New Year's cards of greeting and on monthly statements."

City Council Takes Steps to Make Improvements

Street improvements ordered yesterday by the City Council included Neptune avenue in the harbor district from Anaheim street to B street; Roscoe street, between North Sherman Way and Reseda avenue in the Van Nuys district; Sunset Drive, from Myra avenue to Hollywood Boulevard; Elm street from Isabel street to Cypress street, and Dunleer and Prosser avenues.

SUCCESS AGAIN RUSSIANS' AIM

Mme. Verdi

"A Night in Old Russia" may bring cheer to the remnants of the late lamented Chat Noir troupe here, which was left stranded after an unsuccessful tour. They have been reorganized with some of the local Russian colony, through the work of Sigurd Russell, founder of the Pot Boiler.

New Year's Eve at the Pot Boiler headquarters, 321½ North Los Angeles street, these artists will be presented in a dance and entertainment program typical of Russia in the days of the Czars. Enthusiasts have made every effort to give the performers another chance to make good in this strange country despite their recent failure.

The Pot Boiler is a rendezvous for those of the public who are inclined to the Bohemian in pleasure. It is a nonprofit organization and acts as a clearinghouse for many of those artists who otherwise would be unable to present their work.

The accompanying picture shows Mme. Verdi of the Chat Noir troupe, who will be featured on the program.

MAN ENDS HIS LIFE ON TREE LIMB

Body in Field Attracts Attention of Herdsman Near Long Beach

The body of an unidentified man was found beneath a weeping willow tree, one mile north of Long Beach, late yesterday afternoon. He had ended his life by hanging himself with a piece of wrapping cord to a limb of the tree.

Ricardo Gambola, a herdsman, was driving his cattle homeward when he discovered the body. It was lying on the ground beneath the tree, a piece of broken cord around the neck. Another piece of cord dangled from a willow limb.

No clews to the dead man's identity could be found by Detective Sergeants Mozley and Dilts, of the Long Beach police department. The man's sole possessions consisted of a cigar snipe, a copper cent and a mouthful of gold crowns. He was described as a German-Jew, 50 to 60 years of age, about 5 feet and 6 inches tall, 120 pounds in weight, and with gray eyes and gray hair, slightly bald. He wore a blue suit, a brown hat and an overcoat with the label of "Roos Brothers, San Francisco," sewed in a pocket.

Women Free in Stabbing Case; Victim Relents

Mrs. Arley B. Dent and her sister, Miss Maude Cooke, of 348 West Eighty-fourth street, were released yesterday from custody when Arlie B. Dent, a patient at the General Hospital, declined to make a charge against them. Dent was stabbed, it was asserted, in the course of a struggle with the two women, a lawn trimmer causing, according to the police, a wound in his side.

Mrs. Dent declared Miss Cooke had come to her assistance when Dent threatened to strike her. Detective Lieutenants Hamilton and Mahoney reported at the District Attorney's office yesterday that Dent was out of danger and would soon be released from the hospital, and the case was dropped.

DATE MAN ACCUSED OF FAUD BY WOMAN

Complaint against J. H. Overton, promoter of the Imperial Valley Date Gardens, was filed with the Real Estate Commission yesterday by Mrs. William Beckley, wife of the owner of the lands for which Overton acts as selling agent. The specific charge is that Overton persuaded Mrs. Beckley to purchase from him a half-interest in his contract with Beckley, and that Mrs. Beckley, without her husband's knowledge, paid him $2000 on misrepresentation.

PLAN FOR HOSPITAL SPEEDED

Government Acts to Get Land for Veterans and Owner Promises Fight

Governmental action aiming at the establishment of a hospitalization project for tubercular ex-service men on the Ford-Craig ranch site in the San Fernando Valley assumed speed yesterday with the announcement by U. S. Attorney Burke that he had followed instructions from Washington to file immediate condemnation and get immediate possession of the property.

The announcement came during a conference between Mr. Burke and Volney H. Craig, owner of the property. Mr. Craig recently made the Veterans' Bureau a flat offer to sell the land involved, about 600 acres, for $100,000, based on an unofficial appraisement of $125,000. Director-General Hines of the Veterans' Bureau fixed a price of $50,000. Efforts at compromise failing, the United States Attorney's office was instructed to institute condemnation proceedings.

Mr. Burke said that he had no discretion in the matter. The process of condemnation is under way in the United States District Court with a petition for immediate possession.

"The United States Attorney's office will submit to me a brief of authorities on immediate possession by the government," said Mr. Craig. "I do not mind a fight, but even though I am in the right, in this case I have no stomach for the contest, with veterans needing hospital attention. I have today wired Washington for an appointment with the Senate and House Committees on Veterans' Affairs. I am going there to endeavor to see before I spend any money on attorneys' fees whether the government wants a lawsuit or a hospital site."

OIL-FRAUD ACTION TO BE SECRET

Federal Officials Plan Arrests Before Revealing Grand Jury Decisions

The indictments to be returned today by the Federal grand jury, involving the misuse of the mails in a scheme to defraud in the oil-promotion game, either two or three in number, involving as many corporations, and six or seven defendants, will be secret. The identity of the defendants will not be made known until the arrests are made.

In one of the cases it is alleged about $100,000 was obtained by the promoters. In another involving alleged oil land, covering an area of 400 acres, the scene was set for a big financial killing, but when the agitation against crooked promoters appeared, the speculation vanished, and but few shares were disposed of to investors. All of the defendants are residents of Los Angeles, with the exception of two individuals who returned to Texas.

When the matter of imposing sentences on Martin J. Cullen, Robert C. Dennison and Thomas V. King, convicted of fraudulent use of the mails in connection with the promotion of the Great Angelus Oil and Land Company, comes before Judge J. Whitaker Thompson this morning, three motions will be made in behalf of the defendants—to set aside the verdict, in arrest of judgment and for a new trial.

The final disposition of this case will mark the end of the service of Judge Thompson in the local Federal Court. During his month's stay in this city he has disposed of three cases—one involving a violation of the Harrison Narcotic Act, that resulted in the acquittal of the defendant, the Great Angelus and the case involving a directed verdict of acquittal in his court yesterday. The visiting jurist, with a record of eleven years on the Federal bench, was appointed by President Taft on July 16, 1912.

Owners Move for Widening of Boulevard

The City Council was yesterday notified that the property-owners on Exposition Boulevard had organized the Exposition Boulevard Improvement Association for the purpose of working for the opening and widening of that thoroughfare from Main street west to the city limits. The officers of the organization are Charles A. Tait, president, and Charles A. K. Rankin, vice-president and secretary.

The organization has asked the Council to prevent any buildings being built on Exposition Boulevard within fifty feet on each side of the Pacific Electric right of way until the city has legally and finally determined the ultimate width of the highway.

WIDOW GIVEN AWARD

An award of $3012 to be paid at once and $12.97 a week thereafter has been granted by the Industrial Accident Commission to Mrs. Nicholas Ortiz and her four children. Mrs. Ortiz is the widow of an employee of the Celite Products Company of Lompoc, who was killed while at work February 15, last, by being caught in the gears of factory machinery. The insurance carrier is the American Mutual Liability Insurance Company.

CHAPEL RITES FOR SOUTHERN VETERAN

Funeral services were conducted yesterday afternoon for James E. Longacre of 1325 Rose street, in the Inglewood Cemetery chapel. Mr. Longacre, who was 83 years of age, died in his home December 24. He leaves a widow, two sons and a daughter. Mr. Longacre fought through the Civil War with the southern army, came to California in 1877, and to Southern California in 1878. He was a member of the Masons.

MIDWICK TRIMS SAN GABRIEL

Women Golfers in Opening Matches of Season

Willie Hunter Features Play on Ambassador Links

More Stars Added to List of Entrants in Open

BY CHARLES WEST

Team competition among women golfers of Southern California got under way yesterday with two interclub matches, fair players from the Midwick Country Club snowing San Gabriel's representatives under, 9 to 0, on the latters' links, while the Los Angeles Country Club players were winning from thei Hillcrest guests, 6 to 1. Due to the inability of several of the Brentwood players to compete, the Brentwood-Hollywood match, scheduled for the Hollywood course, was postponed until January 7.

Miss Doreen Kavanagh and Miss Louise Pike defeated Hillcrest's best combination, Mrs. H. Grossman and Mrs. Marshutz, first, second and match for three valuable points, and Mrs. F. S. Hardin and Mrs. G. M. Midgely duplicated the performance with Mrs. Sander and Mrs. Herman Politz furnishing interesting competition. Hillcrest's only point came when Miss Adler and Mrs. Merties won from Mrs. Hammond and Mrs. Worley by one digit.

Miss Margaret Cameron and Mrs. Arthur Hill, representing the Midwick Country Club, won three ways from Mrs. John Clark and Mrs. C. W. Cook of San Gabriel in the feature match of the day, while Mrs. Guy Cochran and Miss Maude Bell won three points from Mrs. Hillman and Mrs. Laubersheimer. Miss Mildred Landreth and Mrs. Carpenter annexed three additional points for Midwick by defeating Mrs. Murray and Mrs. Ensign. Miss Landreth had a splendid 89 for medal score.

AMBASSADOR

Some fifty golfers, great and near great, of both sexes and all handicaps, were present at the reopening of the Ambassador Hotel's miniature links yesterday afternoon, and excellent scores were turned in. Both Willie Hunter and Eddie Loos lowered the record for the sporty little nine-hole lay-out designed by Jack Croke, each turning in a card of 20. The former record was 21, par being 23.

Hunter also figured first in the medal play tournament, which was entered by fifty players. For eighteen holes Willie had a 48, making his first round in 23 and his next in 25. Fred Wright was close behind with 25-24—49, a score equalled by Sam Harris of New York, with the aid of a handicap. George Von Elm scored a 51.

Hunter's low card is not to be wondered at, as the short game is where he shines particularly well. He played under the handicap of an accident, having cut the northwest corner of his smiling countenance by a collision with the sharp end of a metal flag in practice.

Joe Kirkwood, well-known for his tricks with the little white pellet, made an exhibition round in 22 strokes.

Among the women Mrs. G. M. Midgley was low with a 55, Miss Doreen Kavanagh, Mrs. Young and Mrs. Ike Wentworth pressing her close behind with a 58 apiece. Other low scorers were Miss Louise Pike and Mrs. Hammond, 59; Mrs. F. S. Hardin, 62, and Mrs. H. A. Politz, 66.

OPEN TOURNAMENT

With the mob of wonderful golfers, amateur aud professional, who have signed up for the California open golf championships, competition promises to be of the torrid variety at the Los Angeles Country Club next month, and anyone bold enough to select a winner is a hardy individual. Not only our own crop of amateur and professional stars, including Willie Hunter, Fred Wright, George Von Elm, Arnold State, E. S. Armstrong, W. W. Campbell, Eddie Loos, Chick Fraser and a dozen others, but San Francisco's best players, pro and amateur, are to compete, and word was received yesterday that the Pacific Northwest is sending a delegation of talented golfers to try for California's open title. In addition to these men Havers and Ockenden, champions respectively of Britain and France; McDonald Smith; Joe Kirkwood of Australia, present open title-holder, and possibly Gene Sarazen, American open champ, will be present, adding an international tinge to the affair.

Johnny McHugh of San Francisco, who startled the golfing world by winning the State amateur title last summer, is the latest celebrity from the bay village to enter, and all who saw his splendid work at Del Monte will readily grant him an excellent chance to finish well up in the list. Jack Neville, three times State champ, and George Ritchie are two other amateurs from San Francisco who will play through the tournament.

GOING UP

Heavy Training

A snapshot of Robert Farrell doing a little practice work in preparation for the climb up Malibu Peak, shown above, next Saturday afternoon, in which members of the Malibu Lake Club will participate.

Malibu Peak is Object of Hardy Climbers

A score or more members of the Malibu Lake Club are entered in the race to the top of Malibu Peak, 1000 feet high, and back which is to be held Saturday afternoon for the E. A. Doran trophy to be awarded the person making the best time.

Some 200 members of the club and their families and friends have notified President Bertram D. Lackey of their intentions of being present and after the hill climb it is planned to enjoy a barbecue. A large pit with modern conveniences has been constructed and a committee headed by C. R. Smurr will have charge.

Several members have made the climb in practice, Guy Houghtaling having negotiated the distance six times. He is credited with having made the climb in something like forty minutes.

TROUT SEEKERS TAKE OUT MEMBERSHIP

The approach of January 1, the time when annual membership fees in the Rainbow Angling Club may be raised, is causing large numbers of the trout seekers to take out their 1924 cards now. During the last week, Manager Garnsey has received quite a number of applications.

Local fishermen wishing full details about the Rainbow Club should get in touch with Pete Peterson, fishing authority at the B. H. Dyas Company.

Following are some of the anglers who have taken out 1924 memberships during the last week: Frederick H. Stevens, Roy T Lewis, August Vogel, Rev. Luther Freeman, R. G. Swaffield, C. B. Wrightman, Cyrus Bell, R. H. Milligan, Thomas W. Brown, Charles W. Brown, J. H. Johnson, R. C. Lanterman, M. W. Butler, W. N. Reedy, J. W. Wright, C. F. Failey, T. H. Endicott.

SAN ANTONIO (Tex.) Dec. 27. The University of Arizona polo team trampled over the Texas Aggies in the second day's play of the intercollegiate event in the San Antonio midwinter polo tournament, 10 to 0. The western team had things its own way from the first and was held scoreless in but one period.

RUTHERFORD TO STAY AT O.A.C.

Win Over Oregon University Saves Mentor

Aggies Likely to Renew His Contract Soon

Still Seeking Successor to Shy Huntington

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH]

PORTLAND (Or.) Dec. 27. Talk of a new coach at Oregon Agricultural College is subsiding. It looked for a while as though Rutherford would go, but it is taken for granted now that he will stay. When the Aggies signed up to meet Nebraska next season it became evident that Rutherford was still in the saddle, as this is a game that he has been very keen for. It seems likely now that the Aggies will pin their faith in him and probably renew his contract for a period of years.

HAPPY NOW

The Aggies' defeat of the University of Oregon has a good deal to do with this. The Aggies measure their success or failure in football very much on their showing against the University of Oregon. In the past four years under Rutherford they have lost to Oregon once, tied twice and won once. This is the best showing that O.A.C. has ever made against the State university.

But if the coach situation has settled down at Corvallis it is still very much up in the air at Oregon. What to do is the general cry now that Huntington is out. Whether they will depend on some comparatively unknown man or dig up a purse and go out after one of the big ones is the main question to be decided. Faculty intimations that the coach's salary will be held down are not approved on all sides. Many of the students and undergraduates feel that a big salary for a big man is the right policy; they even believe that it is best from a money standpoint, as a noted coach would undoubtedly increase gate receipts.

THE CANDIDATES

Plenty of men are willing to guide Oregon's football destinies. Virgil Earl, athletic director, has announced the following as applicants:

John R. Richards, head coach of the University of Wisconsin for four years and now living in Los Angeles.

R. O. Courtwright, coach of the University of Nevada, whose team held California to a scoreless tie this year.

Stanley Borleske, coach of the North Dakota Aggies. He is a brother of Vincent Borleske, athletic director at Whitman and formerly coached Lincoln High of Portland.

C. W. P. Reynolds, coach at Bucknell University and a former Syracuse player.

M. A. Pickering, former assistant to Coach Williams at Minnesota.

MAY BE BEZDEK

The Bezdek sentiment has not entirely died away, although it seems highly improbable that anything will come of it. On the other hands, there is a lot of talk of Andy Kerr of Stanford. Nothing official on this has been given out, but the underground dope has it that Kerr will be the man if he can be landed at a salary that Oregon can afford to pay.

Rickard Plans Horse Racing in New Jersey

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE]

TRENTON (N. J.) Dec. 27. Taking cognizance of reports that a syndicate headed by Tex Rickard, internationally known promoter, planned to construct and operate two thoroughbred racing plants in New Jersey with pari-mutuel betting, Atty.-Gen. McCran pointed out that amendment to the State Constitution would be necessary to legalize such a wagering system. This, he said, would involve consideration of an amendment by two successive legislatures, after which, if approved, it would have to be submitted to the people at a referendum election.

HARTFORD (Ct.) Dec. 27. "Promotion stuff" was the way Gov. George S. Silzer of New Jersey characterized a report that Tex Rickard, promoter, had placed in his hands a plan to re-establish thoroughbred racing with betting to be conducted on the pari-mutuel system. The Governor was here to make a speech.

FINAL TURKEY SHOOT AT VERNON SUNDAY

The closing turkey shoot of the season will be held at the Vernon club Sunday, according to Secretary Bill Pugh. An unlimited supply of birds is promised and a banner crowd expected.

OBSERVATIONS by the INNOCENT BYSTANDER

W.M.H.

Ex-Capt. Don Nichols of the University of California drops in with the word that anybody who overlooks the Washington-Navy game should drop down to the nearest plumber and have his or her head examined on the theory that there's a leak somewhere. The demon Bear backfield star says that the Washington football team is without any question the hardest-going outfit on the Pacific Coast, and one that is colorful as well as strong. Any time the big gray warriors plow into somebody else, that party is going to drop with a resounding crash, and incidentally the Washington outfit can do something besides hit the line, according to Nichols.

The former Blue and Gold star has a good hunch that the Huskies will win, but believes likewise that the Middies will be strong enough to make it a sensational battle. From all that has been sent over the wires, the Annapolis aggregation can toss forward passes with considerable skill and that has proven to be the weak spot in Washington's defense, it is said. Both teams boast exceptionally strong lines, and tire Navy backfield is said to be light and fast, while Washington's is big and strong. It ought to be good.

George Bentel, the man who put Ascot on the map several years ago, strongly believes that stock-car racing is due for a comeback, after several years of competition between the specials, practically all of which were buit by Harry Miller and Fred Duesenberg. What's more, Bentel has half a hunch that it will not be more than a year or so before the big American factories start to turn out cars for such events, and he has great hopes of seeing 'em run on the new Ascot course.

When the new Ascot speedway opens, out in the general vicinity of Lincoln Park a couple of weeks hence, Bentel will stage races in which the dirt-track daredevils will take part with cars which are supremely fast for that type of racing. The old dirt track stuff is extremely exciting, and the gang of drivers that Bentel has lined up are old heads who have been at it for a long while and know their stuff.

The success of Joe Schlocker, former L.A.A.C. boxer, at Vernon is one of the outstanding features of the recent weeks at Jack Doyle's celebrated arena. Joe came to the front rapidly as a lily-white amateur and made just about the best showing of any of the club boxers at the national championships, but so many of the lily-whites have tried their hand at the four-round game only to be knocked loose from their teeth that Schlocker's success is quite remarkable.

The ex-newsboy and Lincoln High demon is a very good boxer and a fine hitter, and has a splendid head.. He has never been knocked off his feet, and has bowled over two very tough customers in as many starts at Vernon, and is now in line for a shot at the very best of them. His success is remindful of that of Willie Hunefeld when he burst into the calcium at Vernon a few years ago, except that Willie used an assumed name and changed from a powder-puff boxer to a knocker-out over night.

President Harry Williams of the Pacific Coast League is a busy individual just now, trying to untangle the affairs of the circuit by means of a couple of million documents which he inherited from the reign of the late Czar William McCarthy. Bill has sent south enough files and papers and correspondence to paper the Biltmore Hotel inside and out with three or four layers, and Harry is trying to find out what it's all about.

HUSKIES LEAVE TONIGHT

Coach Enoch Bagshaw and Twenty-Nine Players Board Train for Pasadena This Evening

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH]

SEATTLE, Dec. 27.—Twenty-nine University of Washington football players, Coaches Enoch Bagshaw, Dorsett V. Graves and Wayne Sutton, Manager Murray Olwell and some forty boosters of the big Husky eleven will board a Union Pacific train here tomorrow for Pasadena, where on New Year's Day the Navy eleven will be met in the annual East vs. West game.

Jack Bagwell, a big tackle who has been faithfully on the job all season without more than a few minutes of play, was rewarded for his faithfulness by his coach with the twenty-ninth berth. The remaining twenty-eight players are as follows: Centers, Walters and Haggerty; guards, Bellman, Bryan, Lillis, Erikson and McRae; tackles, Kuhn, Petrie, Abe Wilson, Christie and Etherington; ends, Cole, Dubois, Hall, Westrom and Sievers; quarterbacks, Sherman, Abel, Hill and Guttormsen; halfbacks, Ziel, George Wilson, Green, Beck and Beckett; fullbacks, Tesreau and Smith.

The team had a light workout today. Signal drill, dummy scrimmage against the Navy plays, passing and kicking comprised the work. Another workout is scheduled for tomorrow and then the Huskies will pack their grips and hop aboard for Pasadena.

Manager Murray Olwell and his assistants spent much of yesterday getting the new equipment packed and ready for the trip. Virtually all that remains is for the shoes and other stuff used in the final practice to be packed and the team is ready. Every Washington regular will be in good shape unless perhaps Ed Kuhn, the big tackle, may not be as strong as he might be after several weeks out of the game. The big Spokane man has worked hard these last two weeks, however, and should be stronger anyway than he was for the California game, when he had had but one day's real work in nearly two weeks.

DELAY PADDOCK DECISION

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE]

ATLANTA (Ga.) Dec. 27.—With a program mapped out, delegates to the annual convention of the National Collegiate Athletic Association are prepared to begin consideration tomorrow of matters requiring action by the body.

The working program was mapped out late today at a preliminary session attended by the delegates. The reports of the various committees were gone over by the officers and put in such shape that as little time as possible will be required for action on them by the convention tomorrow.

The case of Charles Paddock, barred by the A.A.U., from participation as an American representative in the Olympic games, is understood to be one of the most important matters to be considered tomorrow.

Many of the football coaches from leading educational institutions who will attend the convention of the football coaches of America Saturday, had arrived tonight.

Changes in gridiron rules, financial problems and foot ball ethics are among items listed for discussion at the coaches' convention.

WESTBROOK TO MEET GODSHALL

Ted Mertz and Dick Hinckley in Exhibition

Doubles Finals Scheduled for Sunday

Godshall and Allen Tackle Hahn and Donnell

Walter Westbrook, former Canadian singles champion, and Harold Godshall, star Southern California racquet wielder, will meet in the finals of the Pasadena invitational tennis tournament at the Crown City tomorrow afternoon at 2:30 o'clock. These men went into the finals yesterday by virtue of their victories over Wyn Nace and Bob Allen.

Westbrook took on Nace in the semifinals and had little trouble winning out after the first set, which he took by a score of 6-4. The second set was all Westbrook, the score being 6-1.

Godshall had a tough time disposing of Bob Allan, the first set going 7 games to 5. Allen copped the second by the same score. Godshall came back strong in the final encounter, however, and won out, 6-2.

There will also be an exhibition doubles match tomorrow afternoon, Godshall and Allen playing Ted Mertz and Dick Hinckley, the Stanford University pair. The Cardinal players are to go to Europe this summer to meet the Oxford and Cambridge tennis teams, and there is much interest in their play.

Godshall and Allen went into the finals of the doubles play by defeating Westbrook and Royce yesterday, scores of the sets being 6-3, 4-6, 6-1. They will meet Herbert Hahn and Horace Donnell Sunday afternoon at 2:30 o'clock. The mixed doubles championship will also be decided Sunday.

while MacDonald Smith will uphold the honor of San Francisco's professional population.

Announcement of the entries from the Pacific Northwest will be found in other columns, so suffice to say that with Guy Standifer, Clair Griswold and Rudy Wilhelm in the running the title stands a good chance of traveling to Oregon.

GRIFFITH PARK

Mrs. C. O. Young won this week's Sassy Jane tournament at the municipal links at Griffith Park, her score reading 103-16-87. Second place went to Mrs. H. Inman, 107-18-89, while Mrs. L. Cahn was third, 114 gross, 24 handicap, 90 net.

My Reverie Wins Event at Tijuana

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH]

SAN DIEGO, Dec. 27.—My Reverie, backed to odds on favorite, won the feature event, a six-furlong sprint today, beating Wild Heather, an outsider, with ease.

Mudders grabbed nearly every race. Ever Bold, somewhat overlooked by the public, got off in front in the third race and never was headed, winning by four lengths.

C. A. Comiskey was another mudder who had not the least trouble in winning.

Summary:

First race, five furlongs: May Brum won; Scottish Lad, second; Usher D., third. Time 1:09 2-5.

Second race, five and one-half furlongs: L. Gentry won; Dunsannel, second; Sanhedrin, third. Time 1:09 2-5.

Third race, one mile and one-sixteenth: Ever Bold won; White Boots, second; May Proper, third. Time 1:52.

Fourth race, five and one-half furlongs: Cassius won; Born Dollar, second; Over Shot, third. Time 1:09 3-5.

Fifth race, five and one-half furlongs: C. A. Comiskey won; Ross Atkin, second; Careen, third. Time 1:09 4-5.

Sixth race, six furlongs: My Reverie won; Wild Heather, second; Be Frank, third. Time 1:14.

Seventh race, one mile and one-sixteenth: Balgan won; The Wit, second; Preacher, third. Time 1:50 2-5.

Eighth race, six furlongs: Lizette won; Grayson, second; Arttie King, third. Time 1:15.

COLISEUM WILL BE KEPT BUSY

Practically every major track event of the 1924 season will be held in the new Los Angeles Coliseum. Opening the season with the annual A.A.U. relay carnival, February 23, the beautiful stadium will house such events as the city prep track championships, the Southern California prep track championships, the Southern California conference meet, the A.A.U. championships, and probably two U.S.C. meets. The Olympic tryouts next June will close the season.

Athletes who have tried out the Coliseum oval declare it the fastest in this part of the country.

Golfers From Portland Seek State Title

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH]

PORTLAND, Dec. 27.—Another invasion of California is planned by Portland golfers. This time the Portlanders will toss their golf clubs into the ring for the California open championship to be held at the Los Angeles Country Club January 13 to 16.

One Portland entry is assured in William (Bill) Hanley, Waverley Country Club pro, while two other entries in Rudie Wilhelm and Russell Smith, both amateurs, are highly probable.

Hanley is leaving his position at Waverley January 1. He will spend a month's vacation in California before returning to the Northwest either to become professional for another golf club in this district or to go into business for himself. His chief object in selecting California for his month's rest was to enable him to play in the California open.

Wilhelm and Smith are undecided whether they can arrange their business affairs to take in the tournament but are making tentative plans to that end.

Wilhelm has made one jaunt to California already this year in which he and Clare Griswold, Oregon State champion, startled the Golden Staters by their fine showing in the California amateur at Del Monte.

MIDDIES ARE FEELING FIT

confident they will be in good form against Washington.

Table waiters aboard the train report that the eastern gridders are not shunning their meals, and the way in which the weary ebony-hued food-carriers lolled about the station indicated that they had been doing something other than shoot craps during the journey.

The Middies will stop at the Grand Canyon for a short practice, and will then continue on to Los Angeles.

UPSETS OCCUR IN JUNIOR NET AFFAIR

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE]

NEW YORK, Dec. 27.—Upsets which eliminated two more of the seeded players in the junior national indoor tennis championship featured today's play at Seventh Regiment Armory.

The first seeded player to fall was Horace Orser, of Stuyvesant High School, the number-one player on the list; the second was Weller Evans, Andover Academy star. Orser was easily mastered, 6-4, 6-3 by Kenneth Appel, of East Orange, N. J. High School, while Evans surrendered, 8-6, 6-2 to John Van Ryn, another East Orange youth.

SPOTLIGHT ON NAVY FIGHTERS

Sailors Predominate in Ring Program at Legion

Joe Benjamin and Ashmore Mix in Main Event

Gold-Stripers to be Present in Large Numbers

Yo, ho, ho!—an' a couple of knockouts!

Great gobs of oceanic atmosphere, redolent with the tang of the briny deep, will hover round the electric lamps at the Hollywood American Legion boxing stadium tonight. For it has been decreed sailors' night and what with a sailor battler sailing into some smart civilian glove-wielder in every bout, and with thousands of tars jamming the specators' chairs, it looks like a "big night on shore" this evening.

Such is the forecast of Matchmaker Tom Kennedy, who, in announcing this special feast of fistic entertainment especially for edification of the U.S.N. crowd, stated that this idea is but a fitting and colorful sport event prelude to the monster East-West gridiron classic at Pasadena on New Year's, when the future admirals will do their stuff for the amusement of the sailors.

A STAMPEDE

Just to give an idea of the multiplicity of gobs who will attend it is stated that a preliminary check has shown it necessary to run a special train from San Pedro direct to the Hollywood stadium. This special P.E. train—on which civilians, of course, also may ride—will leave San Pedro at 6:30 p.m.

Not only will the gobs be present, it is announced, but a big sprinkling of gold-stripers also will be among those cheering for the navy battlers. Several notables of the fleet who have promised to attend are Commander Traynor of the U.S.S. Mississippi, Lieut. Kennedy, athletic officer of that ship; Commander McCandless, who is here representing the Naval Academy for the football game, and Graduate Manager Meisnest of Washington. Lieut. Kennedy will referee one of the scraps.

ASHMORE VS. BENJAMIN

Sailor Ashmore, pride of the fleet and known to all of the local boxing fans, engages Joe Benjamin in the main event of the evening's bill and promises to give Jack Dempsey's pal plenty to think about. Ashmore has been improving fast of late and may spring the surprise tonight by taking the verdict over the Stockton lightweight.

Alec Maurice and Sailor Billy Vincent get together in the semifinal and what looks like the real scrap of the night. Both are sluggers of the highest order and it's no folly to predict a knockout here.

KING ZEV GATHERS $$$

The year 1923 was a big year on the turf, the $100,000 international race between Zev and Papyrus at Belmont Park, on October 20, being the outstanding feature. As a spectacle it was immense, but as a race it was a joke; Zev led at the finish by five lengths. The English horse couldn't go the mud. Now the sporting thing for Sinclair to do would be to race Papyrus in England, and also to take a shot at Epinard, the great French three-year-old. The international race brought together two of the greatest living jockeys, Steve Donoghue of England, who won the English Derby for the fifth time this year, and Earle Sande, king of American jockeys.

On November 3 the turf world got a surprise when Weidemann's In Memoriam defeated Zev and My Own by six lengths at Latonia. Two weeks later Zev, so the judges said, beat In Memoriam by a whisker in a special match race at Churchill Downs.

Zev, proved to be the greatest money-winning horse of all time, amassing a grand total of $296,673, won in the past two years, and surpassing even the world's record of Isinglass, the English horse. Zev jumped into fame last May by winning the Kentucky Derby.

Mrs. Vanderbilt's two-year-old Sarazen was the real sensation of 1923, not being beaten in ten consecutive starts, and proving his superiority over Happy Thoughts, until then also unbeaten.

Ivan Parke, a 16-year-old jockey from Idaho, broke all records for first-year winnings and won ten successive races in two days at Latonia, and later won five races and was second in a sixth at New Orleans.

PREP TEAM READY FOR SCOTT GRIDDERS

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE]

PORTLAND (Or.) Dec. 27.—Seats were placed on sale here today for the football game New Year's Day between Scott High School to Toledo, O., and Columbia University, a preparatory school of Portland. The game will start at 1 p.m. Coach "Clipper" Smith of Columbia reported his team in excellent condition. He is giving his men daily workouts. Arrangements have been made for the Scott players to work out on Multnomah Field after their arrival Saturday.

FIGURE IVAN PARKE SURE TO HOLD LEAD

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE]

NEW ORLEANS (La.) Dec. 27. Track followers today figured that Jockey Ivan Parke, now riding at Jefferson Park here, could not possibly be headed for riding honors on the American turf this year. His nearest competitor, Pete Walls, is trailing twenty-two victories behind him.

Parke has piloted 165 winners this year, up to and including races run yesterday, while Walls, who is riding at Tijuana, has piloted 143.

HANS WAGNER'S STORY

BY HANS WAGNER

(Copyright, 1923, in United States and Great Britain, Cuba, Japan and South America by North American Newspaper Alliance. All rights reserved.)

Chapter XV—The Pitcher I Found It Hardest to Hit

The pitcher I found the hardest to hit in all my years of baseball was Jack Taylor of the Chicago Cubs.

That is an answer to a dozen questions I have received and I feel sure it will be a surprise. Most of the writers who have been kind enough to suggest these subjects and who inquired about the toughest pitcher invariably asked if he were Mathewson, Alexander, Cy Young, Mordecai Brown and so on. Not one thought of Jack Taylor.

Just the same I had more difficulty in getting safe hits off Taylor than any other man I ever faced. He was not a wonderful pitcher, at that. He did not have anything like the stuff of those I have mentioned. Somehow, though, I simply couldn't do a thing with him. I would size up the ball exactly and know just what was coming but it didn't get me anything.

One season I went for two months or more without getting a single hit off Taylor. I hit many of them squarely on the nose and got line drives all right but they would go straight into the hands of some outfielder. A thing like that gets a hitter's goat.

In one game at Pittsburg I had been up twice without touching Taylor. The players on our club had begun to kid me about it.

"Hey, Honus," Claude Ritchey called to me in a joke, "maybe his weakness is left-handed hitting. Why don't you turn around?"

This got a good laugh from the players as I had never batted left-handed in my life. Never could swing a bat well that way.

"That might be a good idea," I said to myself, walking up to the plate.

Being thoroughly disgusted and taking the whole thing as a joke I walked up there and took the opposite side of the plate. There was a murmur of surprise from the fans. Even the umpire looked as if he thought me crazy.

"You know where you are standing?" he asked.

I'll be doggoned if I didn't hit that ball right on the nose and whipped it down the right foul line for two bases. Everybody, including the players, roared with laughter. Taylor called me a lot of names.

But that had turned the tide. For the rest of the season I hit as well off Taylor as the rest of the pitchers. And I never did bat left-handed again, either.

A batting slump is the most puzzling thing in all baseball. It hits every batter at some time or other and once the blight falls on a fellow he has no mental rest until it is over. Nothing he tries seems to go right. As a result he gets to pressing, trying to kill the ball. That naturally makes him worse.

There is no explanation of how a batter will get that. Personally, I think it a matter of the mind more than the eye and the muscles.

It might interest you to know that a majority of the ball players who received my request to submit suggestions for subjects in this autobiography asked for an explanation of the batting slump and how to get over it.

In the first place I believe a batter, after failing two or three times in succession, gets overanxious. In my case I found it all in the step. I would either take too long a step into the ball, too short, too late, too quick, too slow, too straight and a tendency to pull away. As a result I tried to hit everything and never could get the pitcher in the hole. Then I found myself unable to wait and became hopelessly confused.

This, in a way, applies to driving in golf. Lots of them tell me they get in slumps like that. It also applies to everyday business and to life in general. Once a fellow gets mixed up, goes off his routine, he starts plunging around and is completely off balance.

My suggestion for a way to get out of the batting slump is the one everybody tells you, but you can not do—forget it. That is easier said than done. How can a man forget a thing that is the only thing in his mind?

START ALL OVER AGAIN

As I have just said I overcame my batting slump against Taylor by batting left-handed. That might help others. The main thing, though, is too look yourself over and start right from the bottom, as if you were learning all over. Bat in a careless way, as if you didn't give a hang what happened.

A batter should start in by taking a short step and an easy swing, as if he simply wanted to tap the ball. Time the ball and don't be overanxious to hit. Wait the pitcher out as long as you can. If you get two or three balls then make up your mind to hit the first good one. Don't worry about a hit.

A batter in a slump should take an unusual lot of batting practice and bat as if he were experimenting. Above all things don't blame the bat. I have known many hitters to throw away their bats while in a slump and buy new ones. Golfers who go wrong in their drives often throw away their drivers and buy new clubs. As a result they are worse off then ever. It is never the fault of the bat.

For expert batters—big leaguers—it is a good idea in getting out of a slump to simply hit the ball on the nose. They should never try to place it.

In my whole experience the most satisfactory batting I ever accomplished was while coming out of one of these slumps.

In 1899, while playing with Louisville, we had been losing regularly. I could not hit the ball and the other heavy batters were in the same fix. The fans had started to ride. That, by the way, is the worst part of the batting slump. It is a sure tip-off as to how bad you look. The players notice it long before the fans.

On the day of this particular game we were playing Pittsburg and the fans knew that I came from there, that the Pittsburg section was my home.

In the very first inning they gave me an extra hard razzing. Some loud-mouthed ones were begging the Pittsburg club to take me home with them; that they were tired of looking at that Dutchman.

Tannehill pitched for Pittsburg, and he was a corking good pitcher. Just the same I rose out of my slump and slammed him for a home run the first time up. Later I got another home run. Before the day was over I had four hits. My second home run, which came in the ninth inning, won the game for us by a score of 2 to 1. My home runs were the only scores Louisville made.

In all my time I think that gave me more satisfaction than any batting stunt I ever did. The fans did not try to wish me on Pittsburg after that. None of us realized then that in a short time I would actually be in Pittsburg, playing on the home team. They never deemed that Louisville would be out of the league forever and that the whole team would be moved to Pittsburg. Still, that is what happened.

There seems to be some misunderstanding among a few modern-day fans as to how I went to Pittsburg. I was never traded there or sold.

When I got in the National League it was made up of twelve clubs. This proved a failure. The circuit was entirely too big.

I didn't know much about baseball politics in those days—didn't care—but there was a lot of hollering from Baltimore and Louisville about being dropped out. It was particularly loud from Baltimore where they had the greatest ball club of that time. Still, the Baltimore team, with all its stars, didn't pay.

So the league was cut down to eight clubs. Barney Dreyfuss got the Pittsburg franchise and the whole Louisville team was moved over there. Some of the Pittsburg players stayed, but not many. I only know I was tickled to death to be shifted over with a chance of being with my own friends for the rest or my playing days.

CYCLIST EN ROUTE TO ASCOT

Death-Daring Motorcycle Rider Coming From Alabama to New Speedway

Gene Walker, death-daring motorcycle racer, champion of the dirt tracks, is on his way to Los Angeles from his home in Birmingham, Ala. Walker will start in the two-wheeled motor events at the opening of the New Ascot Speedway on Sunday, January 6.

Walker campaigns on the racing circuit each summer and usually keeps in training during the winter months by acting as a motorcycle cop in the county made famous by Octavius Roy Cohen. When he learned of the recreation of old Ascot, over which he won many races some years ago, Gene placed his badge and gun in camphor balls and headed for the coast.

Walker will find stiff competition when he lines up against Ray Weishaar, "Curly" Fredericks, Ralph Hepburn, Jim Davis and the dozens of others of the chance-takers of the motor-bike game. All the riders will be mounted on the new type motors which will be seen at Ascot for the first time in the West.

Young Ford and Jim Maple, light heavyweights, top this evening's card at the Torrence American Legion bouts. Joe Richy and Young Thompson, battling at 112 pounds, tangle in the semi-windup.

The other bouts are Chief Cyrus vs. Harry Nall; Eddie West vs. Wop Thyer; Boob McNut vs. Kid Irish, and Young Doughty vs. Battling Mike.

WHO WILL WIN THE $10,000?

The giant strides of Southern California population, business and especially motor traffic have raised some vital questions. Ten thousand dollars have been offered by the City of Los Angeles to the genius who can tell her what to do with all her fine cars—in short: Solve that city's traffic problem.

WE don't offer a solution—but here's a suggestion for motorists everywhere: Be careful in your choice of gasoline.

In our busy streets, for example, "Red Crown" provides a quick, sure pick-up—your car gets away promptly at the signal to "go." And on the long, stiff grades of the hill there's no dropping back into "second" or "low" because of poor gasoline.

For years "Red Crown" has established a dependable standard for the quality of gasoline refined and marketed on the Pacific Coast. "Red Crown" always enables your car to render the utmost in power and mileage which its makers designed it to give.

Forty brands, or more, to choose from. ONE you can be sure of. Experience will tell you that's "Red Crown."

TRIO OF NOSES MARKS FINISH

Placed Horses in Fourth Race Only Inches Apart

Culver City Racing Fans Get a Great Kick

Attendance Shows Signs of Picking Up Fast

BY ED O'MALLEY

The pony sport at Culver City yesterday afternoon was given a thrilling fillip when three horses in the fourth race, a dash of one mile, finished so close that none but the judicial orbs were in a position to say just which animal won. The final stride struggle was one of the most pulsating ever seen on a Southern California race course and brought 2000 spectators to their chair tops with pent-up excitement. Arravan whiskered out Gold Bryan and the latter in turn eyelashed Brazos for the place.

To a good start, slightly marred by Gold Bryan's being caught in the swish of the barrier band, Brazos elected to exploit the early pace. Gold Bryan recovered quickly from her repressed getaway and been shot up to Brazos's withers. Ringleader on the first turn, swung into a snug third position close to the rail, with Jolly Cephas fourth. Down the back stretch Arravan was clearly outrun, lying in last place on the outside, yet within hailing distance of the leaders.

MEASURE NOSES

Gold Bryan and Brazos measured noses on the far turn and were eyeing each other on the head for home. At this juncture, Ringleader flagged palpably under sharp punishment in third position and soon faded away. Opposite the paddock it looked very much Brazos, especially as Gold Bryan, at his flanks, was under strenuous urging. Just as all present were struck with the idea of a close duel between the two leaders, Arravan flitted up like a ghost on the inside rail and responding with alacrity to a powerful hand and leg ride, gradually wore down on the duo in front of him, getting up just in nick of time to stick his tongue out in front of Gold Bryan's nose, with Brazos a hair behind.

A sudden lull in the shouting was proof most positive of a blanket finish—a finish that only the judges could settle. When the "three" were posted a moment later, a murmur of exchanged comment pealed the air, as probably no two spectators saw the finish past the imaginary line.

A SLIGHT EDGE

The attendance had a slight edge on that of the preceding day. According to General Manager Ferguson and Secretary Finn, the crowds would begin to improve from now on, especially if good weather preattendance had a slight edge of the preceding day. Ac- to General Manager Fer- Secretary Finn, the crowds begin to improve from now if good weather prevails. A banner attendance is expected Sunday when an attractive program will be doled out by Secretary Finn.

The racing proper, up to date, has been clean cut in every particular. Not the slightest semblance of a foul has bobbed up in the three day's sport. The speedway is still rather slow but will mend fast in a few days. About the early part of next week some fast time can reasonably be looked forward to. No infracting of the law cropped up yesterday in the way of betting, and the pastime, as a whole, was one long to be remembered. The results follow:

First race, claiming purse $600, 3-year olds and up, six furlongs—Won by Zing; Doc De Guise, second; Spinning, third. Chamberlain, Dairyman, Lariat, Three X and Steve also ran. Time, 1:16.

Second race, claiming purse $600, 3-year-olds and up, five furlongs—Won by Quincy Ward; Feliciter, second; Nonsuit, third. Saint Pierre, Miss Spears, Victory Won and Lena's Boy also ran. Time, 1:02.

Third race, claiming purse $600, 3-year-olds and up, five furlongs—Won by Zainer; Maude Harvey, second; Lucky Hugh, third. Heringa, Harp of the North and Queen Cup also ran. Time, 1:02.

Fourth race, claiming purse $1000, 3-year olds and up, one mile — Won by Arravan; Gold Bryan, second; Brazos, third. Olds Eight, Jolly Cephas and Ringleader also ran. Time, 1:43.

Fifth race, claiming purse $600, 3-year-olds and up, one mile—Won by Orleans Girl; Tutt, second; My Laddie, third. Au Revoir, Full Again, Bill Sparks and Towanmike also ran. Time, 1:43 4-5.

Sixth race, claiming purse $600, 3-year-olds and up, five furlongs—Won by Dan Arvi; The Boy Favorite, second; Miss Mabee, third. Rubivari, Fire, Effie Randall and Miss Edna also ran. Time, 1:02.

A new type of air-propelled glider-boat in England has a speed of seventy miles an hour, it is claimed.

DOUBLE FEATURE SUNDAY

El Monte Meets Hughes Ice Creams and Hollywood Tackles Pasadena Eagles on Diamond

BY JOE BUSH

Two Orange Belt League games will grab most of the limelight in this week's round of play in the Greater Southern California Baseball Association, according to the schedule announced yesterday by Secretary Jimmy Cleary. Manager Floyd Carlton takes his Hollywood Merchants to Brookside Park for a fling at Sam Cox's league-leading Pasadena Eagles is one of the feature contests, while the Hughes Ice Cream Company nine hooks up with the battling El Monte outfit at El Monte in the other top-notch tilt.

Harry Nelson's El Monte crew has shown its old-time form in its last two performances and a tough afternoon is in store for the Ice Cream nine. Last Sunday El Monte walloped Hollywood, 5 to 1, and then on Christmas Day cleaned up the Pasadena Eagles, 10 to 6, even though Suds Sutherland, Portland heaver, was on the mound for the Eagles. Either Salazar or Pace will be pitted against Manager Al Rodgers's squad, while Dick Bonelly will hurl for the Hughes club.

Charley Bench will attempt to get the better of Hollywood's star southpaws, Shanklin and Bailey, in a hurling duel at Brookside Park. Sam Cox says Bench will clean up the Hollywooders the same way he did in the last encounter between the two teams. But Carlton announces that the Eagles were lucky to win last time and that Hollywood will win easily Sunday.

In the independent games the Associated Oilers tackle Manager Trickey's Irvine Beanpickers in what should be a good contest. Last week a windstorm prevented a game at Irvine and Beanpicker fans are expected to turn out en masse Sunday after a two weeks' layoff. Hill Athletic Club and Bellflower clash at Bellflower in another important tussle, while the Barry's Classy Hats-Glendora set-to is also exciting a lot of interest.

The Hercules Gas-Whiting Mead Cubs battle at Maier Park is the feature City League game. A win for the Hercules nine gives it the championship. In the Saturday League the undefeated 220 K. V. Edison nine meets the Miner Building Company club at Brookside Park, while the Hercules Gas team tackles the Crane Company tossers. The schedule:

ORANGE BELT LEAGUE

Hollywood vs. Pasadena Eagles, at Brookside Park.

Hughes Ice Cream Company at El Monte.

Pomona at Montebello—postponed.

CITY LEAGUE

Hercules Gas vs. Whiting-Mead Cubs at Maier Park, 2:30 p.m.

Hill A. C. at Bellflower.
Harris & Frank at Hyde Park.
L. A. Japanese at Santa Ana.
L. A. Typewriter vs. Fraternal Brotherhood.

SATURDAY GAMES

Hercules Gas vs. Crane Co.
K. V. 220 vs. Minor Bldg., at Brookside Park.

BARLAGE AND BURKE TOP COMPTON CARD

Acting matchmaker Ray Coffey has lined up seven fast bouts for the Compton fans this evening at the American Legion arena. Leo Barlage, promising young heavyweight, will meet Soldier Burke in the main attraction of the evening. Burke is making a comeback in local rings. Paul De Haute, the Compton lightweight champion, will battle a newcomer in Eddie King. Jack Link will clash with Soldier Graham at 150 pounds. Bobby Noble and Young Monroe are slated to meet at 120 pounds. Sailor Evans and Toby Montoya will sling gloves in the third bout, while two other bouts bring up the balance of the card.

YANKEES BUY UP YOUNG BALL PLAYERS

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE]

NEW YORK, Dec. 27.—The New York Yankees today announced a list of twenty-three players added to the roster of the world's champions from various sources for spring training tryouts. Ten have been recalled from minor league clubs, six purchased and one has been drafted, while seven free agents were signed. Four were shifted to other clubs in deals for three of the players purchased.

INDIA ATHLETES IN OLYMPIC GAMES

[BY CABLE AND ASSOCIATED PRESS]

PARIS, Dec. 27.—The Olympic committee of British India informed the French committee today that India will be represented in several track and field events in next year's Olympic games. The Indians will enter the 100, 200, 400, 1500 and 5000-meter runs, the 110-meter hurdles, the running broad and high jumps, the weight events and the marathon run.

ORANGE COUNTY IS PURE

No Boxing Allowed Except in Homes and You Mustn't Charge Admission

[SPECIAL CORRESPONDENCE.]

SANTA ANA, Dec. 27.—The city of Huntington Beach stood out on the map of Orange county today as the only place where devotees of the manly art of self-defence may appease their appetites for their favorite sport. When the antiboxing ordinance as drafted by the County Supervisors went into effect, Dist.-Atty. A. P. Nelson said that it outlawed the boxing clubs at Dehl and Orana, both of them outside the limits of incorporated cities.

If Jack Dempsey comes to Orange county and offers his services in an effort to swell the coffers of a charitable organization Nelson said he could be arrested if he attempted to show his manly form in boxing togs inside the county but outside an incorporated city. Nelson said further that boxing in the home was still allowed, provided no admission is charged.

The pall over the fisticuff firmament was largely brought about by the efforts of a Santa Ana Bible class, whose leaders circulated petitions calling upon the Supervisors to do everything they could to make such attractions illegal. The members of the local W.C.T.U. sent a letter of thanks to the Supervisors commending them upon their action.

BEAR BASKETEERS HERE

University of California Quintet Plays Two Games at Claremont Tonight

California's Golden Bears are once more in our midst, this time it being the Blue and Gold basketeers, who are hogging the limelight for a short period. Coach E. H. Wight and thirteen of the Bruin cage stars are hanging out at Pomona College, where they are conditioning themselves for the 1924 Pacific Coast season, which promises to be an exceedingly interesting one.

The Bears go into action this evening, playing two games on the Pomona College court at Claremont. Coach Wight will use two full squads, La Verne College and the Pomona Y.M.C.A. furnishing the opposition. The former outfit is speedy and will make the Northerners step fast to win. Manager Hodge is endeavoring to arrange a game with the Riverside Y.M.C.A. quintet for tomorrow night.

Next Thursday evening the Bruin five will go to Redlands to play Coach Cecil Cushman's University of Redlands team. The following Saturday night the Blue and Gold lads will perform at Whittier, against the Whittier College quintet.

Coach Wight will take his men home a week from Sunday, and on the 15th they will open the season against the Olympic Club. On the 18th and 19th they play the University of Southern California five at Berkeley.

Capt. Johnny Tait, all-Pacific Coast forward last year, is holding down one of the goal shooting berths this season, and local fans who have seen the Bear cager in action will recall his uncanny ability as a free throw artist. Houvinen, who has played with the Bears for the last two seasons, is favored for the other forward position, although there are a whole flock of other young men aspiring to the job.

Kincaid, Belasco and Kyte, all letter men from last year's aggregation, will alternate at the guard positions, Kincaid being the most reliable of the three. He is stocky and a born fighter. The center job lies between Meacham and Higgins, the latter a star on last year's frosh outfit. Meacham hails from Davis Farm.

AMERICA LOSES RITOLA

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE]

NEW YORK, Dec. 27.—America lost one of her outstanding prospects for Oylmpic distance running laurels today when Willie Ritola, national ten-mile and cross-country champion, announced that he would carry the colors of Finland in the 1924 international meet in Paris.

Ritola's decision to return to his native land, probably for all time, came as a surprise to athletic followers because the Finnish-American Athletic Club star has been a resident of this country for ten years, making his first competitive appearance here in 1918 and developing into recognition during the last two years as the nation's most consistent distance performer.

In addition Ritola had already taken out first citizenship papers. It developed today that some question as to his eligibility to represent America had been raised because of doubt that he could obtain final papers prior to the Olympic track and field program next July. This together with a desire to return to his native land was believed to have influenced the sturdy Finn's decision.

Seattle Plans to Build New Hockey Arena

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE]

SEATTLE, Dec. 27.—Plans for a $300,000 combination auditorium and ice arena have been considered by a Seattle building corporation, according to Pete Muldoon, manager of the Seattle Hockey Club of the Pacific Coast Hockey Association. After a conference yesterday with officials of the company, Muldoon said that nothing definite had been settled.

The proposed building would have a seating capacity of 5000 for hockey with 2500 seated on the floor. The ice surface would be the same as the one in Vancouver, B. C.

Much depends on a proposed civic auditorium. If it is built, the proposed ice arena may not be constructed.

Lester and Frank Patrick, who control the hockey situation on the Pacific Coast, may sell their franchise here to local men next year, according to Muldoon.

Specimens of petrified sea lilies included one of the largest ever found, and were ten feet high and eleven feet long.

Mr. W. L. Lawler of Alabama says: "Lyko is one of the greatest tonics for vitality, digestion and liver trouble. A general rebuilder for run-down persons. It made me an entirely new man at 55. I feel like I am 30 years of age today."

The amazing power of Lyko to quickly build up run-down people is due to the fact that it acts on all parts of the system. It is a great general tonic compounded from pure medicinal ingredients, each of which has its own special properties.

One of these ingredients is a mild but efficient laxative which cleanses the bowels and keeps one free from constipation, another acts beneficially on the liver and kidneys, a third aids digestion so that the body absorbs the full strength from the food, another steadies the nerves and helps to overcome sleeplessness, irritability and nervous depression. There is not an ailing part of the body which does not feel the benefit of Lyko.

If you suffer from the effects of sickness, overwork or worry; if you have indigestion, constipation or kidney trouble; if you are bilious; if you lie awake nights; if you lack that energy and spirit which wins success and popularity, put Lyko at work to build up your strength and vitality. SAYS AIR FORCE IS DEPLORABLE

Moffett Declares Nation Unprepared

Asserts 2790 Pilots Are Needed in Reserve

Situation as to Material Held Very Grave

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE]

WASHINGTON, Dec. 27.—The condition of the Naval Reserve force, so far as the Naval Air Service is concerned, "is deplorable," Rear-Admiral William A. Moffett, chief of the Bureau of Aeronautics of the Navy Department, asserted in his annual report to Secretary Denby, made public today.

"In the event of hostilities," the report said, "we must have a flying reserve of no less than 3000 pilots. At present there is a total of but 210 aviators in classes five and six of the Naval Reserve force.

"It takes at least six months to train an aviator. Should war come while there is such a lack of reserve, naval aviation will be practically unprepared, for it would take a large part of our qualified aviators to train the necessary pilots.

"To remedy this situation an appropriation of $1,500,000 should be included in the appropriation for the Naval Reserve force. This will permit the training of 600 officers during the fiscal year 1925."

Admiral Moffett said that the situation which faced naval aviation as to material was "a very grave one."

"For two years past there has been available a war stock of material which has been used to the extent of $10,000,000 a year," the report said. "This war stock is no longer available. Unless the appropriation is greatly increased aviation must go backward."

Prince Not Too Proud to Admit He Hasn't Cash

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE]

NEW YORK, Dec. 27.—Prince Nicholas Viadaovich Engelitcheff, one-time Russian Vice-Consul at Chicago, appearing in court today to protest against persecution by his creditors, declared that he was no longer too proud to admit his poverty.

The Prince was married twice in Europe and divorced twice in the United States. His second wife, Mme. Betrand, of Paris, rode $2240 worth in hired cabs and it was for this that he was sued.

TUT'S INNER SHRINE SOON TO BE OPENED

EXPLORERS READY TO TAKE DOWN SIDES OF HUGE WOODEN CANOPY

[BY CABLE AND ASSOCIATED PRESS]

LUXOR, Dec. 27.—Howard Carter and others of his expedition hope to begin early next week the task of dismantling the sides of the great wooden canopy or outer shrine over the sarcophagus of the Pharaoh Tut-Ankh-Amen, thereby fully disclosing to view the second shrine which at present is covered with a gold-embossed linen pall hung over a wooden rack at either end.

The second of the three sections of which the curved roof of the canopy consists was removed today. This, like the first section, is decorated with a series of protective devices in the shape of outspread hawk's wings, executed in the boldest style.

With the beginning of the New Year Luxor is anticipating a large influx of visitors and 200 donkeys have been brought in from the surrounding countryside for the transportation of tourists from the Nile to the tombs of the kings.

GRUETZNER GIVEN HARD-LABOR TERM

SENTENCE INFLICTED FOR ROLE IN SEPARATIST RIOTING

[BY CABLE AND ASSOCIATED PRESS]

DUESSELDORFF (Germany) Dec. 27.—Dr. Gruetzner, former German Governor of Rhenish Prussia, expelled by the occupation authorities, was convicted in default today by a French court-martial of complicity in the separatist rioting here on September 30, last, in which ten Germans were killed and more than 200 wounded. Dr. Gruetzner was sentenced to twenty years at hard labor, to be followed by twenty years enforced residence in certain specified towns.

Three officers and nineteen privates of the German security police were acquitted. Two officers were condemned to ten years solitary confinement and one to five years imprisonment. None of these men is in the custody of the French.

CIVIL-SERVICE RULE OUST OLD WORKERS

PITTANCES PAID TO MEN ORDERED RETURNED BY GOVERNMENT

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE]

SAN FRANCISCO, Dec. 27.—Orders from Washington directing the discharge of Treasury Department employees more than 70 years of age, who are not on the civil service list has resulted in the dismissal of P. Fraser, and Joseph Kerr, both 74, carpenter and marble cleaner, respectively, in the customs service, it was announced today by Collector of Customs William B. Hamilton. The order also directs these noncivil service employees to return to the government all moneys earned after the retirement age of 70, but Hamilton said that he was not going to press that particular demand.

"Nobody else would take the jobs, so we had to give them to these old men," Hamilton said. "They were paid but $70 each and are in no position to make any return to the government."

ALLIGATOR INFURIATED BY CAMERA

Principal in Presentaton Ceremony Nearly Bites Off Keeper's Leg

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH]

NEW YORK, Dec. 27.—A seven-foot alligator, infuriated by the chatter of motion-picture cameras pointed at him, attacked John O'Brien, head keeper of the Prospect Park Zoo yesterday. The alligator caught O'Brien's leg in its huge jaws and would have torn it off if William Ostrander, an assistant keeper, had not risked the loss of his hands to save his chief.

Ostrander strained on the alligator's jaws to loosen his grip, while O'Brien, in great pain, tore his leg free. His leg was badly torn. Ostrander's hands were lacerated by the alligator's teeth.

The attack of the alligator broke up what was intended to be a simple ceremony. A group of city officials who as guests of City Chamberlain Berolzimmer on St. Mons Island, in Georgia, recently captured the alligator in a swamp, were making a formal presentation of the reptile to the zoo. Borough residents and park commissioners were on hand.

Motion-picture cameras were stationed eleven feet from the alligators, the operators having been warned it could leap ten feet in the air. They started to grind as O'Brien slipped a noose about the upper jaw of the alligator. The great body made a sudden twist. Its jaw snapped on O'Briens leg. After O'Brien had been rescued, a dozen employees threw the alligator into its pool. O'Brien was taken to his home.

SCREEN ACTOR SCHOOL HEADS HELD FOR JURY

TWO CHARGED WITH WORKING CONFIDENCE GAME ON FILM ASPIRANTS

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE]

CHICAGO, Dec. 27. — How to become a screen actor, inscrutable to the bulk of the citizenry, was revealed today in a sheet of written instructions produced in Municipal Court by a young woman student of Popular Motion Picture Productions, Inc. L. S. Callahan, president, and T. A. Bauer, vice-president of the organization, which enrolled a large number of screen aspirants at from $25 to $50 an enrollment, were held to the grand jury yesterday on a charge of operating a confidence game.

The "A.B.C." of expresing emotion was set down in black and white on the instruction sheet. Mrs. Agnes Beck, however, testified that oral instructions were given her. She said she was told she would have no trouble getting into the pictures, because "my figure was so shapely and they taught me to dance in a bathing suit."

Each of the emotions or mental attitudes set down in the instruction sheet carried with it a definite expression of how to register it. For illustration, "wonderment" was explained in this way: "Well, of all things! How did she ever manage to land him?"

LIBERTY BONDS LOST IN STOLEN POUCHES

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE]

SAN FRANCISCO, Dec. 27.—One of the nine pouches of mail stolen from the wharf of the Monticello Steamship Company here on the 21st inst., contained $20,000 in Liberty Bonds, which had been consigned by a Vallejo bank to two San Francisco banks, it was announced today by the chief postoffice inspector here. The names of the banks were withheld. The robbery was not discovered until yesterday, when the pouches and several letters which had been torn open were found in Sutro Forest, more than three miles from the wharf.

MASH IN CREEK LEADS TO ARREST OF THREE

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE]

SEATTLE, Dec. 27.—Mash running down a creek and reported by farmers, led to the seizure of a still in a cave ten feet wide and forty feet long near Kirkland, across Lake Washington from Seattle, today. Federal agents who followed the mash back to the mouth of a sewer and then searched until they found the entrance to the cave through a stall in a deserted barn, seized twenty-five gallons of moonshine. They arrested three men.

DAUGHERTY SEEKS PACKERS' RECORDS

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE]

CHICAGO, Dec. 27.—Petitions for writs of mandamus were filed in the United States District Court late today over the signature of Atty.-Gen. Harry M. Daugherty seeking an order compelling the Cudahy Packing Company, Wilson & Co., and Swift & Co. to give the government access to their books and records. The packing companies must answer the petitions on or before January 11.

NORTHWEST GRIPPED BY BLIZZARDS

Balmy Weather Changes as Cold and Snow Come From North

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH]

CHICAGO, Dec. 27.—Following a period of sunny, spring-like weather winter last night and today descended on the northwest, covering Minnesota, North and South Dakota, with a heavy blanket of snow. Temperatures range from almost zero in parts of North Dakota to 16 deg. above in Minnesota, where the mercury is steadily dropping. The weather forecasters say an intense cold wave will have the entire section in its grip by tomorrow.

A blizzard is raging over Lake Superior. Terrific gales are churning the storm waters into a tempest. Superior, Duluth and vicinity are in the throes of a blinding snowstorm which is blowing off the lake.

Fargo, Grand Forks, Williston and Bismarck, N. D., and Aberdeen, S. D., are getting the first real touch of winter weather. At Aberdeen the snow is the first of the season.

Local weather men say the terrific storms will reach Chicago by Friday or Saturday. Today's rain, they predict, will turn into snow with the falling temperatures.

NAVAJOS KEEP WORD; PAY FINES TO COURT

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH]

HOLBROOK (Ariz.) Dec. 27.—Six Navajo Indians, liberated by Justice Easly to return within fifteen days with $90 in fines, kept their word and paid the money into the court well within the time set. The money goes to the game warden's department of the State, as the redskins had been shooting game off the reservation, out of season, and killing does. The justice states that since he has been in office he has trusted about forty Navajos in similar manner, and his trust has been honored in every instance.

Coughs and Colds are germ diseases

Zonite kills germs

A COLD is not a mere cold or "just a cold." A cold is an infection. Most colds are highly contagious, and are caused by germs, or bacteria. It is difficult to dislodge these germs once they have become established. The time to kill them is at the start before they penetrate to the recesses of the throat and nasal cavity.

Zonite provides a safer means of preventing oral, nasal and bronchial infection than has hitherto been available. Unlike the old-fashioned germicides, it is neither poisonous nor burning in its nature. Unlike the old germicides it can be used freely on the sensitive linings of the throat and nasal cavity. Zonite represents an entirely new principle in antiseptics.

Zonite is not a poison. It is non-caustic and non-irritating. Furthermore, Zonite is actually 40 times as powerful in germ-killing effectiveness as the strongest solution of carbolic or iodine or bichloride of mercury which can be safely applied to the human body. And compared to peroxide of hydrogen, Zonite is 75 times as effective in germicidal strength.

History of Lighthouses One of Centuries

Pharos at Alexandria First of Mechanisms

BY FREDERIC J. HASKIN
[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH]

WASHINGTON, Dec. 27.—A series of conferences on the fascinating subject of lighthouses which has been going on in Washington between D. W. Hood, chief engition of London, and George R. Putnam, Commissioner of Lighthouses of the United States, recalls the important part which Mr. Hood's organization has played in the development of shore-line beacons. Mr. Hood is in the United States making an inspection of American lighthouses. In addition to his engineering work at Trinity House he advises the British colonies on lighthouse problems. From this country he is proceeding to Bermuda.

Lighthouses date far back in the history of mankind. The Pharos at Alexandria, on the south coast of the Mediterranean Sea, was built 300 years before Christ and was accounted one of the Seven Wonders of the World. But coastwise beacons did not continue to be built after the decline of the Mediterranean civilization, and the Middle Ages passed by with practically no lights of any kind on the coasts. Perhaps one reason was that the Southern Europeans felt they knew their own coasts well enough, and another, that the northern seamen had not yet developed a seafaring life intensive enough to make the need pressing. The northern seamen in the earlier days were chiefly fighting men and fishermen who stayed close to shore. There was much less trading from coast to coast in merchant ships than in the south.

SOCIETY FORMED

It was not until about 500 years ago that a small society of Englishmen formed themselves into a sort of religious brotherhood dedicated to the welfare of mariners. Their organization was rather loose until Henry VIII, King of England, gave the body a royal charter. The quaint document incorporated "The Brotherhood of the Most Glorious and Undivided Trinity and of St. Clement in the Parish of Deptford-Strond," and gave it certain concessions and dignity. Deptford-Strond is a parish in the east end of London. This charter was dated 1514.

The brotherhood's first activities seemed to have been along the line of establishing almshouses for destitute sailors, but fairly early it branched out into the field of aids to navigation. Queen Elizabeth supported it and James the First quarreled with it, but it continued to thrive. Headquarters were built called Trinity House and, much enlarged from designs by the famous Sir Christohper Wren and John Evelyn, Trinity House stands to this day and continues to be headquarters for the organization, which corresponds to the American Bureau of Lighthouses and the Bureau of Navigation.

CLAIMED MONOPOLY

James the First, in order to raise funds for himself, granted charters to private parties to build lighthouses and collect tolls from passing ships. This resulted in two sorts of quarrels. Trinity House Corporation engaged in lawsuits with the private grantees of King James, asserting that the Trinity House Corporation had a royal monopoly. The mariners from whom the private lighthouse keepers sought to collect tolls objected because, they said, the lights were of no use. In thick weather, it was argued, the lights were too dim to be seen and in fair weather no good mariner needed a light.

The strangest objections to the building of lighthouses came from people who dwelt along the coast. They were accustomed to watch for ships driven ashore and wrecked in gales. They then would gather in the wreckage, which often included very valuable cargo. It is even said that if the surviving sailors objected they were murdered. When foreign ships were wrecked the survivors might be held for ransom. There is on record a petition sent to the King by the beach combers in the neighborhood of the dangerous reef called the Lizard on the occasion of a project to build a lighthouse at that place. The petition remonstrated against the plan. It said that a beacon would "take away God's grace from them, as they will have no more benefit from shipwreck." Nevertheless, the light was built.

DUES PAID

Members of the brotherhood paid dues and occasionally a bequest would be left to the institution. One famous one was left by a Capt. Richard Maples, master of an East Indianman, in 1680. His bequest was used to build lighthouses and a part of it to erect a statue to him, which still stands at Trinity House.

The brotherhood did not overlook the social amenities in connection with their work. There are curious records of their occasional feasts. One old record shows that the cabaret idea is not modern, for the account books show, in addition to the cost of the food and drink, an item of 6 shillings and 8 pence for "apparel for ten dancers." The purchasing power of money was higher in those days, but even so it would appear that the ten dancers must have been rather scantily clad if they wore only $1.66 worth of apparel among them.

Samuel Pepys, the famous diarist, was attached to the Trinity House Corporation in his day. It then practically constituted the British Navy Department. Pepys was warden of the corporation in 1676 and, one may be sure, made it a point to attend the feasts. He refers to several of them in his diary. On one occasion he says: "I eat a little too much beef, which made me sick." John Evelyn was another famous brother of Trinity House.

CARVER EXPERT

Perhaps one of the most famous men to be produced by the organization was Grinling Gibbons. Gibbons was a workman who carved figureheads and other woodwork which was much used to decorate the old wooden ships. John Evelyn saw his work and instantly recognized that he was not an ordinary shipwright. He got him work carving furniture and interior woodwork, such as mantels, pediments and stairways, for the houses of certain rich men. The name of Grinling Gibbons still stands at the head of the list of wood carvers, occupying the same relation to wood as the names of Phidias and Michelangelo do to marble.

Perhaps the most famous lighthouse in the world is the Eddystone Light. It is situated off the southwest coast of England, the point of land which bears the brunt of the wild gales of the North Atlantic. Trinity House Corporation was commissioned in 1674 to place a light there. An architect named Henry Winstanley was employed. He designed a curious structure which looked more like a Swiss chalet than a lighthouse. Before it was finished it was swept away in a storm, Winstanley and all his workmen with it. A man named Rudyerd was designer of the next one, a tower of oak filled with stone. This was destroyed by fire in 1755, after having withstood the waves for many years. The following year John Smeaton designed a lighthouse of granite blocks dovetailed together. They weighed a ton each and this tower stood until 1877—more than a century. It then became so weakened that Trinity House had Sir J. N. Douglass build the present light.

The old lights were illuminated by coal and wood fire and, later, by numerous candles. Trinity House, among scores of other curious antiques, has a mechanical clock which struck the hours at which the candles in the old Eddystone Light should be snuffed.

Mr. Hood's visit to Washington is of special interest as recalling how the science of lighthouse building has developed and how Trinity House has grown from the days when it designed the famous ship, the Harry Grace De Deu, for Henry VIII, to the present, when it still is functioning as an important adjunct of the British Admiralty.

Senator From Oregon to Wed Boston Woman

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE]

WASHINGTON, Dec. 27.—Senator Charles L. McNary of Oregon will be married Saturday in Chicago to Miss Cornelia W. Morton, who, for the past three years, has been associated with the Massachusetts League of Women Voters, with headquarters in Boston. The wedding will take place at the home of Joseph H. Morton, a Chicago business man.

Miss Morton is a daughter of the late Maj. Morton, U.S.A., who for thirty years was aide to Gen. Nelson A. Miles.

Senator McNary's first wife was killed in an automobile accident a few years ago.

THIRTEEN DROWNED IN SCHOONER WRECK

ONLY TWO SURVIVE BEATING OF WAVES ON BOAT OFF GERMANY

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE]

YARMOUTH (N. S.) Dec. 27.—Details of the tragic end of the auxiliary schooner Grace N. Pendleton in a storm off Cuxhaven, Germany, on November 15 and the loss of thirteen members of her crew of fifteen were brought here today by the two survivors, the ship's cook and the second engineer, Odber Pothier of Boston.

Pothier, whose father was the schooner's skipper, said that on the night of November 14 the Pendleton was rammed by a steamer which continued on her way without offering aid to the stricken vessel or even making her identity known.

The Pendleton filled so rapidly, Pothier said, that the water in the holds gained on the men at the pumps and Capt. Pothier's attempts to drive her into Cuxhaven Harbor were frustrated by a screetching gale which sent her on the shifting sands at the mouth of the Elbe.

The fifteen men aboard donned life belts and lashed themselves to the rigging but all but two of them were swept away by the raging sea which broke over the ship as she settled in the sands. Engineer Pothier and the ship's cook managed to keep their precarious holds until the storm had blown over late on the 15th, when they were rescued by a tug.

PHOENIX PAPER LAUDS COOLIDGE

Though Progressive, Editor Turns From Johnson

Eastern Sentiment Favors Chief Executive

Hearing Date on Rail Lease Set for February 11

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH]

PHOENIX, Dec. 27.—The Arizona Republican, a daily newspaper which declares itself "independent, progressive," has refused to join the Johnson camp, though wholeheartedly for the Progressive party in former years. Dwight B. Heard, head of the Republican Company, has just returned from the East and, in a front-page article, makes clear the position of the journal, this in a summary of reasons why Calvin Coolidge should be returned to the Presidential chair.

It is declared, "The trend of sentiment in the eastern and central States seems steadily toward the election of President Coolidge. Even those who do not agree with him politically admit that by training and character he is exceptionally well qualified for the Nation's Executive. Courageous, straightforward and level-headed, he brings to his great office a keen and well-trained mind, with exceptional high-standards of public service. His personal life is as wholesome as his public record is clean and vigorous. His campaign for the nomination is in very able hands, assuring vigorous, clean and balanced management. After personal conferences with him, I have reached the firm conviction that he is a conservative progressive and that on any issue in which property rights versus human rights were involved he would stand squarely for human rights. I consider it a public service to support him, both personally and through the Republican, hearty support."

LOCATION CHANGED

At the State Capitol on February 11 will be held an Interstate Commerce Commission hearing of an application by the Southern Pacific Company for permission to lease the Arizona Eastern and Phoenix and Eastern Railway lines. This permission is asked in order that the lines may be operated as a part of the main-line system. Originally the hearing was set to be held in Washington the 22nd inst., but was changed to here on application of the State Corporation Commission, which lately canceled a lease of the Phoenix and Eastern that has been held for years by the Arizona Eastern Company. The stock of both corporations is understood to be wholly held by the Southern Pacific.

PAY INCREASED

It is assumed that the new move has been taken in an effort to force transfer of the Phoenix and Eastern line between Mesa and Phoenix to the new Tucson, Phoenix and Tidewater Railroad, somewhat apparently favored by the Corporation Commission. Operation by the main line is favored by employees of the subsidiary lines as they would be given higher pay.

The lines now have separate organization, with H. B. Titcomb of Tucson as president, and C. M. Levey of Phoenix as general manager. Their equipment generally is of main line standards, with all steel and with vestibuled passenger coaches.

MIDDLE WEST NEWS IN BRIEF

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH]

LOUISVILLE, Dec. 27.—The population of Louisville at the opening of 1924, four years after the last decennial census, is 281,871, an increase of 46,980, or 20 per cent over the 234,891 shown by the United States numeration of January, 1920, according to a population survey of the city just completed.

Mrs. Mahala Monroe Guffy, 84 years old, widow of the late Judge B. L. D. Guffy, formerly of the Kentucky Court of Appeals, died at her home in Morgantown.

W. S. Huffman, 70 years old, merchant, knows there is a Santa Claus. A week ago the building in which Mr. Huffman lived and operates a small store across the river from Pikeville was destroyed by fire. By the end of the week he will be living in a new building on the site of the old one and will be serving his customers. Pikeville citizens provided the funds for the construction of the building.

DES MOINES

DES MOINES, Dec. 27.—Home-grown, outdoor pansies were used in Shenandoah instead of hothouse poinsettias this Christmas. Mrs. M. O. Brush, one of the garden enthusiasts of Shenandoah, has a pansy bed in her garden which is still blooming and at the R. K. Tindall home the pansy bed continues to bloom.

OMAHA

OMAHA, Dec. 27.—Dr. E. R. Porter, Omaha physician, by terms of a property settlement made in court here yesterday, turned over property and money approximating $500,000 to his wife, when he was granted a divorce. Included in the settlement is the St. Regis Apartment, one of the largest in Omaha. The Porters were married in 1910, and have five children.

With the arrest of George Johnson, 12 years of age, Eugene Ruff, 12, and John Ruff, 10, Fremont boys, Dodge county officers believe they have apprehended the ones who have been causing damage to property in the vicinity of Fremont in the last few months, including the vandalism at the Catholic cemetery. Johnson is said to have admitted that he was implicated in the cemetery destruction as well as breaking and entering of numerous cottages.

Corn receipts at Norfolk elevators have fallen off considerably as a result of the corn being too damp for shelling. The weather for the last week in North Nebraska has been like spring-time. Rose bushes and shrubbery have budded and hollyhocks are sprouting. Farmers can't shell corn in this kind of weather and are waiting for real cold temperatures.

KANSAS CITY

KANSAS CITY, Dec. 27.—Lester Miller of Los Angeles is spending the holidays with his mother, Mrs. Albert P. Spaar.

Cameron L. Orr, formerly prosecuting attorney of Jackson county, is dead of pneumonia. He was 46 years old.

Last week, Dr. William Frick, prescribed something for himself. He diagnosed his own case and ordered a one-year vacation in San Diego. Just before starting West, Dr. Frick was stricken with apoplexy. At the home it was said he was convalescing but still very ill.

The new fourteen-story Land Bank Building, 15 West Tenth street, will be opened New Year's Day. The Kansas Finance Company will occupy the new structure.

DENVER

DENVER, Dec. 27.—Denver postoffice receipts for 1923 exceeded $3,000,000. Total receipts for 1922 were $2,815,024. The new mark places Denver in a new rank of first-class postoffices, with increased remuneration to the higher executives.

Mr. and Mrs. Karl C. Schuyler and Mr. and Mrs. W. A. Shepard, are guests at Hotel Ambassador, Los Angeles.

ST. LOUIS

ST. LOUIS, Dec. 27.—Mr. and Mrs. James T. Pettus of Kingsbury Place, and their two children are spending a few weeks in Los Angeles, and are guests at the Ambassador Hotel.

James M. Hays, manufacturer and capitalist of Jefferson City, formerly of St. Louis, died yesterday of organic trouble at St. Anthony's Hospital where he has been undergoing treatment for several weeks. He was 63 years of age.

Dorsey A. Jamison, executor of the will of Jacob Lampert, yesterday filed his final settlement in Probate Court. If the settlement, proved by the court, Jamison, is approved by the court, Jamison will receive $57,406 for his fee as executor. The estate amounted to $1,349,709, the bulk of which goes to Lampert's sister, Mrs. Rosa Graf. There were several bequests, including $25,000 to the Masonic Home.

INDIANAPOLIS

INDIANAPOLIS, Dec. 27.—Floods from White and Wabash rivers in Southern Indiana were reported yesterday as having caused the Highway Commission to begin preparations to raise two roads and reroute another, to protect them from floods.

Examiners of the State Board of Accounts went to Rockville yesterday to investigate the books of J. Walter Chapman, Parke county Treasurer who committed suicide last Saturday. The December settlement sheet from the Park county Auditor showed $30,817 due the State from the county, according to State officials.

The city of Bloomington claimed the highest Christmas tree in the State. It was placed on top of an elevator at a grain mill and was nearly 150 feet in the air. The tree, lighted at night, could be seen for many miles by Monroe county farmers.

Two large factories at Mont Pelier gave their employees $500 insurance policies as Christmas presents. Every employee who had been in the service of the company for six months was remembered.

DETROIT

DETROIT, Dec. 27.—Directors of the Peoples State Bank of Detroit voted to place that institution on a dividend of 20 per cent per annum, payable at the quarterly rate of 5 per cent. For the last two years stockholders of the Peoples State Bank have been receiving 16 per cent a year. The directors of the bank also authorized the transfer of $1,000,000 from undivided profits account to surplus. This operation gives the bank capital stock of $5,000,000 with surplus of $10,000,000 and a substantial balance in undivided profits.

Robert H. Whitley, Civil Service Commissioner and for many years a Detroit newspaper man, died suddenly at his home. Mr. Whitley was 57 years old and had been a resident of Detroit thirty-two years. He was born in Wheeling, W. Va., the descendant of a line of Colonial ancestors.

Santa Claus put a fire truck in the Christmas stocking of the city of Alma this year. Last spring the city considered the purchase of a new fire truck, but did not have sufficient funds to obtain the type desired. The Republic Motor Truck Company of Alma presented the fire truck to the city. It is valued at $10,000.

MINNEAPOLIS

MINNEAPOLIS, Dec. 27.—Acting upon the petition of some seventy-five depositors in the defunct Merchants State Bank, Red Lake Falls, the County Board of Red Lake county has employed an accountant to check up the books of the bank and ascertain if there were any irregularities.

A plague of petty thievery has descended on Owatonna. After several widely spread thefts, which included the entering of homes, garages and business houses in the last few weeks, the epidemic culminated during the last few days by more than a half dozen more thefts which police believe are the work of the same gang.

The Henderson Flour Mill was totally destroyed by fire of undetermined origin. The loss is estimated at $12,000. Other property was threatened and the Le Sueur Fire Department was called.

ST. PAUL

ST. PAUL, Dec. 27.—Mrs. A. H. Hogeland, will leave Saturday evening for Pasadena, Cal., and will be a guest at the Maryland Hotel, where Mr. Hogeland will join her later.

Mr. and Mrs. E. B. McGill will leave January 10 for Los Angeles, where they will remain until March.

GOSSIP IN WASHINGTON

President Harding's Last Speeches Compiled in Book Form; Russians Read "Hostility" in Hughes Statement; Indiana Girl Given Post in England

BY THE OBSERVER

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH]

[Copyright, 1923, Public Ledger.]

WASHINGTON, Dec. 27.—An attractive volume entitled "President Harding's Last Speeches" issued under the patronage of President Coolidge, the Cabinet and personal friends of the late President for private distribution reveals in graphic fashion the physical strain to which Mr. Harding underwent on his Alaskan trip.

When he left Washington, it was planned, Mr. Harding would deliver eight addresses. The volume contains the stenographic reports of eighteen speeches in the continental United States and Alaska. There were, moreover, two which he prepared for publication in full, although he was unable to deliver them, and part of another in preparation at his death. To the story of every tour is added. Joseph W. Murphy, official reporter in the Senate, who accompanied the President to report and took down his speeches, has added a further interesting chapter on the manner in which Mr. Harding permitted his wish to please lead him into great physical strain. The stenographer has given times addresses were delivered. His record shows that on three successive nights Mr. Harding addressed station crowds as late as 11 p.m., and was speaking again the following mornings as early as 7 a.m.

Autographed copies of the book have been presented to members of the Harding party by Warren F. Martin, special assistant to Atty.-Gen. Daugherty.

Secretary Hughes's statement to the Soviet regime is one of the perfect examples in American diplomatic papers of a document which to a foreign chancellory carries not only the weight of its words but that invisible force which only the initiated fully comprehend.

Diplomacy combines many arts, not the least important is that of phrasing. Not merely the words but the length of the complete sentence has a definite meaning. The word "hostility" was not employed by Mr. Hughes in the statement communicated to Tchitcherin, Soviet Foreign Minister, but the Soviets read hostility in it because of its language.

It was Charles Francis Adams who named the three sorts of diplomatic composition and their differing language. When hostility is intended the diplomat resorts to that one exemplified by Mr. Hughes.

"The language is then courteous, but short, every word covering intelligible offense," said Adams.

Adams said when dissatisfaction is to be expressed, but no action is to follow, the notes will be long and full of argument. If a sincere desire for harmony prevails, then "the phrases are less studied and the intent more directly signified."

The latest addition to the American Consular service in England will be Miss Ethel Delight McKinney a native of Marion, Ind. Miss McKinney will be attached to the Consular office in London, and is one of the few women to have been appointed to the foreign service of the United States.

Golf and her job constitute Miss McKinney's two hobbies, and how well she may be expected to discharge the duties of the latter can be seen from the manner in which she organized the women of the United States in the drive for the Harding Memorial Fund.

The organization which she has perfected consists of 31,000 local bodies throughout the country said to have membership of 5,000,000 women. Since her graduation from the University of Wisconsin Miss McKinney has been actively engaged in organization work among women, spending several years in the service of the Red Cross.

WOUNDED MAN DIES

GLOBE (Ariz.) Dec. 27.—Mate Kattichm, a Vroatian miner, shot while on his way to work December 17, is dead. The bullet passed through his spinal cord. Two Montenegrins charged with shooting him still are at liberty, though $500 reward for their apprehension has been offered by local Croatian societies.

MINE ACCIDENT FATAL

JEROME (Ariz.) Dec. 27.—Albert Cady, a former service man and popular young resident, was killed by being crushed between a mine drift wall and an ore car, on which it is believed a projecting piece of metal caught his clothing and dragged him to his death. He was reported engaged to a teacher in the local schools.

GIRL TOLD TO GIVE UP SUITOR TAKES POISON

WANTED TO FRIGHTEN MOTHER AND GET HER WAY; NEAR DEATH IN HOSPITAL

DETROIT, Dec. 27.—Until her daughter Mary began to fail in her school work, Mrs. Samuel Reese, 2457 McLean avenue, permitted her to keep company with Angus Flynn, 12802 Artillery avenue.

"I didn't approve of their going together, though," she said "They were too young. Mary is only 17 and Angus is a couple of years older.

"It got so she couldn't go to the store unless he went along.

"At last when I saw how she was neglecting her school work, I told her she must give him up."

Mary took poison in her home the other night. At Grace Hospital, where she is in serious condition, she told her mother she intended taking only enough to scare her parent.

"Mary had heard of other girls doing the same thing and the parents would then let them have their own way," explained Mrs. Reese. "This is the fourth case of this kind in our neighborhood in two weeks."

Snow and Oranges!

The Incomparable Beauties of Santa Ana When Winter Comes

SHOW me a scene more soul-stirring and inspiring than hoary Old Baldy in all his winter magnificence looking down upon a panorama of orange groves with their golden loads in sunny Santa Ana Valley! To start the day under the influence of such a picture is the privilege of every Santa Anan in Winter time. Leaving the warm valley and climbing to the snow line is merely a matter of a short motor jaunt over good roads. Here indeed, in Santa Ana, is everything in climate and scenery that inspires kind and happy feelings and enriches life with enjoyment of the good and beautiful.

The Life of Industrial Workers in Santa Ana

Every manufacturer recognizes the value of a steady, contented family of employees, away from vicious labor agitation in a community where workers can afford to own homes and enjoy social and recreational advantages. Santa Ana encourages industry and its workers by providing economical factory sites with convenient home locations in the vicinity which are easily acquired. Restricted districts, unequaled educational advantages, social and civic activities, tend to impress upon workers the pleasures of citizenship.

The Industrial Era Is Pressing Upon Santa Ana

Trade and manufacturing bear a very close relation to population, and thus far California-made goods have not even begun to tap the consuming power of tremendously increasing numbers of people. The opportunities now before manufacturers, the nearness of raw material supplies, the economies of plant establishment, transportation facilities with the development of Orange County Harbor taking definite form, large areas of low-priced industrial land, plenty of water, cheap fuel and power, are reasons enough for the industrial movement toward Santa Ana.

vy Damage Reported at Mormon Flat Dam

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH]

HOENIX, Dec. 28.—Mountain fall, melting deep snows, has ed a rise in two days of about 000 acre feet in the water held he Roosevelt Reservoir, which dropped to 450,000 acre feet. A large additional acsession is expected, for the rains are continuing over much of Arizona. Almost unprecedented has been the precipitation in the Superstition Mountain region, in which the Apache Trail temporarly has been closed by the washing away of the tall bridge across Fish Creek.

DAMAGE REPORTED

The drainage into Salt River is reported to have swept much machinery from the Mormon Flat Dam construction work, where a rise of twelve feet was noted this morning, almost without warning. Upstream water at Mormon Flat is wholly cut off by the Roosevelt Dam. The damage done is said to be heavy, with consequent delay in completion of the lower dam.

The Verde River is at flood, pouring into Salt River above the Granite Reef diversion dam of the Salt River Valley system. The Verde gauge at Child's stood at seventeen feet and Salt River at Phoenix had raised ten feet, flooding Riverside Park and much low-lying ground. Little damage was reported. North of Phoenix the Cave Creek Dam saved inundation of the fair grounds.

RATE VICTORY SEEN

A victory of large importance is claimed by the Arizona Corporation Commission in an order of the Interstate Corporation Commission directing the railroads on February 24 to reduce main-line passenger tariff of 4.8 cents a mile to 3.6 cents in Arizona, New Mexico and Nevada. Assertion is made that a saving of $2,000,000 a year will thus be effected to the public in Arizona alone. The new rate from Phoenix to Los Angeles is figured at $16.24, a saving of $4.50. The rate case was instituted in 1916.

NOTICIAS MUNDIALES DE ULTIMA HORA

En obsequio a nuestros numerosos amigos de habla española, y para beneficio de los lectores americanos de "The Times" que estudien esa lengua, publicamos diariamente esta columna en castellano, con un extracto de las más importantes noticias de última hora.

Buena parte del futuro progreso de Los Angeles, que es la metrópoli de los Estados Unidos que más cercana se halla a territorio latino-americano, habrá de depender de las relaciones que logremos establecer con nuestras hermanas, las repúblicas del sur. Para que lleguen a ser enteramente cordiales, no hay nada tan importante como que nuestros ciudadanos se familiaricen con la lengua castellana. Tan se dan cuenta de este hecho nuestros habitantes, que hay al presente más de 25,000 personas que estudian español en Los Angeles. A ellas les conviene leer todos los días esta columna, en la que encontrarán español correcto y enteramente moderno.

NOTAS TELEGRAFICAS

Noticias de Washington

WASHINGTON, Diciembre 27.—Ha sido invitado el Presidente Coolidge para intervenir en la controversia intestina del Ku Klux Klan.

La comisión de presupuestos de la Cámara ha suspendido por una semana el estudio del proyecto de ley del ministerio de hacienda sobre impuestos.

El Diputado Newton, de Indiana ha escrito a los funcionarios federales y del distrito, pidiéndoles informes sobre el escándalo social que resultó del reciente raid de "bootleggers" en Washington.

Charles G. Dawes y Owen D. Young, que han sido designados peritos americanos para ayudar a que se equilibre el presupuesto alemán, conferenciaron con el Presidente Coolidge y con el Ministro Hughes.

El Contralmirante Moffett, jefe de la aviación naval, dijo en su informe anual que era deplorable la condición de las reservas navales en lo que mira a las fuerzas aéreas.

El Ministro americano en Honduras recibió instrucciones de notificar a los funcionarios responsables de dicho país que los Estados Unidos ven con disgusto cualquier tentativa de un gobierno para perpetuarse en el poder, si no es por legítimos procedimientos constitucionales.

Noticias de la Revolución Mejicana

EL PASO (Tejas) Diciembre 27. El Presidente Obregón está dirigiendo personalmente las operaciones de las fuerzas federales contra el General Enrique Estrada, y tiene confianza en que acabará por derrotar a los rebeldes, según se avisó hoy de la ciudad de Méjico al Cónsul General Ruiz.

Salió Obregón de la capital el día de Navidad, y su presencia en el campo ha levantado la moral de las tropas. Está ahora al frente de un gran número de tropas en el Estado de Guanajuato, y ha ordenado el avance general contra las posiciones rebeldes en las cercanías de Guadalajara, capital del Estado de Jalisco. Las tropas que manda el presidente incluyen los ejércitos de Joaquín Amaro y J. Gonzalo Escobar, generales brigadieres que han estado concentrando sus fuerzas en Irapuato y alistándolas para la ofensiva contra la fortaleza de los ejércitos rebeldes.

El Cónsul General Ruiz recibió noticia de una victoria de las fuerzas federales en el Estado de Guerrero, en la cual los insurrectos fueron batidos y dejaron muchos muertos en el campo.

El General Juan Andrew Almazán, al mando de una fuerza de caballería federal atacó a las fuerzas de de la Huerta en Tepeaca, cargando sobre ella obligando a los rebeldes a dispersarse, según dice el señor Ruiz. Fueron hechos 200 prisioneros en este encuentro.

Las fuerzas federales están aprovechándose de sus ventajas en Puebla y están atacando la retaguardia de los levantados, según se informa al señor Ruiz.

NOTAS LOCALES

En el Oeste se Hacen más Películas

El "estudio" de Lasky en Hollywood será vuelto a abrir el 7 de Enero próximo, con tres compañías productoras en la escena, y este número de unidades en pleno trabajo irá aumentando de semana en semana hasta tener finalmente doce compañías trabajando a un tiempo. Además, la Compañía Famous Players-Lasky no aflojará en su producción de Hollywood, en favor de la de Long Island, sino que hará aquí cuarenta cintas en 1924.

Jesse L. Lasky, primer vicepresidente de la compañía, que regresó ayer de un viaje de negocios a las oficinas de la compañía en Nueva York, desmintió inmediatamente de manera enfática las noticias publicadas en todas partes de que, en lo venidero, la Compañía Famous Players-Lasky haría el cuarenta por ciento de sus películas en el "estudio" de Long Island.

La verdadera proporción será de 25 por ciento solamente en el Este, y de 25 por ciento en el estudio de Hollywood, según manifesto el señor Lasky. "En 1924," agregó, "produciremos sesenta cintas. En este año hicimos cincuenta y dos".

Irene Swartz se Indispone en el Jurado

Habiéndose accidentado en medio de su testimonio, Irene Swartz, una de las testigos principales de acusación en el jurado de Edward H. Carlton, acusado del asesinato de Robert Magee, obligó al Juez Avery a suspender la vista varios minutos, mientras ella se recobraba.

La Swartz vivía con el acusado y la esposa de éste, que fue aprehendida por la policía poco después de los balazos, y que también está implicada en el asesinato. Vivían en una casa de viviendas de Wilshire. Dijo, con voz vacilante, que Carlton había llegado con gran prisa a su casa la noche de los tiros, aparentemente muy agitado; y, después de pasearse nerviosamente por algún tiempo, le ayudó a empaquetar sus maletas de mano, antes de salir de Los Angeles.

Agregó que Carlton convino con ella en que había habido algunos tiros en aquel sitio, pero sin decirle quien había disparado. Díjole tambien que había dejado a su esposa Jeanne en la casa él había brincado desde el segundo piso y había huído cuando llegó la policía.

Pláticas Diarias en Español por el Prof. R. Guerrero, del Departamento Español de "The Times"

II. Cuando la condicional se refiere al pasado, empleamos en la prótasis el pluscuamperfecto de subjuntivo, o sea las formas verbales compuestas correspondientes a las simples del primer caso; así: "si yo hubiera o hubiese temido"; y en la apódosis, las formas compuestas correspondientes a las simples del primer caso, o el potencial simple: "hubieras o habrías temido tú también, o temerías tú también". Si referimos nuestro ejemplo al pasado, diremos: "Si se hubieran o hubiesen suprimido estas cosas, Madrid hubiera o habría perdido el encanto". Otros ejemplos: "Tanto hubiera andado yo, si hubiera escogido en albricias los despojos de . . ." ("Quijote", II, 12); "Mira, Sancho, yo bien te señalaría salario, si hubiese hallado en alguna de las historias . . . ejemplo" (Ibid., II, 7).

Nota 1a—Nuestros clásicos empleaban también la forma en "ra" del imperfecto de subjuntivo, aun refiriendo la suposición al pasado; pero en ellos esta forma tiene valor de pluscuamperfecto; v.g., "Sancho dijo que si hiciera, si le dejara el temor" ("Quijote", I, 20). Hoy, en lenguaje llano, diríamos: "Sancho dijo que si habría o hubiera hecho, si le hubiera o hubiese dejado el temor".

Nota 2a—Una desiderativa de deseo irrealizable equivale a una prótasis condicional de condición imposible; v.g., "ojalá fuera (o fuese) cierto; más contento estaría yo".

Nota 3a—A veces se halla la forma "se" en la apódosis de estas condicionales, pero sólo en casos en que el período condicional depende de otro verbo, al cual se subordina; v.g., "Mandó a un capellán suyo que hablase con el loco y que si le pareciese que tenía juicio, lo sacase y pusiese en libertad" ("Quijote", II, 1). El "sacase" y "pusiese" depende de "mandó".

Respecto de este último ejemplo que cita la Gramática de la Academia como de "relación imposible", me permito respetuosamente hacer observar que, en mi humilde opinión, no debe clasificarsele en tal grupo, sino entre los de "relación contingente"; es decir, aquellos en que la condición puede realizarse, supuesto que no se desecha la posibilidad de que al capellán le parezca que el loco tiene juicio. Para convencernos de ello, no hay más que poner la frase en presente y en estilo directo, y pasar de ahí al estilo indirecto en presente y en pasado: "Habla con el loco y si te pareciere (o parece) que tiene juicio, sácalo y ponlo en libertad"; "Le manda que hable con el loco y que si le pareciere (o parece) que tiene juicio, lo saque y lo ponga en libertad"; "Le mandó que hablase con el loco y que si le pareciese, pareciera o parecía que tenía juicio, lo sacase y pusiese o sacara y pusiera en libertad". El período de que se trata no es, pues, sino un hipotético de "relación posible" en tiempo pasado.

La Gramática de la Academia cita este otro ejemplo de forma "se" en la apódosis: "Bonico soy yo para eso; mal me conoce; pues a fe que si me conociese, que me ayunase" (Quijote, I, 25). Esta sí es condicional de relación imposible, y en ella figura "ayunase" porque depende de la locución "a fe". Fuera de estos casos, no debe emplearse la forma en "se" en la apódosis condicional, ni decir, por lo tanto, como el vulgo de Aragón, "te hubiese avisado si hubiera recibido la noticia", sino "te hubiera o te habría avisado, etc". A este respecto hace algunas observaciones muy importantes el señor Bello, y de ellas hablaré en mi próxima Plática.

FRESNO FIRE CHIEF'S SALARY IS INCREASED

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH]

FRESNO, Dec. 27. — Taking cognizance of the fact that the services of Fire Chief Thomas B. Baird have been bid for by several other larger cities in the State, the City Commission today voted him an increase in salary from $3600 to $5000 a year. The increase, recommended by Finance Commissioner Thomas E. Risley, won by one vote. Commissioner Glen M. Devore and William Stranahan voted no, against Commissioner Risley, George Sharp and Mayor Truman G. Hart. The increase was urged by a delegation of business men, who presented a petition signed by between fifty and sixty prominent citizens, asking an increase for the Chief in recognition of his work. Chief Baird declared after the measure was passed that he would remain in Fresno in spite of tempting offers made by other California cities.

MAN IS ARRAIGNED IN CAR-FRAUD CASE

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH]

VISALIA, Dec. 27.—Clyde A. Lovett, San Francisco automobile dealer and former Tulare used-car merchant, who was arraigned before Justice Clack of this city yesterday on a charge of burning insured cars to obtain the money, is still confined in the Tulare County Jail here in lieu of $10,000 bail. Seven counts have been filed against Lovett, all charging similar offenses with attempt to defraud insurance companies. Lovett was acquitted in a previous trial and then moved to San Francisco. His wife recently sued for divorce charging him with being "notoriously dishonest."

HELD IN DIAMOND THEFTS

[BY A. P. DAY WIRE]

SANTA ANA, Dec. 27.—Two men and a woman were arrested here today on instructions from San Diego where they are said to be wanted in connection with a $1500 diamond robbery. They are Blanche Carlsbad, 27 years of age, Marie Hawes, 22, and William Hawes, 23.

TO RECEIVE BOOTH ARMY STAFF BAND

Local Officers Are Ready for Four-Day Visit of Musicians From Bay City

Reception plans for the welcome to be extended the Salvation Army staff band on its arrival here at noon tomorrow from San Francisco for a four-day visit were completed last night by Brig. C. R. Boyd, divisional commander of the Salvationists for Southern California and Ensign Kranz.

Following their arrival the thirty members of the band, accompanied on the trip by Col. W. J. B. Turner, chief secretary of the army for the western territory, and Mrs. Turner will be given a luncheon at the City Club.

Members of this band, which is one of the best known Salvation Army musical organizations in the country, are prominent in the professional and industrial life of San Francisco. They devote their spare time to the interests of the band. Most of the members are sons of Salvation Army officers.

The first big public concert to be given in this city by the band will start at 8 p.m. tomorrow at Choral Hall in Philharmonic Auditorium, Fifth and Olive streets. Other concerts will be given at 3 p.m., Sunday at Music Art Hall and 7:30 p.m., the same day by invitation of Rev. J. Whitcomb Brougher at Temple Baptist Church.

A schedule arranged for Monday provides for concerts beginning at 10:30 a.m., at Inglewood; noon at Torrance; 3 p.m., at San Pedro, and 8 p.m., at the Long Beach Auditorium. On Tuesday the band will participate in the Tournament of Roses parade at Pasadena. The return trip to San Francisco will be made Tuesday night.

Success of the various concert tours of the band has attracted wide attention in the last year. Under the leadership of Bandmaster Ensign Ernest Higgins, son of Commissioner E. Higgins of London, Eng., next highest ranking officer to Gen. Bramwell Booth, the band last summer visited many cities and towns in the Northwestern States.

MORE ACREAGE PUT IN COTTON

Outlook is for an Increased Crop Next Season

San Joaquin to Enter Lists in Real Earnest

Los Angeles Man Leads Fight for Mellon Tax Plan

Late estimates by cotton merchants who have traveled over the territory point to the planting of approximately 600,000 acres to cotton in the Pacific Southwest during the coming season, or nearly twice the 365,000 acres from which this year's crop was picked. The yield from this unprecedented acreage is forecast at 350,000 bales, an increase of about 62 per cent over the record amount harvested this season.

Merchants lately returned from the various growing sections report the land owners enthusiastic over the high returns received for this season's yield, and determined to increase their planting for the 1924-25 season. In California, including Lower California, estimates place the probable acreage for next season between 350,000 and 400,000 from which 250,000 bales are expected. This territory planted 240,000 acres last season and picked about 150,000 bales.

Considerable of the planting activity will occur in the San Joaquin Valley. From Fresno south to Bakersfield the acreage will practically triple, bringing the total to about 25,000, and capable of growing 30,000 bales compared to 10,000 in the season just drawing to a close.

Heavy increases are forecast for the Imperial Valley on both sides of the international boundary line. On the Mexican side it is estimated that 250,000 acres will go to cotton, and 75,000 on the American side, making a total for the valley of 325,000, a substantial gain over the amount planted for the 1923-24 season.

Predictions are that Arizona cotton growers will devote 200,000 acres to the plant, compared with 135,000 for the previous season, which should yield about 100,000 bales.

ALL IN FAVOR SAY "AYE"

As part of a nation-wide campaign to impress upon Congress the unqualified sentiment of the citizenry in favor of the Mellon plan of tax reduction, the Los Angeles Chamber of Commerce is asking the leading industrial organizations and chambers of commerce in the eleven western States to obtain signatures to a petition urging the members of Congress "to take an aggressive and persistent stand at this session for lower taxes, and for a more simple, efficient and economical government, along the lines recommended by the Hon. Andrew W. Mellon."

The petition was drawn up by the officers of the local Chamber of Commerce at the request of John P. Burke, vice-president of the First National Bank and regional director of the National Budget Committee. Mr. Burke has been asked by John T. Pratt, chairman of the National Budget Committee, to head the fight on the Pacific Coast, and in recognition of the leadership the local chamber took in the recent budget campaign. Mr. Burke has asked the same co-operation on the tax issue.

According to Mr. Pratt's communications to Mr. Burke, strong representations are being made in the East to Congress to pass the Mellon plan as presented. Some fears, however, are felt that possible tampering with the bill will destroy its effective features, and to forestall such action, the voters in favor of the Mellon proposals are being asked to record their emphatic approval, thereof.

From the national headquarters of the Joint Special Committee in charge of the tax campaign, the stockholders and employees of the large industrial corporations are being circularized. This petition says in part:

"Your officers believe that there must be substantial reductions in our Federal taxes in order to place the business of our country on a sound economic basis. The Mellon plan makes substantial reductions in the taxes of all. An important feature is that there be a substantial reduction in surtax rates. Bonds of our States, counties and cities are known as tax-free securities for the reason that the owner has no taxes to pay on the income derived therefrom. The consequence is that the States, counties and cities are in position to obtain money with comparative ease, thus leading to extravagance in public expenditures; while our great industrial companies which cannot issue tax-free securities find it difficult to secure the capital necessary for development and expansion except at high interest rates."

METAL MARKETS

Daily Review

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH]

CLEVELAND, Dec. 27.—Daily Metal Trade today says: "Chicago mills are selling heavier steel products more steadily but merchant bars are slower in moving. Detroit builders of automobiles resume active buying of sheets and strip steel as well as pig iron in line with enlarged production program for early delivery. Southern consumers of pig iron resume pig-iron buying in small lots for quick delivery and pay $21.50 at Birmingham furnace. Jobbers return to active buying of wire products but mills have smaller stocks than year ago. Copper is steady at New York at 13¼ cents. Zinc is firmer at 6.27½ cents and lead steady at 7⅜ cents, St. Louis. Tin is dull at 47⅝ cents."

DAILY TRADE TALK

Keep Politics Out of Business Is Urge of A. B. A.; Business Outlook for Nineteen Twenty-four

Take the office of bank superintendent out of politics is the burden of the annual report filed yesterday by the State bank division of the American Bankers' Association.

This report is of especial interest to California bankers because of its frank discussion of the relation of the superintendent, as well as the findings on credit conditions, with especial reference to the farming industry, one rather revolutionary sentence reading:

"Credit requirements (farming) now seem to be adequately provided for. There is a widespread belief that the farming industry has not suffered unduly in recent years from a lack of credit facilities. It is well known that in many communities just the opposite has been true, and farmers have readily admitted that credit was too easy to obtain."

The report favors co-operative marketing, and discusses the State banking problem. The following excerpts are presented as touching the high spots of the presentation:

"State bankers are vitally interested that the highest efficiency be maintained in the offices of all State banking supervisors and commissioners," the report says. "Therefore, we favor the divorce of bank supervisors from all other functions of State government to the end that commissioners and banking superintendents 'may devote their entire attention to the administration of banking affairs and bank examination.

"The tenure of office of banking superintendents should be made more certain and lasting and not subject to political change. Sufficient compensation should be paid to attract men of the best ability. We believe that men should be chosen for the examination service who have had a practical banking knowledge, preferably from actual banking experience."

Membership of State-chartered banking institutions in the Federal reserve system has again become a question of national interest and the State bank division will make this subject one of its prominent activities during the coming year, the report also says.

"A joint committee has been appointed by Congress to investigate the reasons underlying the fact that more State banks are not joining the Federal reserve system," it continues. "The State bank division approves the fundamental principles upon which the system is based, fully appreciates its proved effectiveness as a splendid stabilizing influence in maintaining the financial integrity of our country, and desires to render any assistance possible in curing existing defects to the end that its facilities may be made more widely available. A special committee of five members has been appointed by the president of the division to assist in compiling the information sought on this subject with authority to present the data obtained to the committee of Congress at a special hearing if deemed advisable."

FARM PROBLEMS

In regard to agricultural conditions, investigated by the farm finance committee of the division, the report says:

"It seems that a solution of the ills that beset the industry of agriculture at present must be sought elsewhere than in the realm of credit requirements. The economic situation in Europe has undoubtedly had much to do with throwing out of balance the inevitable relation between supply and demand, which has affected the farmer quickly and adversely. When the adjustment to normalcy is brought about, relief will be afforded by the supplying of an outlet for the surplus production of the farm.

"Probably the most promising avenue of relief for the industry just now is the establishment of co-operative marketing associations, not for speculative purposes, but for the orderly marketing of crops and other products. This plan has been and is being tried in various sections of the country with increasing success. If sanely conceived and wisely administered in accordance with recognized economic principles, the plan of co-operative marketing should speedily enable the farming industry to become master of its own destiny and take its rightful place among other great industries with the certain assurance to those engaged in it that they will receive a reasonable profit for their time and capital expended above the cost of production."

BUSINESS NEXT YEAR

In common with other expert reviewers the New York National Bank of Commerce casts a horoscope for continued good business in 1924. "The usual seasonal expansion may be expected during the spring months," says this bank's current discussion of conditions, which also sees for the year, as a whole, a satisfactory volume of business with reasonable profits.

"Whatever hesitancy prevails as to what is ahead," the reviewer continues, "seems in large measure to be due to the fact that merchants and manufacturers have acquired the habit of ordering in small quantities for immediate requirements. This condition is no justification for lack of business confidence for this policy makes for safety under prevailing high costs.

"The substitution of frequent small orders in place of large forward commitments is in considerable part the outgrowth of experiences in 1920. The tendency throughout the business community since that time has been to hold inventories down and to emphasize the importance of rapid turnover with considerable insistence on short-term credits.

"The change is also in part due to the fact that news of all kinds, including market news, now circulates with a freedom never before attained. Freight transportation is more efficient than it has been for some years. Since 1914 there have been notable increases in the capacity of many important industries, in some lines materially greater than present and prospective demand. Under these conditions the motive for ordering far in advance is lacking.

"The fact that consumers in the remotest areas of the country now insist that their purchases shall meet metropolitan standards is also a powerful influence tending toward a hand-to-mouth policy. The day has passed when merchants can order safely for a year or even for a half year's requirements. We have entered into a period of active competition when efficient organization, selling skill and economy in every direction are necessary if satisfactory profits are to be made."

TRADERS ARE BULLISH OVER COTTON OPTIONS

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH]

NEW YORK, Dec. 27.—Today's local cotton market opened with bullish enthusiasm still prevalent after yesterday's maximum rise of 100 points, and that rise was continued 30 to 40 points further before enough liquidation was encountered to halt the advance.

The first prices were 15 to 29 net higher on Liverpool's big rise overnight. Heavy profit taking caused a reaction, but toward mid-session sentiment improved, and on local speculative buying and short covering prices again firmed up for 30 to 40 points net gains. The latter trading was featured by another wave of realizing sales and this continued practically to the close, with last prices within 3 to 5 points of the low and net unchanged to 21 points lower on the day.

Spot cotton: The local market for spot cotton was quiet, 25 points decline, 37 cents for middling upland.

Southern spot market: Galveston, 35.90, 10 points decline; New Orleans, 36, 25 points advance; Savannah, 36, 25 points decline; Augusta, 35.25, 13 points decline; Memphis, 35.50, unchanged; Houston, 35.90, unchanged; Little Rock, 35.25, unchanged.

An Established Income Over a Period of Years Through Good Bonds

There are few, if any investments which have attached to them the equivalent of a certain number of dollars income over a definite period of years except good bonds. It is difficult to over-estimate the value of a dependable income for the future.

BRIGHT OUTLOOK FOR NEW YEAR

Reason to Expect Prosperity, but Watch Your Step

Los Angeles Economist in a Composite Review

Signs That Agriculture Has Touched Low Point

BY F. M. McGRATH,
Mentzer's Economic Service

The outlook for 1924 is auspicious. There is reason to expect prosperity, but reason for ultra-conservative watchfulness. Things change with remarkable celerity these days—not only in women's fashions, but in methods of doing things, and in ideas of business. The whole world has suffered economic derangement. It is full of uncertainty regarding politics. Some disgruntlement prevails. Some people want something new, but know not what they want. Particularly is that true of Europe, but fundamentally conditions on the continent grow stronger, as gold is recognized as the basis of exchange and work drives away the clouds of discontent.

The United States expended about $4,000,000,000 for building construction in 1922, more than $5,000,000,000 in 1923, and the prospect is for more than $4,250,000,000 in 1924. The automotive industry thrills with expected ordering of new cars, which in 1924 may approach the 4,000,000 sales of 1923. Rubber and oil depend much on automobile prosperity. So the prospects of the tire makers and petroleum refiners coincide with the expected prosperity in the motor-car industry.

There are many signs that agriculture has reached the low point in its economic cycle. It may take some time to rejuvenate from the deflation which has been in vogue, but agriculture is the fundamental business of the country, and farming conditions as a whole are not as bad as have been painted. That is proven by the increase of $1,250,000,000 in farm value produce over 1922, while mail-order houses have increased their sales by 30 to 50 per cent, and farm implement companies report gradual increase in ordering. Farm conditions will improve if the threatened tightening restriction on immigration does not make farm labor too difficult and expensive. Just now the tendency is toward closing America's doors, as did China some years ago. Will the effect here be the same as there? Think twice on immigration before you decide your position. Your [illegible] may be out of joint, but you can't do well without your nose.

Signs That Agriculture Has Touched Low Point

BY F. M. McGRATH,

Mentzer's Economic Service

The outlook for 1924 is auspicious. There is reason to expect prosperity, but reason for ultra-conservative watchfulness. Things change with remarkable celerity these days—not only in women's fashions, but in methods of doing things and in ideas of business. The whole world has suffered economic derangement. It is full of uncertainty regarding politics. Some disgruntlement prevails. Some people want something new, but know not what they want. Particularly is that true of Europe, but fundamentally conditions on that continent grow stronger, as it is recognized as the basis of exchange and work drives away the clouds of discontent.

The United States expended $4,000,000,000 for building construction in 1922, more than $5,000,000,000 in 1923, and the prospect is for more than $4,250,000,000 in 1924. The automotive industry thrills with expected ordering of new cars, which in 1924 may approach the 4,000,000 sales of 1923. Rubber and oil depend much on automobile prosperity. So the prospects of the tire makers and petroleum refiners coincide with the expected prosperity in the motor-car industry.

There are many signs that agriculture has reached the low point in its economic cycle. It may take some time to rejuvenate from the deflation which has been in vogue, but agriculture is the fundamental business of the country, and farming conditions as a whole are not as bad as have been painted. That is proven by the increase of $1,000,000,000 in farm value production over 1922, while mail-order houses have increased their sales 20 to 50 per cent, and farm implement companies report gradual increase in ordering. Farm conditions will improve if the proposed tightening restriction on immigration does not make farm labor too difficult and expensive. Just now the tendency is toward closing America's doors, as did Canada some years ago. Will the result here be the same as there? Think twice on immigration before you decide your position. Your nose may be out of joint, but you can't do well without your nose.

TAXING BUSINESS

The postoffice deficit, which we call taxation, has been reduced from $80,815,400 to $24,065,203, and the sale of postal service increased to $532,827,925 during the fiscal year. Forty-nine per cent of our imports and 30 per cent of our exports were carried in American bottoms. How much in taxation does the operation of the ships cost the people? The power to tax is the power to destroy. How long will the people tolerate taxation for business enterprise? The railroads saved the shippers of freight more than $500,000,000 less in 1923 than in 1922, while enhanced efficiency added $250,000,000 to the shippers' economy. You don't hear much about that because the railroads are poor advertisers, but that is better than $2,000,000,000 taxes to pay to deficits of twenty-six months of government operation.

There will be considerable ordering of cars and locomotives and road materials in 1924. Railroads must expand to keep the pace of the country's growing business. It is estimated that will require new capital of nearly $1,000,000,000 a year for ten years or more in addition to the normal expense of maintaining railroad plants. Slowly does co-ordination of transportation come to the fore. Therein lie stupendous prospects of transportation economies. The rails of the future may be long-distance wholesalers of transportation; the motor cars may be the short-haul retailers of traffic; the airplane may relieve the rails of expensive high-speed trains; the waterways may cut the expense of much slow-moving traffic.

WATCH YOUR STEP

In the market for shares there is uncertainty. Optimism has increased, but the times are kaleidoscopic, and margins of profit not good in many instances. You may find that out when the reports of oil operations begin to appear some weeks hence. Copper is in high esteem, not yet by speculators, but by prudent men who buy when prices are low and are willing to await with patience the turning of the tide. The capitalization of the coppers has not been so widely expanded as has that of the oils, but now the oils are more popular speculatively than the metals.

The outlook for 1924 is bright, if the public mind be not upset. The people now do more thinking than ever before, and it takes more oratory to disturb them than a decade ago. If optimism prevails, the Presidential election will not interfere with the job of earning a living, employment will be widespread, and profits from business enterprise fair, despite the fact that the long-distance trend of economic prices may be downward, and small inventories with quicker overturn are wise business practices.

COPPER EXPORT BODY READY TO DISSOLVE

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE]

NEW YORK, Dec. 27.—Dissolution of the Copper Export Association formed shortly after the war to dispose of surplus copper stocks, will take place early in January, it was learned today. Major producing interests will be segregated into the original selling units with foreign sales conducted independently by the various companies.

Experience—

OUR SALES DEPARTMENT consists of mature men, thoroughly trained and experienced in the bond business.

Each of our salesmen has had experience as executive head of his own business.

The head of our Sales Department has had over 25 years' experience in the bond business, 16 years of which have been devoted especially to Street Improvement Bonds.

The Department is organized with the desire of affording our clients every assistance possible in the selecting of their investments. We endeavor to ascertain the individual preferences of our clients and to provide securities to meet these needs.

We are now offering especially selected issues of Street Improvement Bonds and Road District Improvement Bonds yielding 6½ to 7½ per cent, with complete tax exemption.

We also offer some excellent opportunities in short-term investments yielding 8 per cent income.

BOND QUOTATIONS

Rise in Marland

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE]

NEW YORK, Dec. 27.—Bond prices moved somewhat irregularly in today's more active trading on the New York Stock Exchange. A sensational jump of more than 9 points by Marland Oil 8s with warrants featured the forenoon dealings. The bonds reacted about 4 points later in the day.

Railroad mortgages were easy, selling being particular effective in the St. Paul, Denver and Rio Grande and Seaboard Air Line issues. Washington dispatches stated that the St. Paul had been authorized by the Interstate Commerce Commission to issue $10,000,000 5 per cent general mortgage bonds, to be pledge as collateral for any notes it may issue.

There was evidence of renewed interest in public utilities bonds, several of which moved upward. While a wide assortment of industrial liens fell lower, some of the sugar, copper and packing companies' bonds recorded moderate advances.

Bankers reported a firm though slow market for new securities. It is understood several sizable issues are ready for offering soon after January 1.

NEW YORK, Dec. 27.—Following are the closing quotations on bonds listed on the New York Stock Exchange. Furnished by Logan & Bryan, 636 South Spring street.

NEW YORK CURB

Oil Profits Taken

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE]

NEW YORK, Dec. 27.—Further increases in crude prices brought fresh buying into the oil shares in today's curb market but extensive profit-taking set in before the close and final changes were of a mixed character.

Standard Oil of Indiana and Mutual Oil voting trust certificates, approximately 25,000 each of which changed hands during the day, were the individual features, but they showed little change on the day. Prairie Oil and Gas jumped 8 points, Penn Mex Fuel 5, South Pennsylvania Oil 4, and Magnolia Petroleum 2. Imperial Gas of Canada slipped 3 points and Standard Oil of Kentucky ½. Active industrials as a rule were heavy, Centrifugal Cast Iron Pipe dropping 2 points and Stutz Motors 1⅛. Gold Dust Corporation gained slightly.

Trading in the mining stocks was confined largely to the penny issues with unimportant fluctuations in prices.

Following are the closing quotations on the New York Curb market. Furnished by Logan & Bryan, members of the New York Stock Exchange, 636 South Spring street.

Progress

AS the year draws to a close, the great strides made by Los Angeles and the entire Southwest—in industrial expansion, in increased agricultural production, in municipal and harbor improvements—are a source of pride to every citizen.

This progress was made possible by the steady flow of investment capital.

This institution, through the purchase and sale of millions of dollars worth of highest grade bonds, substantially aided the wonderful growth of this community and its industries.

The same policies of conservative co-operation that have characterized the activities of the Citizens National Bank the past thirty-four years will be maintained in the future.

We look forward to 1924 with the utmost confidence—we will strive to make it even more prosperous than 1923.

Established for a Third of a Century — Assets Over $7,800,000

Reinvest January Money Without Loss of Interest

The safest, surest way to get a maximum yield from your money is to keep it working every minute. If you have dividends or other money coming due this January, arrange to reinvest with us at once so you will not lose a day's interest.

Our Investment Certificates have stood the test of more than a third of a century without the loss of a single dollar to investors. We have never failed to pay every demand when due. Such a record eliminates every worry and assures you of a safe return from your money.

Tax Exempt

The 6%, payable semi-annually, is made the more liberal because it is exempt from State, County and Municipal taxes. Your money is not only perfectly safe, but is easily available. You can draw out your entire investment any time after the first year with interest in full.

These Certificates are issued in any multiple of $100. Call or write for information.

BUILDING GOES ON IN WINTER

Labor Conditions Favorable; Costs Still High

Price Level Remains Stable for New Year Start

Construction Standard and Quality Lowered

BY ARTHUR D. WALTON

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH]

[Copyright, 1923, Public Ledger.]

CHICAGO, Dec. 27.—Among the large building enterprises scheduled for beginning in 1924 are a new hotel on the site of the Palmer House and an addition to the Congress Hotel. The latter is to cost $22,000,000 and the former only a little less. There is some uncertainty about the time of beginning in both cases, although the architects are at work. Building costs are causing much hesitation. The Chicago Tribune's tower, the plans for which brought $100,000 in prizes to the architects, is in much the same position. The foundation is under construction, but bids for the superstructure will be opened January 15 and the continuation of the work will depend on the figures presented.

There has been no halt in the work on the many large building enterprises under way. Weather conditions have been continuously favorable and the winter building program is hurried on as vigorously as if it were summer. The situation is similar in regard to home building in the suburbs as well as in the city. There has been noted some reluctance to begin new work, but in most instances the promoters surrender after study of price and labor conditions and propects.

Labor conditions in the building industry in Chicago have never been more peaceful. There is an unfilled demand for good workmen, but those of moderate skill are plentiful enough to keep those employed concerned about their jobs. Wages are at a general average of $1.25 an hour for a forty-four-hour week. Bonuses are paid often. Plasterers and bricklayers are getting higher wages regularly. There is no prospect of reduced wages. So long as there is peace it will be a bold contractor or organization who will do anything to suggest a change.

If the students of the business cycle are right there is in prospect no particular variation from the prevailing price level. There may be small flunctuations in the average. The indications are for small advances rather than recessions. The present is probably the best time to secure favorable building figures, contractors say. By March the price trend for the year will have declared itself. If it indicates or accords with a continuation of the expansion stage of the cycle those contemplating buildings may have to pay for their delay.

The general price situation is now of the greatest interest. For several months there have been small changes in the general price level. There came to realization a condition of price stabilization and the business world was not greatly pleased with it. Apparently, price fluctuations are popular. In boom times, with prices rising, profits come easily and it requires a minimum of care in supervision to win success. When prices are stable or declining the business man has worries. Then he must look sharply after his costs and expenses. Such a condition calls for everything that skill, foresight and experience have to offer. Frequently it is not enough and failures multiply.

Building, however, calls for a high grade of business judgment. A great building is a huge production job and, however great the skill and experience that may be applied, each piece of work has its own peculiarities. It is easy to waste many thousands of dollars. Buildings are also permanent. The low one, built at high cost, has the advantage of newness, but it is nevertheless in competition with others built when prices were much lower. A new office building in Chicago will cost nearly double what one of the same dimensions cost ten years ago and it will be without many of the decorations and attractions which were usual in older buildings. Many of the older buildings have interiors which are considered out of the question today. The standard has been lowered.

The standard of quality in dwellings and apartments has also been lowered. Paint and plaster are substituted for cabinet woods and everything is cut to fit the high prices. Structurally, the new buildings comply with the requirements of the building code, but they do not more than get by. The story is told that the proud owner of a new home leaned against a wall and fell through. And yet the wall was without wood. It might not have been called fireproof if it had been of old-fashioned wood, but it would have had more resistance.

LOS ANGELES EXCHANGE

In common with the oil shares on the "big board," the leading stocks in the petroleum group on the Los Angeles Stock Exchange turned reactionary after momentary strength at the opening. United States Royalties led the decline, starting at 39 and finishing 6 cents lower at 33 cents.

General Petroleum common was the outstanding exception. Transactions hovered around 38 throughout the day, and the closing sales found the stock at that point, or a gain of 1-8 of a point over the previous session. Standard Oil of California began the morning session ot 63 5-8, but under the wave of profit-taking, slid off to 63 1-4, or a loss of 3-4 of a point from the previous day. Union of California at 114 was off the same amount, and Union Associates lost 3-8 at 51½.

In the mining list, Tom Reed advanced 1½ cents to 52½, with sales at 53. Telluride sold at 20, and closed at 19½, up ½. Oatman United transactions were executions at 5 cents, and Gold Dust at 4½.

At a final price of 97 1-4, San Diego Gas and Electric 6s of 1939 were up 1-4 of a point. San Joaquin series "C" 6s of 1950 climbed ½ to 97 1-4, and Union of California registered the same increase to 99 1-4.

"THE HUB OF LOS ANGELES"

$400,000

Financial Center Building FIRST MORTGAGE 7% SERIAL GOLD BONDS

Exempt from California Property Tax

This issue of bonds will be a first closed mortgage against the leasehold estate and building, which has been appraised for us as having a value of $1,071,727.00, or approximately $2600.00 in security for each $1000.00 bond outstanding. This value, in our opinion, is conservative, in view of the admirable location of the property, which is particularly adaptable for a high class of tenants.

The property and rental values in this locality are definitely established, and the permanence of the section for many years to come is indicated by the fact that within the radius of one block is located offices of eight of the City's largest banks.

The building will be of the most modern office and loft building design, with open-air exposures on four sides, thus assuring ample light and ventilation.

Based upon present leases, the total estimated NET income of the property will be NINE TIMES the greatest annual bond interest requirements, and FIVE TIMES the combined maximum charges for interest and principal retirements.

Beginning December 1, 1923, the Company must deposit with the Trustee on the tenth of each month one-twelfth of the amount of interest and principal due for the ensuing year.

MATURITIES: June and December 1st, 1925 to 1939.

This issue of bonds is protected through customary safeguards, such as adequate insurance, title guarantee, corporate trusteeship, and the approving legal opinion of Messrs. Gibson, Dunn & Crutcher, and Loewenthal, Collins & Loewenthal, as to the legality of the issue.

$10,000,000

Public Service Company of Northern Illinois

First Lien and Refunding Mortgage 5½% Gold Bonds, Series A

Dated June 1, 1922 Due June 1, 1962

Price 92 and Interest, Yielding about 6.05%

Interest payable June 1 and December 1 without deduction for Normal Federal Income Tax now or hereafter deductible at the source, not in excess of 2%. Coupon bonds in interchangeable denominations of $1,000, $500 and $100, registerable as to principal only, and fully registered bonds in denominations of $1,000 or $5,000. Application will be made to list these bonds on the Chicago Stock Exchange.

For detailed information regarding these bonds, attention is directed to a letter of Mr. Samuel Insull, Chairman of the Board of Directors of the Company, from which the following is summarized:

TERRITORY: The Public Service Company of Northern Illinois operates in fifteen counties, surrounding Chicago, in the northeastern part of Illinois. This territory includes the suburban district tributary to Chicago, also one of the best manufacturing sections in the United States.

SECURITY: The mortgage under which these bonds are issued will be secured, in opinion of counsel:

(a) by a first mortgage collateral lien on a power plant designed to be the principal generating unit of the system

(b) by pledge of $19,308,000 par value of the Company's First and Refunding Mortgage Gold Bonds

(c) by a direct mortgage lien on all of the Company's physical property now owned or hereafter acquired.

STOCK EQUITY: These bonds precede 100,000 shares of outstanding Preferred Stock, paying $6 per share per annum and 198,711 shares of outstanding Common Stock, paying $7 per share per annum, having a combined market value, as indicated by recent quotations, of over $28,900,000.

EARNINGS: For the year ended December 31, 1922, gross, $14,225,115.82 and net, before depreciation $5,007,865.33. Earnings for the calendar year 1923 will be the largest in the Company's history. Gross and net earnings will show an approximate increase over those for 1922 of from 14% to 17%. The annual interest on the entire Funded Debt of the Company in the hands of the public, including these bonds, requires $2,593,110.

MANAGEMENT: The management is in the hands of experienced public utilities men, who have built up for the Company a well-established and growing business, as is evidenced by the increasing popularity of its service.

These Bonds are offered for delivery when, as and if issued and accepted by us and subject to approval of counsel. Temporary bonds or interim receipts exchangeable for definitive bonds, will be ready for delivery on or about January 3, 1924, at the office of Halsey, Stuart & Co., Inc. All statements herein are official or are based on information which we regard as reliable, and while we do not guarantee them, they are the data upon which we have relied in the purchase of this

MARKET REVIEW

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH]

NEW YORK, Dec. 27.—When Wednesday had set so wholly unexpected a pace for speculative activities on nearly all the markets, today's movement of prices was awaited with particular interest. If the stock market and the cotton market had continued to sweep upward and the franc downward, Wall street would have believed itself to be in the presence of a year-end demonstration of much significance. But the markets had another story to tell. On the Stock Exchange and the Cotton Exchange, the speculators who had been bidding up prices Wednesday were selling today and both markets yielded under their sales.

The reaction in stocks was general; it extended to 2 and 3 points in many shares, and a moderate recovery at the end left substantial net declines for the day. Even the "averages" showed at today's lowest figure a loss of 1 1-4 from Wednesday's highest, whereas Wednesday's advance had averaged 3-4 point. The reaction of today had no connection with anything in the news; for the rise in call money rates to 6 per cent was neither unexpected nor significant of a changd situation, and nothing else happened which could affect the market. The day's one side light on the industrial position, the report of railway carloadings for the second week of December, was extremely favorable. Total loadings decreased from recent weeks, as they always do in December; but the 899,522 cars sent out exceeded the same week in 1922 by more than 20,000 and were nearly 100,000 beyond the corresponding period in any other year.

The reversal of form on the stock market from the day preceding was no less emphatic than the reversal in foreign exchange. The franc, which on Wednesday, went below 5 cents, rose to 5.13 today, thereby cancelling all of the loss incurred since Friday. In London and Paris its recovery was equally rapid. It is conceivable that the influence vaguely known as "government support" had a hand in the day's movement but there had been abundant evidence of reckless operations by the international "bear speculators" in exchange, who plunged as wildly in the market for Europe's depreciated currencies nowadays as the Goulds and Fisks used to plunge in the New York "gold market" of the '60's. Today's market did not indicate that the "bear account" had been closed out. Sterling and lire advanced with francs, though at a respectful distance. It was once more noticeable that the German mark remained motionless in this perturbation of other rates.

Slight Recessions

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE]

NEW YORK, Dec. 27.—Heavy profit taking, a renewal of selling in some of the cheaper issues for the purpose of establishing income-tax losses and sporadic short attacks against some of the recent speculative favorites imparted a reactionary tone to today's stock market after an opening period of moderate strength. The biggest losses were sustained by the stocks which recently have recorded the largest gains, notably National Lead, Corn Products and Cuba Cane Sugar preferred, off 2½ to nearly 3½ points on the day.

Announcement of further increases in crude prices, particularly in the Gulf Coast and Mid-Continent fields, was offset somewhat by the weekly report of the American Petroleum Institute showing a slight increase in crude production for the week ending the 22nd inst. after a fairly long string of reductions. The principal dividend developments of the day were the raising of the annual rate on Associated Drygoods from $4 to $5 and the declaration of the regular quarterly dividend of 75 cents on Moon Motors, an extra of 25 cents having been declared in the previous quarter.

Call money went to 6 per cent for the first time since the early part of October. The higher rate was generally construed as indicating the withdrawal of balances from New York by interior institutions for the purpose of meeting year-end interest and dividend payments. The time money market was quiet with business practically on a 5 per cent basis for all dates. Prime commercial paper continues to command 4 3-4 per cent.

In the stock market declines of a point or so were quite general among the steels, equipments, motors, sugars, tobaccos and foods. The rail stocks held relatively firm on a small volume of trading.

The unexpected increase in Mid-Continent crude prices developed a fair demand for Cosden, Marland, Sinclair and Phillips. Top prices were shaded in each case but with the exception of Marland, all closed at small fractional losses on the day. Pacific Oil was pushed up above 52, but slipped a point from its high price before the close.

Rumors of extra dividends were held responsible for the temporary show of strength in American and Lima Locomotives. Associated Drygoods broke more than 3 points on profit taking following the declaration of a higher dividend. Moon Motors also lost a point on the announcement of dividend action.

U. S. Steel fluctuated within a range of 1 point, closing 3-8 lower at 97 3-8. Baldwin was off a point at 125 and Studebaker was off 2 at 105 7-8. American Can closed fractionally lower at 104 1-8.

A sharp rally in French francs which climbed 10 points to 5.12½ cents was the feature of the higher foreign exchange market. Demand sterling was up half a cent at $4.34 9-16. Other changes in the principal European currencies were of a nominal nature.

Total stock sales 1,298,400 shares. Twenty industrials averaged 94.97. Net loss .64. High 1923, 105.38. Low 85.76. Twenty railroads averaged 82.60. Net loss .27. High 1923, 90.51. Low 79.53.

Early Break in Wheat Caused by Liquidation

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH]

CHICAGO, Dec. 27.—December wheat dropped to 6 cents under May at one time and closed at 5⅝c under, as the result of scattered liquidation. The deferred deliveries received good support, however, and finished only ⅜@⅝c lower for the day, while the December was off 1⅛c at the last. Corn, however, showed stubborn resistance to pressure and gained ¼@⅜c, with oats ⅛c lower to ⅛c higher, and rye ⅜@⅝c lower.

Trading in grains was mainly of a holiday character, and at times the market was very quiet. A vote on a proposed amendment to the rules of the Board of Trade, seeking to restrict private wire activities, also had some effect in reducing trade. The amendment was defeated by a vote of 671 to 154. The greater part of the news was again of a bearish character, with Argentine wheat offered for near-by loading at equal to 7@8c under No. 2 hard and No. 1 Manitoba, c.i.f. Europe. The actual price at which the grain was offered figured out equal to 1.04⅝ per bushel at Atlantic ports for No. 2 hard.

Continued unfavorable weather over the corn belt, with all messages from the West and Northwest indicating that the country was not selling, and an upturn of ¼@½c in the basis in the sample market, combined to induce some short covering and bulls were more disposed to take hold. The trade was surprised, however, when official receipts were posted, showing arrivals of 358 cars, compared with early estimates of 135 cars. This big difference was due to a clean-up on several roads, mainly the Northwestern. December finished at 69⅝c and May, 73⅝c.

A little export business was developed in the last few days, with sales of around 175,000 bushels, via the Gulf. Local cash handlers sold 220,000 bushels to go to store with deliveries of 325,000 bushels.

Elevator interests were moderate sellers of May oats early. Prices averaged higher, however, although the finish was about the bottom. Eastern demand is still slow and little change is looked for until after the holidays. The arrivals were sixty-three cars.

Rye was dull and easier in sympathy with wheat. The Northwest was a moderate seller, while a local house bought May rye and sold corn at ⅛c premium for the rye.

Re-invest for Safety

IN planning the re-investment of your January funds, are you giving first consideration to SAFETY?

Nothing else can give you such complete satisfaction as the knowledge that your funds are absolutely safe and secure.

Nor is it necessary to make any important sacrifice of yield.

The Guaranteed First Mortgage Certificates of the Mortgage Guarantee Company yield 6% and are free from taxes in California.

These Certificates embody the fundamental principle of diversification in its most effective form. Each series of Certificates is secured by a diversified group of first mortgages which in no instance exceed fifty per cent of the sound appraisal values of the pledged properties.

Every loan is protected by a full guaranty of title and is subject to State supervision.

In addition to all other safeguards, these Certificates are absolutely guaranteed as to both principal and interest by the Mortgage Guarantee Company with its resources of more than $25,000,000—the largest institution of its kind in the United States outside the city of New York.

Issued in denominations of $100 and multiples thereof. No coupons to clip. Interest checks mailed promptly on due dates.

OIL NEWS

BY HOWARD C. KEGLEY

While the J. E. O'Donnell organization is making preparations to clean out and perhaps slightly deepen its No. 6 gusher at Rideout Heights, which came in barefooted late Saturday as a 1000-barrel producer, several other companies are mapping out plans for drilling in that vicinity early in the new year.

Among the organizations which hold leases in the immediate vicinity of this well are the Petroleum Midway Company, Mascot Oil Company, United Oil Company, Union Oil Company, Clark Oil Company, Argonaut Oil Company and General Petroleum Corporation. The latter holds three pieces of property in that vicinity and the Petroleum Midway Company holds three.

Last night it was reported that the O'Donnell No. 6 is holding up in fine shape. There is a short piece of hole at the bottom which has no casing. The drillers will perhaps go down a little below the present depth, and then finish casing the hole, official reports said yesterday.

In Oil Sand

The Lincoln Oil Syndicate's No. 1 well in the Signal Hill field is down 4586 feet in oil sand, it is reported by drillers, and is standing with three-inch casing cemented through perforations at 3900 feet. After drilling through the shoe the well will be drilled to the bottom of the oil sands before any attempt is made to put it on production, it is reported.

Casing Trouble

Drillers are milling at 725 feet in the Mutual Oil Association's well in the Signal Hill field, according to officials of the Pacific Drilling Company, which has the contract to complete the well. The hole was drilled to about 4400 feet, but due to parting of the casing no attempt was made to put it on production.

Standing Cemented

Lomita No. 12 well in the Lomita field, owned by Dabney, Colter & Delaney, is standing with the 8¼-inch casing cemented at 3535 feet, it is reported by drillers.

A second well is planned by this syndicate on the Encinas lease in the Long Beach field, it is asserted, and the derrick is already up. Actual drilling will be started as soon as possible. These interests already have one well, the Matzke No. 1, on production in the Long Beach field, producing 525 barrels daily, officials report.

Biltmore in Shape

The Biltmore Oil Company's well in the Torrance field, located near the edge of the field, about one and one-half blocks north of Carson road, is cemented at about 3550 feet, according to officials of the company. Cementing was completed Tuesday night, and the shoe will be drilled through some time next week, it is said.

Start New Well

The Prudential Petroleum Company is preparing to start drilling a well in the Torrance field on Acacia street, between Narbonne and Pennsylvania avenue, it is reported by officials of the company. A crew is now engaged in clearing the location for the erection of a derrick, which will start immediately. The well will be spudded in about January 1, it is said.

Hope Slight

The St. Helen's Petroleum Corportaion's Garnier well in the Puente district, two miles east of Puente, is standing cemented at 5284 feet, it is reported by officials of the company. The plug will be drilled out in a few days, and it is said that there is little likelihood of drilling being resumed.

The showings at the lower depths have been slight, it is reported, and give small hope of production. This well is located about a mile westward of the Rancho de la Puente well, which was started recently by the Jameson interests, but is believed to be on a separate structure.

The St. Helen's organizations' P.N.B. No. 3 well in the Montebello field is to be deepened to increase production, it is reported. The hole is now 4300 feet deep, and no definite limit to the deepening operations has been set.

A considerable program of repairing and cleaning out of old wells on holdings of the St. Helen's company is to be started immediately, it is said.

Tests Not Encouraging

Adverse reports have been received from three test wells being drilled in so-called extensions of the Santa Fe Springs field. The Standard Oil Company's test well on the Houghton lease is fishing at 5174 feet and has failed to secure indications of production.

The Commercial Oil and Refining Company test being drilled in the southeast section of the field has suspended operations for a time. This hole is down 5174 feet and is in hard sand with little show of production.

The Luneta Oil Company has sounded the death knell of its test hole, drilled in the extreme southeast section of the field by ordering the 4½, 6 1-4 and 10-inch casing pulled. This hole was drilled 5058 feet deep and a test back in the 2500-foot zone proved futile. The company obtained a permit some time ago to abandon this hole.

Standard Completes Two

Two small wells have just been placed on production by the Standard Oil Company in the Santa Fe Springs field. Both were drilled to the Meyer sand. The South Whittier Community No. 18, after being drilled 4618 feet deep, flowed about 190 barrels of oil which tests 34.9 deg. gravity. Sanchez No. 1-A, which was drilled 4731 feet deep, made 150 barrels of 34 deg. gravity oil.

Pumper is Possible

If heavy oil sand is not struck soon in the well of the Orange Community Oil Association at Orange the hole can be plugged back and a 200-barrel pumper can be brought in, it was declared yesterday by drilling officials.

The Orange outfit has decided to go on down, possibly to the 5000-ofot mark in the hope of securing a better well, directors say.

The Penn Drilling Company, which started a well near Orange, has suspended activity at least temporarily, reports say.

Those in charge of drilling the Orange Community well say that the log has tallied almost exactly with that of the Chapman Discovery well in the Richfield-Placentia field.

May Make Test Soon

The Oakridge Oil Company's test well in the outer section of the Santa Fe Springs field is being prepared for its second production test. The well is down to 4700 feet and the drillers are locating the water. It is being plugged back and a string of four and one-half-inch casing is being run in. This well is located near Bandini Station, west of Santa Fe Springs, on Telegraph Road.

LOS ANGELES CLOSE

CATTLE—Light receipts continued to be the bullish factor in the local cattle trade and the handful that arrived met with an early clearance. Run included a two-car lot of fed Canadian steers from Calgary, average 1246 pounds, of good quality but could have been a little better finish, that cleared at 9.00, establishing a record price for the week, while grass steers of medium quality, average 916 pounds, sold at 4.60, with another part load average 669 pounds at 5.60. Steer prices were quoted as strong to a little higher winding out an upturn of close to 50c as compared with the close of last week. Supply of killing she stock, bulls and calves was too limited to give basis for comparison.

HOGS—The 9.00 hog arrived here today, practically all the supply consisting of good and choice butchers, 160 to 200 pounds, clearing at that figure. According to most salesmen the deal was quotable as fully 40 cents higher, but it must be remembered that the run at hand included nothing in the way of packing grades or undesirable light pigs. Eastern markets, where receipts were liberal showed a lower turn to prices.

SHEEP—No change was noted in the market for sheep and lambs. No fresh receipts were included.

Flaxseed

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH]

DULUTH, Dec. 27.—There was a weak tone in the flaxseed market around the opening here today, but after the early selling, pressure had been removed trading became more steady, with considerable irregularity in prices, December and May advancing a small fraction, while losses of about the same amount were registered in January and February. Closing: December 2.36⅝; January 2.36⅝; February 2.33; May 2.37⅝; track 2.36⅝@2.40⅝; arrive 2.37⅝.

MINNEAPOLIS—Flax demand fair. No. 1 seed on spot quoted at 2.37½@2.40; to arrive at 2.37½@2.40. Receipts 13 cars; last year 29 cars. Shipments 4 cars, last year 7 cars.

DAILY MARKET LETTER OF THE NEW YORK COMMERCIAL

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH]

NEW YORK, Dec. 27.—Many rumors regarding sales of prunes on spot at low prices, are heard in the local market. Oregons are reported to have sold at 11 cents on 30s; 6½ on 40s and 4¼ cents on 50s. Sales of Californias at low prices on the smaller sizes are reported, but details are lacking.

While buying of independent raisins is dull on outside packs and prices are easy the demand for association brand of cartons continues good, according to the local office. Buying for Coast shipment has been done here during the past week and additional business on Coast shipment raisins is anticipated in the near future.

While trading in the spot canned foods market continues quiet both locally and for immediate cannery shipment, there is considerable interest in offerings on future contracts with the swells question still of outstanding importance.

WAREHOUSE CONTRACTS

Some canners have instructed their brokers to refuse absolutely to solicit or submit business on the graduated percentage plan and say they will book only on warehouse plan contracts. Others advise their brokers not to seek business on graduated percentage contracts, but to submit any propositions made by buyers regarding purchases in which the percentage agreement must replace the zonal warehouse plan.

One favorite resort which has been noted in several instances is the increasing of the cash discount from 1½ to 2 per cent, ten days, with the usual clause governing swells stricken out. Some buyers are refusing to accept contracts of this character insisting that the acceptance of the graduated percentage plan by the canner must be written into the actual document.

The sale of imported lemons today comprising 2500 boxes from warehouse and about 1900 from S.S. Tokofuku Maru was characterized by importers as one of the most disastrous in the history of the trade. The fruit was of poor quality, showed considerable waste and was shrunken and shriveled. One lot sold at 5 cents, the bulk of the offerings sold at 10 to 30 cents and a few lots sold at 40 and 65 cents per box.

FLORIDA ORANGES

Florida's oranges met with a good demand and the market was 37½ cents to 50 cents higher. There were twenty cars sold at a range of $1.75 to $7.88. Grapefruit was strong and higher in spots, ten and one-half cars selling at $1.88 to $6.75 per box; tangerines were higher, two and one-half cars being sold at $1.38 to $5.75 per box.

California oranges steady, eleven cars selling at an average of $2.40 to $5.88 per box; California lemons were about 15 cents lower, three cars being sold at $3.04 to $4.26 on the average range.

Strawberries ranged anywhere from 65 cents to $1 per quart. Apples were about steady on fancy but lower on ordinary.

SUGAR FUTURES

Traders in raw sugar futures were apparently less apprehensive over the outcome of the Cuban strike. But a holiday spirit still lingered over the futures market which opened unchanged to 3 points lower today. Coincident with reports of a large increase in the number of mills in operation in Cuba the selling of futures was more aggressive than the buying so that at noon net losses of 2 to 4 points had been suffered and shortly afternoon the decline amounted to 4 to 5 points and during the last hour prices were 1 to 7 points net lower. About 13,000 tons changed hands. January and March contracts were switched at 69 points. The day's net loss was 4 to 11 points.

Offers of Porton Rican raw sugars were made at 7.03c, c.i.f., for January, and a Philadelphia refiner secured 15,000 bags at this price, which works out to 5 1-4c, cost and freight, for Cubas. Offering prices stood at 5 7-16c, cost and freight, for Cubas for the first half of January shipment. Cables from London reported an irregular market for white sugar, December being 1d, while the forward positions were 1½ to 3d lower. The Paris white-sugar market was 3 to 5 francs lower.

COFFEE MARKET

On call coffee futures were 2 to 10 points net higher, with sellers scarce. Subsequently there was heavy profit taking, which depressed prices to the extent of 5 to 10 points in the case of May and March. Interests with European connections were reported to be selling July, September and December, while later shorts covered March and May. September showed a steady appreciation from 8.65c to 8.69c until noon, when on buying reported to be for the account of a coffee exchange house, the price touched 8.70, and later on, with sales of a block amounting to about 2500 bags, it touched the day's high of 8.73c. A sale of 1000 bags of Rio 7s went at 10c, cost and freight. A fair business was in progress in spot coffees and prices were 1-8 to 1-4c higher at 10 3-4c for Rio 7s and 15 to 15½c for Santos 4s. Today's turnover in futures amounted to 30,000 bags, including switches from March to September at a difference of 104 points. The list closed up 2 to 11 points.

The New York coffee and sugar exchange will remain open for trading Monday, the 31st inst. the board of managers having declined to grant the petition of members to close the exchange that day.

TEA MARKET

The business in teas appears to be principally of a hand to mouth order. This is not unnatural for this season of the year when the majority of firms are engaged in inventory taking and are showing scant desire to take on additional supplies. The trade has the utmost confidence in the future position of the market inasmuch as the statistics of the tea position have never been stronger.

The disinclination of buyers to take on more stock of rice than they actully need, particularly now that the inventory period lies just ahead, serves to keep the rice market in rather quiet shape. All varieties of foreign were steady.

Trade in beans was very slow this morning and prices about unchanged. The receipts are moderate.

The butter market retains with ease all the firm features which have been in evidence all week. There has been continued good demand for fancy table grades and extras in the creamery class readily were 100 tubs extra creamery, 25.

EGGS STRONG

The egg market showed increased strength on fresh eggs and with good demand and moderate supplies prices were easily advanced 2 cents a dozen. White eggs are steady and selling well. Trade in storage eggs for December delivery is confined exclusively to longs and shorts who have contracts.

Pacific Coast white extras, 55@57½; extra firsts, 52@54; firsts, 49@51.

There has been little or no copper sold during the past week but prices are fairly well maintained. The 13-cent price has been extended to take in January and possibly February shipment, while 13 1-8c for electrolytic delivered still rules for anything later. The London exchange opened today after the holidays, and the only price change was in standard futures which advanced 2s 6d to £62, 7s 6d. Standard spot was unchanged at £1, 10s; electrolytic spot still held at £61, 5s and futures £68, 5s.

Premium prices are still being paid for lead for early delivery, as high as 8 1-4c New York being named, although the leading interest still names 7.40c as the contract price. The St. Louis base seems to be about 7 3-4c. London reported spot as declining 2s 6d to £30, 10s, while futures held firm at £29, 15s.

ZINC ADVANCING

Zinc has been advancing from 6.25 to 6.30c St. Louis for several days and was definitely established at the higher level by several sales today. In London spot advanced 5s to £32, 17s 6d but futures held unchanged at £33.

The market for prompt deliveries of tin here held firm but futures declined 1-4c while in London the list opened after the holidays with advances ranging from 5s to 10s. London cables standard spot as advancing 10s to £235, 10s; futures 5s to £236, 15s, straits 10s to £237, 10s. Straits in Singapore advanced to £239 c.i.f. London Monday but reacted for a loss of 10s today.

It was announced today that the Texas Company has changed crude oil prices and gravities in Mid-Continent district to correspond with those in North and Central Texas, these changes resulting in an advance of 10 to 15 cents a barrel in Oklahoma prices. In addition the Texas Company advanced crude oil prices in North Louisiana, including Caddo, Desoto, Bull Bayou, Crichton and Smackover grades, 15 cents a barrel.

BOND MARKET

Tax selling was more in evidence in the bond market, in as much as there are just two sessions and one short session before the wind-up of the year. The speculative lower-priced rails and industrials came in for considerable selling, though Libertys and a scattering of foreign loans closed lower for the day. Our government's issues were quiet, last prices ruling 1-32 to 1-16 lower with the single exception of the Treasury 4 1-4s which were up 1-16 in thin trading.

The rally in the franc despite the further increase in the bank of France note circulation this week, served to stiffen the market in the French government bonds. British bonds were irregular as were the Belgians.

The slump that engulfed some of the speculative rails sent down the D. & R. G. and Frisco issues. On the other hand the B. & O.

hours after he had arrived and told his wife how was in New York he went Zilla. He was buzzing and forgiveness. He'd ; he'd do things, vague but highly benevolent things, for Zilla; he'd be as generous as his friend, Seneca Doane.

He had not seen Zilla since Paul had shot her, and he still pictured her as buxom, high-colored, lively and a little blowsy. He drove up to her boarding-house, in a depressing back street below the wholesale district, he stopped in discomfort. At an upper window, leaning on her elbow, was a woman with the features of Zilla, but she was bloodless and aged, like a yellowed wad of old paper crumpled into wrinkles. Where Zilla had bounced and jiggled this woman was dreadfully still.

He waited half an hour before she came into the boarding-house parlor. Fifty times he opened the book of photographs of the Chicago's World's Fair of 1893, fifty times he looked at the picture of the Court of Honor.

He was startled to find Zilla in the room. She wore a black, streaky gown which she had tried to brighten with a girdle of crimson ribbon. The ribbon had been torn and patiently mended. He noted this carefully, because he did not want to look at her shoulders. One shoulder was lower than the other; one arm she carried in contorted fashion, as though it were paralyzed; and behind a high collar of cheap lace there was a gouge in the anemic neck which had once been shining and softly plump.

"Yes?" she said.

"Well, well, old Zilla! By golly, it's good to see you again!"

"He can send his messages through a lawyer."

"Why, rats, Zilla, I didn't come just because of him. Came as an old friend."

"You waited long enough!"

"Well, you know how it is. Figured you wouldn't want to see a friend of his for quite some time and— Sit down, honey! Let's be sensible. We've all of us done a bunch of things that we hadn't ought to, but maybe we can sort of start over again. Honest, Zilla, I'd like to do something to make you both happy. Know what I thought today? Mind you, Paul doesn't know a thing about this—doesn't know I was going to come to see you. I got to thinking: Zilla's a fine, big-hearted woman, and she'll understand that uh, Paul's had his lesson now. Why wouldn't it be a fine idea if you asked the Governor to pardon him? Believe he would, if it came from you. No! Wait! Just think how good you'd feel if you were generous."

"Yes, I wish to be generous." She was sitting primly, speaking icily. "For that reason I wish to keep him in prison, as an example to evil-doers. I've gotten religion, George, since the terrible thing that man did to me. Sometimes I used to be unkind, and I wished for wordly pleasures, for dancing and the theater. But when I was in the hospital the pastor of the Pentecostal Communion Faith used to come to see me, and he showed me, right from the prohecies written in the Word of God, that the Day of Judgment is coming and all the members of the older churches are going straight to eternal damnation, because they only do lip service and swallow the world, the flesh and the devil—"

For fifteen wild minutes she talked, pouring out admonitions to flee the wrath to come, and her face flushed, her dead voice recaptured something of the shrill energy of the old Zilla. She wound up with a furious:

"It's the blessing of God Himself that Paul should be in prison now, and torn and humbled by punishment, so that he may yet save his soul, and so other wicked men, these horrible chasers after women and lust, may have an example."

CHILD ENDS TWELVE DAYS OF DEEP SLEEP

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH]

FRESNO, Dec. 27.—Four-year-old Dickie Ball, son of Ernest Ball, principal of the Columbia school, was reported today to have awakened and to be on the road to recovery after lying for twelve days in a stupor at the Burnett Sanatorium. Nearly two weeks ago the child was seized with a strange malady characterized by physicians as resembling sleeping sickness. Since the first day of his illness no change was noticeable in his condition until today. The illness was believed to be a mild form of the sleeping sickness disease, surgeons said.

SUICIDE ATTEMPT FOILED

Jacob T. Jacobsen, Western Manager for Harvey System, Reported on Road to Recovery

Jacob T. Jacobsen, 57 years of age, superintendent and general manager of the Fred Harvey system of restaurants and hotels west of Albuquerque, attempted to commit suicide shortly after 5 o'clock yesterday afternoon at his home, 723 South Windsor Boulevard, according to a report by the Wilshire police.

Taking advantage of the absence of his wife for a few minutes Jacobsen is reported to have entered the bathroom, stuffed even the keyhole, pulled a bath rug over his head and turned on the gas from a small heater.

FINDS DOOR LOCKED

Mrs. Jacobsen returned, found the bathroom door locked but smelled the escaping gas. Hurrying into the hallway of the flat building in which they live, she encountered the members of a holiday party that had been taking place below them. Philip Shumaker, 863 South St. Andrews Boulevard, hurried upstairs with her, broke down the door and dragged the unconscious man into the fresh air.

The early arrival of Dr. Horace E. Warner, who lives only a few doors away, and assistance rendered by a pulmotor hurried to the scene by Officer Fifield and Fireman Talbot from the Hollywood station, is believed to have saved Jacobsen's life. At a late hour last night Dr. Warner said his patient was on the road to recovery.

NERVOUS BREAKDOWN

Overwork that brought on a general debility over a period of many months and that finally resulted in a nervous breakdown, was given as the reason for the suicide attempt. Mrs. Jacobsen broke down and was under the care of Dr. Warner following the finding of her husband. Friends of the family who had known them for years declared that they had always been very happy together and that no domestic difficulties could have influenced Jacobsen.

Jacobsen has lived in Los Angeles for a number of years and is well known to hotel and restaurant men throughout the Southwest.

BOY DIES VICTIM OF HUNT

Story of Shooting Accident Told Parents by Boys Following Tragedy on Ranch

Tony Petro, 13 years of age, of 457 South Miles street, Huntington Park, died late yesterday afternoon at the Virginia Hospital, Downey, from a small-caliber gunshot wound said to have been received while he and two boy companions were hunting. The boy was taken to the hospital by John Pherson, living on the Jacobson ranch, northwest of Downey, where the shooting occurred.

Deputy Sheriffs Bright and Hunter, of the County Homicide Squad, were called to Huntington Park last night by the fathers of two boys who are said to have been with Tony when he was shot. The boys, Harold McFarland, 14 years of age, of 317 Templeton street, Huntington Park and Louis Baird, 14, same address, explained the shotting as accidental.

POINTED AT BIRD

According to their version, given to Deputies Bright and Hunter Harold started to shoot a bird with his rifle when Tony also pointed his rifle at the bird. In some manner, not exactly explained, the boys said Tony was shot.

The boys said they then carried Tony as far as they could down the road and then, realizing that he was seriously hurt, summoned Pherson who took the injured youth to the hospital. The boys then went to their homes and told their fathers, who notified the authorities.

BOYS ARE RELEASED

After taking the boys over the ground and checking their stories, the officers released them to the custody of their parents. It was announced at the Sheriff's office that the full facts will be laid before Juvenile Court for any action deemed necessary.

The dead boy's father is said to have warned his son against going hunting.

The body of the victim is being held at Miller's undertaking establishment in Downey.

NO VERDICT REACHED IN COOTE CASE

Jury is Locked Up for Night After Failure to Agree on Charges

After twelve hours of deliberation, the jury considering the case of A. W. Coote, investment broker, charged with embezzlement, last night at 10:30 o'clock had failed to reach an agreement and Judge Hardy ordered the jury locked up for the night. The jurors will resume their deliberations this morning.

It was understood the jury had reached an agreement on two of the four counts on which Coote can be convicted. The broker was indicted on seven counts but in his instructions to the jury, Judge Hardy asked acquittal on the third count and required the State to elect between the first and second counts and between the fourth and fifth counts. The case was given to the jurors at 10:46 a.m. yesterday.

The charges against Coote grew out of the failure of the brokerage investment firm of which he was head, resulting in the loss of $2,000,000 to about 4000 clients. Funds and stocks which clients are declared to have entrusted to the brokerage firm, and which Coote is accused of misapplying, formed the basis of the specific charges against him.

Man Gives Self Up; Declares He Forged Checks

A man walked into the Hollywood Police Station last night and told officers a tale of flight from justice that caused them to hold him for investigation. He said his name is George Mead, 32 years of age, formerly a paving inspector in Chicago. He said, according to police, that he forged the name of his employer, Walter J. Flood, 932 East Forty-fourth street, Chicago, to two checks for $500, cashed them and fled West with the money.

Upon his arrival in California he told officers he went to Tijuana hoping he could win enough at the races to repay his employer. Instead, he lost, he said, and was able to return to Los Angeles only through the generosity of a motorist. Here he couldn't find work. Penniless and hungry he decided to give himself up, he said.

An investigation of his story will be started today by Central Station detectives. Mead was held last night at the Hollywood jail.

AUTO BURNS UP

Occupants Thrown Through Top But Escape Serious Injury

Two young men last night were thrown through the top of their automobile and into the street by an explosion in the car, which then burned. They were Harold Hollaby of 6004 McKee avenue, the driver, and Sydney Booty of 2616 South Burlington avenue. Both were cut and bruised, but not seriously hurt. The explosion occurred at the intersection of Sixty-fifth and Main streets.

A driver who speeded on without stopping last night struck Mrs. Nellie Gettings of 1428 Wright street at Sixteenth street and Cherry avenue. Mrs. Gettings suffered serious injuries.

LONGACRE FUNERAL SERVICES CONDUCTED

Funeral services for James T. Longacre, 83 years of age who died the 24th inst. at his home, 1325 Rose avenue, were conducted yesterday by the Masonic order, of which he had been a member since 1865. He was a charter member of Selma and Gardena Masonic lodges, and a member of Gardena Lodge at the time of his death. He leaves a widow and three children, A. O. Longacre of Huntington Beach and J. R. Longacre and Mrs. C. W. Keeler of Blythe.

MEMPHIS THROUGH SLEEPER RESTORED

ESPEE SERVICE RESUMED TO BETTER ACCOMMODATE TOURIST TRAVEL

Restoration of through Pullman service between Los Angeles and Memphis, Tenn., was announced last night by the Southern Pacific Railway Company, effective on the 30th inst.

This service, according to Henry P. Monahan, district passenger agent, was discontinued shortly before the entry of the United States into the World War, and is being resumed to facilitate and improve tourist and passenger travel to Southern California.

The through Pullman service will be via the Chicago, Rock Island and Pacific Railroad from Memphis to El Paso, where connection will be made with the Southern Pacific.

The train will leave Memphis at 2:30 p.m. each day, arriving in Los Angeles at 7:50 a.m. on the third day. Eastbound, the train will leave Los Angeles at 5 p.m., arriving in Memphis at 3:45 p.m. the third day.

MURDER CHARGED

A complaint yesterday was issued by Dep. Dist.-Atty. McClelland charging Joseph Quinlan, colored, with the murder on the 23rd inst., of A. F. Ainsworth. The murder charged to Quinlan occurred at the home of Valera McKee, said to be a former wife of Ainsworth, following a quarrel. Witnesses are said to have related to Officers Rubath and Meza, threats overheard previous to the shooting, which Quinlan made on Ainsworth's safety.

ROBBER SUSPECT TAKEN

Raymond Hadsell, wanted in Regina, Sask., for robbery, yesterday was arrested by Deputy Sheriffs Fox and Schultz after a search lasting for several months. The robbery, which occurred in September in the Canadian Province, is said to have been accomplished after a storekeeper there had been beaten to insensibility with a heavy weight.

News of Ships and Sailings at Pacific Ports

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE]

SAN FRANCISCO, Dec. 27.—Prominent Chinese of the Bay Cities were entertained today aboard the Dollar Steamship Company liner President Harrison, which will inaugurate the round the world passenger service January 5. The President Harrison will leave Saturday afternoon for Los Angeles Harbor, where she will take on passenger and cargo for the first sailing. On Monday a reception will be held aboard the steamer in Los Angeles harbor and more than 500 Los Angeles citizens have been invited.

The Japanese steamer Siberia Maru wirelessed today she would drop anchor in quarantine here tomorrow morning from the Far East. She has 55 first cabin, 57 second class and 294 steerage passengers. Her cargo includes 2000 bales of silk for New York delivery, valued at about $2,000,000.

The Pacific Mail liner President Wilson averaged seventeen knots an hour between Honolulu and Yokohama, according to advices received by company officials here today. She reached the Japanese port yesterday.

The name of the schooner Ottillieford will be changed to the Nanuk, the marine department of the Chamber of Commerce here was advised today. She will engage in the Alaska fur trade again this year.

ANACORTES, Dec. 27.—The Kinderoy Maru shifted from here to Everett today to complete loading lumber for Kobe. She took 2,000,000 feet of squares and boards from here.

BELLINGHAM, Dec. 27.—Log movements in and out of this harbor have been greatly hampered by storms on Puget Sound. Mariners here say that this has been the severest month for storms they have ever experienced in this vicinity.

The steamship New Britain sailed from here today with 1,000,000 feet of lumber for Atlantic Coast ports.

TACOMA, Dec. 27.—There will be a fairly active movement in wheat from Tacoma within the next few days, reports indicate, with about 15,000 tons of grain being moved.

The Burma Maru is listed tomorrow to take about 1800 tons of wheat. The Bankoku Maru is also expected tomorrow to pick up a like amount in addition to lumber. A big carrier expected here possibly tomorrow is the Kaiku Maru. This vessel is one of the largest to be in for grain in some weeks and will stow on board 9000 tons or better of wheat, it is said. The Naokai Maru is also listed to arrive soon to take wheat for the Orient, but what amount is not yet announced.

To load 1,200,000 feet of lumber for California, the Stanwood arrived here this morning.

FIGURES ON CITRUS CROP ARE SHOWN

San Joaquin Valley Navel Orange Value Placed at $8,000,000

FRESNO, Dec. 27.—A figure of approximately $8,000,000 has been fixed, from present available statistics, as the total value of the navel orange crop of the San Joaquin Valley.

By far the greatest part of this sum goes to Tulare county, the estimates of local experts indicate, with a value of $7,467,000. Reports received here from County Horticultural Commissioner Harold Pomeroy of Bakersfield state that Kern county has shipped more than $300,000 worth of fruit so far this year.

Figures released by Commissioner Fred P. Rouillard of Fresno county indicate that the value of the Fresno crop was in the neighborhood of $600,000. Rouillard declares that 254 cars have left the county thus far, representing about 90 per cent of the crop.

Reports from the Porterville district indicate that although the recent freeze was severe on the orange groves in that section, the crop this season will nevertheless far exceed that of last year. Approximately 75 per cent of the crop had been marketed or was in the packing-houses before the freeze set in.

According to a statement by W. E. Sprott, manager of the Tulare Fruit Exchange, which handles 85 per cent of the orange crop of that district, there will be approximately 2718 carloads of oranges shipped through the exchange for the season, and independent shippers will send about 470 more cars.

Romantic bits of California history are entertainingly told in the Midwinter Number of The Times, out January 1.

FREE COPIES OF CHARTER DISTRIBUTED

First Supply Received Yesterday at City Hall by Freeholder Board

Copies of the new city charter are now being given out at the City Hall. A supply was received yesterday at the office of the Board of Freeholders, in Room 12, and will be distributed to all who ask for them.

The printed charter makes a book of ninety-six pages, and as the question of its adoption will be decided upon May 6, at the Presidential primary election, all ninety-six pages can be read by that time by even slow readers.

Miss Jessie E. Hellings, assistant secretary of the Board of Freeholders, gives out the copies, information, and smiles at the Board's office. City Clerk Robert Dominguez visited the Freeholders' office yesterday and got a copy, though he knows the new charter backward, just to get one of the smiles.

AUTO CRASH VICTIM DIES OF INJURIES

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH]

POMONA, Dec. 27.—Harrison H. Turner, 86 years of age, and a pioneer resident of this valley, died last night at the Pomona Valley Hospital from a basal fracture of the skull received Christmas Day when struck by a car driven by Miss Stella Brown of Ontario. The accident happened near the intersection of Holt avenue and Monte Vista street. At the same time her car is said to have struck Turner, who was crossing the boulevard on foot, Miss Brown is said to have careened her car into the machine driven by Mr. and Mrs. Farris Harris of Garden Grove, injuring both occupants, in a vain effort to avoid striking the aged man. The deceased has many relatives in the valley and was visiting a daughter at the time of the accident.

GEM LOST AND COURT MYSTIFIED

Diamond as Evidence in Theft Case Vanishes in Progress of Trial

A new mystery was in the making yesterday, its locale being Police Judge Sheldon's court. The mystery revolves about a diamond worth, possibly, $100. At one moment the diamond was lying on Judge Sheldon's desk in the courtroom, with the eyes of Judge Sheldon, its owners, a city prosecutor and two detectives on it. The next moment it was gone, and a search of more than an hour failed to disclose it.

The diamond was the principal evidence against L. F. Hall, 19 years of age. He had stolen it, he confessed in court, from Mr. and Mrs. A. L. Neal, 160 West Seventieth street, in order to get money to buy his parents a Christmas present. It had been pawned for $30 and recovered by Detectives Whaley and Casey.

The stone was laid on Judge Sheldon's desk. Mr. Neal came to the stand and identified it as that he had given to his wife before their marriage. Detective Whaley was called. He turned to pick up the diamond and couldn't find it. Judge Sheldon looked. He also couldn't find it. Deputy City Prosecutor Lucas, a few feet away, also hunted for it, but also unsuccessfully. The two detectives, aided by the court, the prosecutor, and Mr. and Mrs. Neal then took up what proved a fruitless search. Finally Judge Sheldon announced he would sentence Hall later.

THINK BOY KILLED BY ACCIDENT

Inquiry Lends Strength to Theory of Mishap in Case of Compton Youth

An all-day investigation yesterday by Deputy Sheriffs Sweezy and Allen into the mysterious death of Richard Trim, 21 years of age, of Compton, whose body was found Wednesday near the Los Cerritos schoolhouse by two men is reported to have strengthened the theory that he was accidentally killed by boy hunters who fled when they perceived their mistake.

The accidental theory is declared to be borne out by the autopsy, which revealed a small caliber bullet in the youth's heart. It was believed the rifle was fired from a distance.

Two boys who were reported to have been hunting in the wood near the place where the body was found by two Indians, Peter Anderson and Roy James, were questioned by the officers yesterday, but proved alibis. Officers, however, have descriptions of two other boys, said to be 14 or 15 years of age, whom they expect to question. The latter boys, it was said, were run away from the section by painters in the employ of a contractor on account of asserted promiscuous shooting with small caliber rifles. Deputies Sweezy and Allen declared they expect to find the boys today.

SHIP QUARTERMASTER TAKEN TO HOSPITAL

Quartermaster George Turner of the British tramp steamer Romanstar was brought to Los Angeles Harbor in a critical condition yesterday, after he had become mentally deranged at sea and injured three members of the crew. The sick man was taken to the General Hospital and placed under treatment. He suffered recurring periods of violence during three days and finally Capt. McLeod was compelled to send S.O.S. calls asking for help in overcoming the quartermaster. The Romanstar arrived in port from London by way of the Panama Canal.

Now comes the greatest improvement the Victor Co. has made in recent years.

LETTUCE IN IMPERIAL IS HIT BY RAIN

No Other Valley Crops Damaged by Downpour Beginning Wednesday

Rain which began falling on Wednesday night and continued yesterday throughout the Imperial Valley, has caused some damage to the lettuce crop in that section, according to reports received here last night from growers. No other crops in the valley were reported damaged, although the cantaolupe planting has been delayed.

No rainfall had been reported last night from the San Joaquin Valley and other points north of Los Angeles. Wednesday night's precipitation here was recorded by the Weather Bureau as .14 of an inch. The downpour was general from Los Angeles south to San Diego.

Following is the rainfall, in inches, reported from various Southern California points up to 5 p.m. yesterday:

TO GET TEXAS TRIAL

United States Commissioner Long ordered Roy E. Bickel to Dallas, Tex., where he is wanted on the charge of violating the Dyer Act. It is alleged that he stole a Ford touring car at Dallas, and drove it through to Holbrook, Ariz. He made no defense against the removal proceeding. It is alleged that Bickel is an ex-convict, and in order to make it fairly sure that he would be on hand when wanted, the bond was fixed at $7500 by the Texas authorities, an almost unprecedented amount in such cases.

ACCEPTS OFFER OF ARCHITECTS

Committee on Civic Center Takes Action

Association Would Lay Out Harmonious Plan

Services of Noted Traffic Experts Given

The offer of the Allied Architects' Association to work out, free of charge, a comprehensive and harmonious plan for the location of public buildings and the arrangement of streets, parking and landscaping in the administrative Civic Center north of First street was accepted yesterday afternoon by a joint special committee of County Supervisors and City Councilmen. The members of the committee were Supervisors Bean, Wright and Cogswell and Councilmen Allan, Mallard and Gregory. The Supervisors and the Council are expected to adopt the report of the committee.

The committee also reported that the services of three noted City planning and traffic experts, Frederick Law Olmstead, Harland Bartholomew and Charles H. Cheney, would be available, if desired, to act in an advisory capacity, also free of charge, in planning the grouping of the public buildings in the Civic Center. The offer of the services of these experts was gratefully accepted by the committee, which tendered its thanks to the Allied Architects and to the public-spirited citizens who made possible the bringing to Los Angeles of the three city planning authorities.

LETTER IS SENT

Addressed to Supervisor Bean, the offer of the Allied Architects' Association, which embraces in its membership many of the leading architects of the city, was as follows:

"The Allied Architects' Association of Los Angeles, by resolution regularly adopted, hereby offers its services to develop, through co-operation with municipal departments and other agencies, a comprehensive and harmonious plan for the administration center, which will fix the arrangement of the streets, parkings, sidewalks and grades thereof, the locations for the various civic buildings proposed to be erected therein and the treatment of the entire area of land set aside for this purpose.

TAKE FULL CHARGE

"The association will direct and take charge of the working out of this plan and will make the necessary drawings therefor. It will study all elements and requirements of the problem, will consult and co-operate with such experts in city planning, traffic conditions and engineering as may be furnished by the county and city, and will co-ordinate and corelate the conclusions of its study so as to obtain the most practicable and efficient solution of the problems involved and the most effective architectural grouping of the buildings and development of the property surrounding them.

"The association assumes that for the making of this proposed study and development that the county and city will place at its disposal, without charge to it, all of the facilities and data which the county and city authorities can secure, together with such aid as the civic departments or any other agency or organization interested in or studying any elements of the administration center problem can or may submit.

OFFERED FREE

"While the services herein offered do not include the designing and planning of any buildings to be erected in the administration center you, of course, realize that the developing and making of the plan for the center will require the expenditure by the association of a considerable sum and entail

EL TORO PRODUCES POMATO

Unique Hard-Soft Vegetable Declared to Foil Swooping Attack of Hungry Bugs

A new method for destroying insect pests that prey on potatoes and tomatoes was described yesterday by its discoverer, Jose El Toro of Lima, Peru, who is a guest at the Alexandria Hotel. It involves the crossing of the two vegetables, the result, known as the pomato, being a product that is not only sure death to both potato and tomato bugs, but also forms an article of diet far superior to the parent growths, according to the South American.

He says it is soft like a ripe tomato and hard like a matured potato.

"I have been engaged in plant experimentation for a number of years," said Mr. El Toro, "and have made a specialty of developing new form of vegetable and floral growths. I did not have much hope of being successful in the hybridization of two such similar plants as the tomato and potato, but to my astonishment I discovered that they woud produce a hybrid of unusual vigor.

"I cultivated a considerable number of specimens of the new hybrid in my experimental garden this last season and among the things I discovered about them was the fact that they were entirely free from insects. I have often stood and watched the plants when a hungry potato or tomato bug would come swooping down and fall on the green leaves. Invariably after about a minute and a half the insect would curl up and fall dead to the ground."

Mr. El Toro will deliver a series of lectures on his discovery before gatherings of horticulturists and gardeners during his stay here.

To Feed Fleet's Crews During Cruise

Loading Supplies on Barges at Harbor

Hundreds of tons of commissary stores were put aboard warships preparatory to winter maneuvers in Caribbean Sea.

BATTLE FLEET PROVISIONED

Tons of Fresh Fruit, Vegetables and Other Stores Loaded Aboard Ships Bound for Porto Rico

The United States battle fleet yesterday began one of the last and most important preparations for the winter maneuvers in the Caribbean Sea. Four hundred and fifty tons of fresh fruits and vegetables were taken aboard the dreadnaughts. The swarm of motorcraft, barges and tugs that shuttled back and forth between the fleet and landings yesterday will continue until the fleet sails for Panama next Tuesday afternoon.

Potatoes, onions, apples and oranges were put aboard the battleships in such copious quantities yesterday that the crates, cases and sacks were heaped in huge piles on the quarterdecks while awaiting storage room below. One hundred and fifty tons of other eatables—all Southern California products—were also put aboard the ships.

The supplies taken aboard here will be sufficient to feed the 20,000 men of the fleet for six weeks, or until the dreadnaughts depart the Porto Rico base for a visit to New York in mid-February.

Aside from this last-minute victualing, the dreadnaughts and submarines based at Los Angeles Harbor are all ready to begin the long grind southward next Tuesday. The ships have taken on new coats of paint, machinery has been overhauled and bunkers filled, while the twelve giant S-type submarines which will operate directly with the dreadnaughts in all maneuvers this winter are assembled alongside the U.S.S. Beaver, and in navy-yard condition. The latest of these underwater fighters, the S-40, has just joined the fleet, and represents the latest developments in American submarine construction.

HUGE SHIPMENT OF ROSES

Ten Carloads in One Consignment to East From Local Nursery; Industry's Great Growth

Los Angeles might well be called the world's rose garden. Rose culture in and about Los Angeles has in the past few years become a large and important industry to Southern California.

A shipment of ten cars of roses has just left Los Angeles over the Southern Pacific for Riverton, N. J., and Philadephia from the rose nurseries of Howard & Smith. This is thought to be the largest single shipment of rose bushes ever made any where in the world. The shipment contains hundreds of thousands of rose bushes.

EXTENSIVE NURSERIES

The Howard & Smith nurseries here have 135 acres, which are devoted to the culture of roses, bulbs, palms, seeds, etc. The rose nurseries of the company are located at San Fernando, where about seventy acres are devoted to the intensive cultivation of rose plants for eastern and local markets. At these nurseries one may see more than 1,000,000 rose bushes growing at one time. The wealth of color and beauty may best be appreciated along about June when 10,000,000 to 15,000,000 flowers are visible to the eye. At Rivera the company holds a large acreage where bulbs are cultivated, while at Montebello there is another nursery of immense size devoted to the production of palms and miscellaneous floral products.

Howard & Smith are constantly developing new roses for the markets of the world. They have twice brought to Los Angeles the famous Bagatelle medal in the international trials for new roses at Paris, these trials being held under the auspices of the French government in the Bois de Boulogne Gardens. This medal has been in America on three occa-

LARGE REALTY DEALS MADE

Five Projects Involve $7,000,000; Height Limit Buildings Planned; Theaters Sold

Five realty and building proposals representing more than $7,000,000 were completed yesterday. These deals provide for the erection of three height-limit structures in the Los Angeles downtown district, and at Long Beach and Santa Monica; the purchase of twenty-three Southern California theaters and the sale of other smaller properties. Construction on the new buildings will be started soon after the first of next year.

It was learned yesterday that negotiations are under way for the erection of a height-limit office building on the northwest corner of Ninth and Hill streets by a syndicate composed of San Francisco and local capitalists. The transaction will involve an expenditure of $2,500,000 including the cost of construction and purchase of the site.

PURCHASED IN MARCH

The corner, one of the most valuable in the city, is owned by Adolph Fleishman, who purchased it last March through the Joe Toplitzky real estate firm for a reported consideration of $650,000 from the Consolidated Realty Company. According to information disclosed yesterday, the same property was sold for in excess of $900,000.

Present improvements on the corner consist of an old frame flat building, the first floor of which houses a number of small shops. The site for the proposed building has a frontage of 125 feet on Hill street and 224 feet on West Ninth street, and adjoins the Hotel Percival on the south. Mr. Fleishman stated that papers for the transaction will be signed and placed in escrow probably within ten days.

Negotiations have been completed for the purchase of the old Adolphus Busch property on Ocean avenue, Alta avenue and Marguerite street, Santa Monica by A. C. Blumenthal and Company, Inc., for a reported consideration of $400,000. It is the intention of Mr. Blumenthal to at once erect a thirteen-story apartment-hotel to cost $1,500,000 and arranged to contain at least 300 rooms.

PAPERS ARE SIGNED

Final papers closing the deal were signed yesterday by heirs of the Busch estate, Lilly Busch, August A. Busch and Charles Nagel. The property is one of the largest unimproved properties at

ALL REALTY SALE MARKS ARE BROKEN

Figures Indicate $1,367,607,000 in Property in 1923 Changed Hands

The unprecedented increase in real estate transactions in Southern California is indicated by the statement of United States Collector of Internal Revenue Goodcell that in 1923 such transactions increased $506,684,000 over 1922.

Sales of documentary stamps for the calendar year totaled $1,403,607, as compared with $896,923 for 1922. Deducting from this total the stamps used for other purposes than real estate transfers, the sales indicate that real estate transfers were made aggregating $1,367,607,000 as against $860,923,000 in 1922.

Sales of stamps of all classes for 1923 were $2,009,967, which, compared with $1,444,829 for 1922, shows an increase of $565,238 or 39 per cent.

"Sales of documentary and other classes of revenue stamps are a barometer of business conditions," said Collector Goodcell. "Their use is required on business transactions of many kinds and when the sale of stamps increases, business necessarily must advance."

Collector Goodcell, in referring to the growth of Southern California called attention to the fact that stamp sales alone for 1923 were greater than the entire receipts of the Southern California district for 1914, and that stamp sales were only 4 per cent of the total receipts of the Southern California district for 1923.

Will Enforce Rule Applying to Excavating

Having started injunction proceedings in the courts to drive the commercial rock crushers out of the Arroyo Seco, the City Council yesterday followed up its previous action by instructing the Chief of Police to turn loose policemen in the arroyo to arrest all persons excavating rock for any other purpose than the building of foundations of houses at the place where the excavations are being made.

The Council, in its efforts to prevent excavations by the Los Angeles Rock and Gravel Company and other commercial rock companies yesterday brought into action an ordinance which prohibits excavations being made in residential districts, and by resolution ordered the ordinance enforced at once in the arroyo.

Banker Chosen President of Great Mercantile House

Reorganization of Latter's Directorate Announced

Program of Expansion Made Known by Its Chairman

Henry S. McKee, vice-president of the Merchants' National Bank of Los Angeles and for twenty-five years prominently identified with California banking, yesterday resigned his position with the local bank and accepted the presidency of Barker Brothers, Inc., of Los Angeles. The latter is declared to be the largest firm of its kind in America with a present annual business in excess of $15,000,000.

Coincident with the announcement is a statement of reorganization in the directorate of Barker Brothers which reveals the tremendous progress made by the firm and outlines a notable plan for future development.

For several months plans for the expansion of Barker Brothers have been under way and as a culmination of the reorganization all members of the Barker family joined in an invitation to Mr. McKee to accept the presidency of the company. In accepting it Mr. McKee retains his place as a director of the Merchants' National Bank and his present connections with other banks and business institutions in Southern California.

BY HENRY W. LOUIS,

Secretary - Treasurer Brownstein-Louis Company

My own views as to "What Los Angeles most needs now" are as follows:

A comprehensive subway system: Large enough to take care of the needs of a city twice our size. Rapid, uninterrupted transportation is an important factor in reducing the cost of living.

Deep-sea harbor: The extension of our breakwater and a very considerable enlargement of the area which it should enclose is a necessary step to foster our export, import and coastwise business.

Light and power: We must have more of both. An insufficient supply of these two necessities will retard the development of industries now here, and prevent the establishment of new ones.

Street lights: We need vastly better street lights than we now possess, thereby guaranteeing our city to be safe for life and property.

Parks, schools, paved streets, sewers: A city must be livable as well as a community in which it is possible to make a living, and unless we develop and improve the above-mentioned four essentials, we lose our attractiveness to home-seekers.

Police and fire protection: A sufficiently large force in both departments to justify the statement that we are taking care of the material things we possess. Lastly, a concerted, earnest effort to bring to Los Angeles and vicinity essential industries producing the necessities of life. These industries, widely diversified, would prevent any possibility of complete stagnation and would insure employment to our people.

TABLES RE-RESERVED

Many Make New Year's Eve Plans Anew After Lid is Tilted

Many Los Angeles persons who had canceled New Year's Eve reservations at The Ambassador "Cocoanut Grove" prior to the passing by the City Council of the emergency ordinance permitting dancing until 2 a.m. on holidays, have re-reserved their tables, the hotel management announced yesterday.

The emergency ordinance permits certain ballrooms and hotels, including the Ambassador, to carry out plans for New Year's Eve. At the Ambassador there will also be an old-fashioned breakfast at 2 o'clock on the following morning. Added to this feature will be a number of electrical novelties ushering in the New Year as well as dancing and other entertainment during the evening and early morning.

CARLTON WITNESS SWOONS

Swartz Girl Declares He Told of Shooting As They Prepared Hurried Getaway

Breaking down in the middle of her testimony, Irene Swartz, one of the main witnesses for the prosecution at the trial of Edward H. Carlton, accused of the murder of Robert Magee while attempting to rob a house at 915 Irolo street on November 21, last, forced Judge Avery to call a recess for several minutes until she recovered.

The Swartz girl lived with the accused and his wife, Jeanne, who was captured by the police shortly after the shooting, and who is also charged with implication in the murder, in a Wilshire apartment-house. She told in a faltering voice how Carlton had hurried home on the night of the shooting, apparently greatly excited, and, after walking nervously about for some time, helped her pack her suit cases, preparatory to leaving Los Angeles.

ADMITTED SHOOTING

According to her story on the stand, Carlton admitted to her that there had been some shooting at the place, but did not say who had done the firing. He told her that he had left Jeanne in the house and had jumped from the second story and fled when the police arrived.

Police officers were called to the stand yesterday who identified empty revolver shells that they had found near the scene of the shooting. J. C. Belding, occupant of the house where the murder took place, took the stand and told how a neighbor had found an empty shell-clip for an automatic. The shells and clip were admitted as evidence.

Dep. Dist.-Atty. Clark stated that the prosecution will probably complete its case early at today's session and the defense will open. Although Public Defender Aggeler has not revealed his plans, it was rumored yesterday that Carlton may take the stand in his own defense. His story to the police following his arrest was that he had met another man at a public dance the night before, who had induced him and his wife to participate in the burglary, and that it was their companion that actually did the shooting.

No trace of a third man in the house at the time of the shooting, with the exception of the officers, has yet been found, although a hat and other articles, said to have belonged to Carlton have been found in or near the Belding residence and have been introduced as evidence against him. A .45-caliber automatic that the State asserts Carlton used to kill Magee, was found near Tenth and Vermont, and was identified by naval officers as one that disappeared from the U.S.S. Arizona, from which Carlton is said to have deserted a few days before the shooting.

if they had continued, would have meant increased costs for exhibitors and higher admission fees for the public. This dangerous tendency has been checked.

"We have reorganized our production department and by eliminating waste we shall make better pictures for less money.

EFFECT GAINED

"The closing of our studio was mainly for moral effect. It struck the people of the industry like a sledge-hammer blow. If necessary we shall do it again and yet again—but I am convinced no repetition will be needed.

"While I was in New York the company executives conducted a meeting with five of the directors—Allan Dwan, Sidney Olcott, Victor Heerman, Herbert Brenon and William De Mille. Without exception they all pledged their support to our new policy which, briefly, means that by careful attention to the scripts and production details we shall cut our stories before we begin filming, instead of cutting them after thousands and thousands of feet of film have been taken. Our other directors, including the director-general, Cecil B. De Mille, George Melford, Irving Willat, Sam Wood, Victor Fleming, Joseph Henabery and Dimitri Buchowetzky, are also in accord with the new policy.

"One of our innovations is the organization of an estimating department. Men in this department will go carefully over every script, estimate the expense of every scene and its proper footage in relation to the completed film. By conference these estimates will be adjusted and agreed upon before filming is actually begun, and both the directors and writers welcome the adoption of this system."

PATSY MILLER SIGNED

Mr. Lasky yesterday announced that Patsy Ruth Miller, who played Esmerelda in "The Hunchback of Notre Dame," has been signed under a contract which makes her one of the Lasky company of stock players. He also announced several changes in the production department. At the Long Island plant Robert T. Kane will continue in charge of production activities, with E. C. King as studio manager. Ralph Block will be managing editor of the story department and Julian Johnson will be the chief title writer at the Long Island studio.

Charles Eyton continues as studio manager at the Hollywood plant, and Victor H. Clark will be Mr. Lasky's assistant on the West Coast. Henry Salisbury has been added to the Hollywood production department in an executive capacity.

The production schedule announced by Mr. Lasky in detail is as follows:

Cecil B. De Mille's picture, "Triumph," will feature Leatrice Joy and Rod La Rocque. Herbert Brenon will begin on "The Breaking Point," by Mary Roberts Rinehart. Patsy Ruth Miller, who plays Esmeralda in "The Hunchback of Notre Dame," will have the feminine lead. Matt Moore will play opposite her and Nita Naldi and George Fawcett will be other members of the cast.

MANY STORIES READY

George Melford will do "The Glorious Tomorrow." Sam Wood will produce Rita Weiman's and Josephine Quirk's well-known story, "Bluff," costarring Agnes Ayres and Antonio Moreno. James Cruze, now at Natchez, Miss., producing river scenes for "Magnolia," will finish his film here.

Irvin Willat will begin shortly after the studio's reopening on Zane Grey's favorite story, "Wanderer of the Wasteland," featuring Jack Holt. This picture, for the first time in the history of the Lasky company, will be entirely in color.

Victor Fleming will begin on February 18 on "The Code of the Sea," by Byron Morgan. Rod La Rocque will be featured.

Early in February Dimitri Buchowetzki will begin production of a Pola Negri picture "Men," adapted by Paul Bern from a well-known continental novel. An all-star picture featuring Leatrice Joy, which has not yet been given a title, will be started early in February under the direction of Joseph Henabery.

In the Long Island studio, under the direction of Allan Dwan, Gloria Swanson is producing "She Who Laughs Last," based on Alfred Sutro's play "The Laughing Lady," in which Ethel Barrymore starred last year. Miss Swanson will be supported by Rod La Rocque and Ricardo Cortez.

William De Mille begins production of "Icebound" with a cast headed by Richard Dix, Lois Wilson, Vera Reynolds and Ethel Wales. Thomas Meighan will begin January 3 on a picture temporarily titled "Quicksands," by L. Y. Erskine. Victor Heerman will direct it, from the scenario by Paul Sloane.

SCHOOL CONTRACTS ARE LET

Belvedere Junior High Plant to Cost $300,000; New Toland Way Building is Ordered Open

Contracts were awarded yesterday by the Board of Education for the construction of the new Belvedere Junior High School plant at a cost of approximately $300,000. The buildings will be on a block of ground bounded by Michigan and Brooklyn avenues, Record and Richard streets. Edgar H. Cline is the architect.

The contracts, which were awarded on recommendation of Business Manager Record and the building committee, were let as follows: General contract to J. F. Atkinson, $238,700; plumbing to C. C. Sutton, $20,316; heating and ventilating, Thomas Haverty Company, $28,530; painting, Horace H. Mann, $6556 and electric wiring, S. & H. Electric Company, $11,997.50.

BIDS CONSERVATIVE

Mr. Record stated the bids are gratifying because they are conservative. Although the highest bid was approximately $50,000 greater than the lowest and successful one, the remainder varied less than 2 per cent from the lowest, Mr. Record said.

Start of work will be some time in January with 300 working days allowed under the contracts. It is hoped to have the building ready for occupancy by next autumn.

Following complaints asserting that the acoustics in the auditoriums of Roosevelt and Hollywood High Schools and other schools are bad, the board instructed the secretary to request architects and heating engineers of various schools under construction and completed to attend a conference with the building committee next Wednesday at 10 a.m. The conference will determine methods to combat defects and to avoid mistakes in future work. Hunt & Burns, architects of Roosevelt High School, were specifically asked by the board to attend the conference.

TO OPEN NEW SCHOOL

Recommendations of Superintendent Dorsey for the opening on February 2 of Toland Way elementary school near the end of York Boulevard to serve the Occidentl College section were adopted by the board. Ernest D. Snow, formerly supervisor of compulsory education, was elected principal of the new school.

Recommendations of Superintendent Dorsey that Menno S. Kenney, former principal of First Street School, be elected and assigned as principal of Rowan-avenue School, to take the place of William E. White, transferred to Sentous Junior High, and that Edwin T. Conly be elected to the First Street School principalship and that Blanche Thoborg Nesbet be elected vice-principal of Manchester Avenue School, were also adopted by the Board.

M'KEE TO HEAD BARKER BROS.

ancier and business leader and his associate, H. E. Benedict of New York City, similarly prominent in business life. Associated in these counsels were Elvon Musick of the law firm of Musick, Burr & Pinney of this city and Allen L. Withers, a partner in the banking firm of Marshall Field, Glore, Ward & Co., of Chicago and New York City.

NEW DIRECTORATE

The new board of directors of Barker Brothers will comprise all members of the Barker families heretofore associated in the business and a strong representative group selected by them. It will be composed of C. H. Barker, chairman, Clarence A. Baker, C. Lawrence Barker, Eric P. Barker, Henry S. McKee, Elvon Musick, Joseph Rhodes, H. E. Benedict and Frank K. Colby. All existing officers, with the exception of J. W. Beam, who is retiring as treasurer after twenty-five years of service, are remaining in the business with slight changes in the scope of their activities.

Mr. McKee has been a prominent figure in the development of the Merchants' National Bank since its incorporation. He was previously active in trust company and banking circles.

Under his presidency the First National Bank of Long Beach has become one of Southern California's leading financial institutions and he has been associated with many other banking institutions in this part of the State.

Mr. McKee was elected in 1922 to the presidency of the California Bankers' Association and during his incumbency directed many notable achievements in conduct of banking in this State. During the war he attracted national attention by the remarkable success with which he directed all Liberty Loan activities in Los Angeles and environs. He is treasurer of the Community Development Association, and has recently accepted the chairmanship of a special economic commission, promulgated by the association, to make a comprehensive economic survey of Southern California, in which field of academic research he is nationally known.

MR. BARKER'S STATEMENT

C. H. Barker made the following statement in connection with the reorganization:

"Through able leadership and a progressive merchandising policy Barker Brothers have built up the firm until it is now the largest institution of its kind in America. The success and policies of the firm have been matters of pride not alone to the members of the Barker families, but to Los Angeles. So large has the institution become that it seemed the part of great wisdom to the owners of the business to make the reorganization an opportunity to induce the strongest man obtainable to join with them in the management of this business and to assist it in its continued expansion. Particularly opportune was this decision to seek an outstandingly able associate, because 1923 has been the most successful and most profitable year in the history of Barker Brothers, and we have big plans for the future.

"When consulted in New York, Mr. Vanderlip stated that for this important position in the business life of Los Angeles there was no one in his acquaintance of whom he thought more highly than of Mr. Henry S. McKee, of the Merchants' National Bank of this city. The members of the Barker family, having had many years of close association with Mr. McKee, thereupon tendered him the presidency of the institution.

"Mr. McKee's succession to the presidency of Barker Brothers will, we believe, mark the beginning of a new and even more successful era in the history of the firm. He will have with him all of the present official staff that has been instrumental in the growth of the business to its position of preeminence, and to the business Mr. McKee will bring the wealth of broad experience accumulated as one of the State's leading bankers and business men."

FROM MR. McKEE

Mr. McKee made the following statement:

"After twenty years of active banking experience one would naturally feel some regrets about withdrawing from it. But the business of Barker Brothers presents an intensely attractive future. The members of the Barker family, through three generations and nearly half a century of time, have built up probably the largest and most substantial and successful business of its kind in America. They have invited me to join them in its management. By reason of the high position of Barker Brothers in the business world and its long, honorable history, and the character of the men with whom I will be associated, I am very proud of the connection."

J. E. Fishburn, president of the Merchants' National Bank, said:

"My fifteen years of daily association with Mr. McKee has developed not only a personal friendship that promises to last throughout the years, but also a profound appreciation of his sterling worth and superior intelligence. His sound, trained mind capable of straight thinking and the courage of his convictions under all and any circumstances makes an association with him worth while. I predict his complete success in the new work."

the beach having a frontage of 430 feet on Ocean avenue, 336 feet on Marguerita street and 211 feet on Alta avenue. Tentative sketches for the project have been completed.

Plans are being prepared by Arthur T. Hesse for a new own-your-own apartment house on Ocean avenue near Lime street, Long Beach for Lionel Mayell, local capitalist, at a cost in excess of $1,000,000. Present plans provide for a thirteen-story, class A, reinforced concrete structure arranged in two, three and four-room suites. The lot on which the building will be built is 100 feet wide and 200 feet deep.

After the organization of a new subsidiary of the West Coast Theaters, Inc., known as the Southwest Theaters, Inc., announcement is made that negotiations have been closed for the acquisition of twenty-three theaters in Los Angeles, Huntington Park, Glendale, Taft and Pasadena at a reported cost of $1,000,000. According to C. L. Langley of the new corporation, three theaters were acquired at Huntington Park, three at Glendale, three at Taft, nine in Los Angeles and five in Pasadena. Final papers in the deal were signed yesterday.

HOLLYWOOD DEAL

Sale of property on the south side of Hollywood Boulevard, east of Bronson avenue, and owned by Mrs. Frank Urson, was reported yesterday by the L. D. Owens Company, real estate firm. Frank T. Parritt, buyer, obtained the property as an investment. The same firm reports the sale of the southeast corner of Santa Monica Boulevard and Wilton Place to the Christie Realty Company for F. J. Donnelly.

Announcement was made by J. M. Kroyer, president of the Kroyer Tractor Company, that negotiations are under way for the purchase of a twenty-acre tract at Redondo Beach as the future site of the tractor plant. As soon as legal matters are settled, Mr. Kroyer plans to erect a large plant to cost approximately $500,000. The firm is incorporated for $2,000,000.

STREET LIGHTS ORDERED

The installation of ornamental lighting posts on East First street between Soto street and Boyle avenue, was ordered yesterday by the City Council.

ROSES SHIPPED BY THOUSANDS

sions, Howard & Smith winning it twice.

This company was the originator of a rose which was named the Los Angeles after the home of its originator. This rose won the Bagatelle medal in Paris in 1917. It has been approved by the National Rose Societies of America and England as one of the best dozen after considering all varieties of roses in cultivation today.

The name Los Angeles perpetuated through the medium of this particular variety of rose has gone around the world. It has through merit found its way into the gardens of the Northern and Southern Hemispheres. It may be found in the Antipodean Gardens of Tasmania, in Australia, throughout South Africa and in the best and finest gardens of New York, London and Paris. It has carried the name of the city to the farthest corners of the civilized globe, impressing the world with the importanec of Los Angeles in rose culture.

Howard & Smith again brought the Bagatelle Medal from Paris to Los Angeles in 1921, it being awarded their new rose creation named the Lolita Armour.

KEYES ORDERS DRY NEW YEAR

sponsibility of their acts. Differing opinions as to whether the dry laws are a good and necessary thing is an immaterial question. The laws are on our books, and as long as I am District Attorney I expect vigorously to enforce them and to have all persons under my direction act accordingly.

"Reports have come to me regarding the manner in which dry raids have been conducted by various officers. This in no way reflected upon the dry enforcement officers under my command, but I want to caution you specifically, and have you in turn caution all men under you, to show extreme courtesy in every respect. In making raids on cafes you must remember that there will be many respectable people present, who are abiding by the law in every respect, and they should not be submitted or subjected to any more humiliation than the enforcement of the law requires. Officers in the past, I am told, in searching under tables for liquor, have sometimes subjected highly respected women to considerable humiliation. While the enforcement of the law makes the search necessary, please use the most courteous manners under any circumstances, and remember that a 'soft answer turneth away wrath.'

"Most of all, I want you to try, during the New Year, to bring in the bootleggers who manufacture and sell illicit liquors and who, through their concoctions bring about many unknown cases of poisoning, blindness, automobile accidents and even death."

CO-OPERATION PROMISED

A. Frank, vice-president and general manager of the Ambassador Hotel Corporation, made the following statement last evening:

"In conjunction with other of the leading hotels and restaurant men we have assured the Federal authorities that we will use every precaution to prevent any violations of the Volstead Act at the Ambassador Hotel on New Year's Eve.

"They have asked us not to serve ginger ale on New Year's Eve because it is a medium of concealing intoxicants. They have further asked us to instruct all our waiters and head waiters to report to us any violations of the Volstead Act and to prevent people with intoxicants from bringing them into our hotel.

"With all of these requests we have concurred and have further arranged to place at every seat a notice requesting our patrons to obey the law and refrain from the use of intoxicants.

"In short I believe that we have shown the Federal officers that we are prepared to make a bona fide effort to co-operate with them in every possible way.

"I am apprised that the officers who will be in charge of these matters on New Year's Eve have accepted our assurances of co-operation in the spirit in which they have been given. In fact, I have been given to understand clearly that those who live up to their agreement will in no way be bothered by raids as some of the misleading statements which have been broadcast would indicate."

FLY-BY-NIGHT OIL FIRMS HIT

Ruling May Put an End to Shaky Promotion

Judge Holds Unit Holders' Assets Liable

Glutting of Market May be One of Results

A legal opinion of supreme importance which, it is expected, may prevent further organization and promotion of fly-by-night oil syndicates, was given in Superior Court by Judge Thompson yesterday. The opinion is to the effect that unit holders in such syndicates are responsible to the full extent of their personal assets for liabilities incurred by the syndicate.

The nature of such syndicates is not that of a trust, but of a partnership, it was pointed out in the court's opinion, and hence adjudication of cases involving oil syndicates must necessarily be based upon the law governing partnerships.

In giving the opinion a judgment of $5750 was rendered B. L. Stitzinger, plaintiff in the case, against the Miller-Truit Oil Syndicate and others, Stitzinger's suit being for foreclosure of a mechanic's lien.

Judge Thompson also ruled that property owners on whose land the syndicate had erected derricks were not liable for damage.

According to legal minds here, the ruling would cause a radical change in business methods employed in such trusteeships.

CASE MAY BE APPEALED

It is expected that the case will be carried into the District Court of Appeal, and possibly into the Supreme Court, on appeal.

Two effects are looked for as a result of the opinion. Promotion of flimsy syndicates may cease immediately, as the liabilities incurred by such companies are asserted to ordinarily greatly exceed the assets derived from the sale of units. As the opinion applies to oil syndicates already organized, glutting of the market by unit holders in an endeavor to dispose of units menacing their private resources may follow.

How oil promoters have amassed fortunes through unsound schemes, and how the opinion puts an end to questionable practices may be seen through a hypothetical case. Promoters may determine to organize a syndicate through the sale of 5000 units at $100 each. Of these, 2500 units may be taken as the promoters' share. A commission of from 15 to 20 per cent may be charged for the sale of the remaining units. Liabilities are incurred through leasing, through construction of derricks, through overhead expenses, etc. Assuming that the cost of sinking a single well runs approximately around [illegible]0,000, or higher, the lease calling for the drilling of five or more wells, it may easily be seen that liabilities aggregating millions of dollars might quickly be accumulated.

Promoters have in the past sometimes accumulated fortunes through the sale of their share of the units. In the illustration above, unloading of the promoters' share of 2500 units might reasonably be expected to bring any amount from $100,000 up. Through the jeopardization of personal resources under the new opinion, purchasers of units will, in the future, it is believed, make sure of the character of promoters before buying. Hence it is expected that the opinion will effectually put a stop to haphazard organizing.

MANY FACE LOSSES

Through a possible glutting of the market, unit-holders are expected to incur serious losses, as the value of oil units may be greatly diminished. Still more serious losses may be suffered by unit holders who are unable to dispose of their units whenever an oil syndicate fails.

Promoters still holding units may also be expected to suffer, in some instances, the loss of fortunes amassed in the past through similar promotion schemes, if unable to dispose of their shares. In the case of syndicates organized on an unsound basis, this may result, as it is quite possible that the drop in value of such units might reach a point where they could not even be given away.

Despite the losses which may be suffered by innocent "suckers" a ray of sunshine for small investors is also seen as a result of the opinion. The argument that no personal liabilities are incurred through the purchase of units will no longer be effective, and great caution will be exercised by investors before units are purchased. Saving to California investors of millions of dollars, through protection from "wildcat" promotion as a result of the opinion, would therefore naturally result.

Notice Filed in Appeal of Degnan Case

Written notice of appeal and a request for a copy of the transcript of testimony of the trial, verdict and sentence of Michael Degnan, radium chemist, found guilty of simple assault and attempt to commit a statutory offense on Eloise Clement, author and lecturer, were filed yesterday with Judge Shenk by Le Compte Davis, counsel for Degnan. Davis expects to submit the case to the District Court of Appeal next Degnan was sentenced by Judge [illegible], sitting in the absence of Judge Shenk, to serve not more than twenty-five years in San Quentin penitentiary after the court had denied a motion for a new trial and a subsequent motion for arrest of judgment on the second count after the court had fined Degnan $500 on the count of simple assault. The fine was set aside by the court as irregular following pronouncement of sentence and judgment on the count of attempt to commit a statutory offense.

EARN AND YEARN

It is almost a sure thing that a man's yearnings will exceed his earnings. The Americans are great people to live beyond their means.

SALUTE THE FIN

Finland is one of our most modern republics, but to kiss on the lips is considered as an insult among its maidens. Possibly they do all their caressing with the Finns.

MANY REVOLUTIONS

An English airplane engine which makes nearly 2000 revolutions a minute is being tried out by the Mexican government. If the administration can learn to handle a contraption producing that many revolutions it will soon be able to take care of itself—even in Mexico.

POOR PAY

Auditors and accountants who have been going over the books insist that San Quentin is being operated at a loss. That seems to be a failing with our prisons. In a financial way they do not pay nearly as well as a feed store or a beauty parlor. Our penitentiaries are punk performers in the business world.

THE WOOL INDUSTRY

The wool clip in the splendid domain that is considered tributary to Los Angeles Harbor is valued at nearly $80,000,000 a year, but thus far there are but two woolen mills in the port district. Here is another direction in which industrial expansion would be perfectly safe and sane. Extension would not even mean competition. There would be room and opportunity for thousands of workers.

TEA AND A SHAVE

In an exclusive New York barber shop tea and music have been introduced for the refreshment or entertainment of patrons. It soothes the agony of a hair cut to have it done to the accompaniment of some passionate passages from "Samson and Delilah." Nowadays a man may drop into a barber shop for a facial pack, a shampoo, a manicure, a cup of tea and a bit of "Carmen." The close shave is in getting away with a nickel.

THE BIG CLUB

Americans are running to club life. In Chicago, for instance, there are at this moment projects under way for the construction of no less than eleven great clubhouses at a cost of nearly $40,000,000. One of them will be twenty-five stories in height and several of them will have hundreds of rooms in which members may pigeon-hole themselves away. Between the country clubs and the big city organizations the drift to high-priced club life in America is striking.

ENDURING DICTATORS

Premier Mussolini says that dictatorships can be made to last forever. This is a rather foolish declaration in the face of history. Usually a dictator who passes out leaves only a shell behind. In the very nature of things a dictatorship is an emergency government and, while it may be very efficient under certain abnormal conditions, it is not good for the permanent peace and progress of any race or people. Attempts to pass dictatorships on have usually fallen by the wayside.

OUR BEST SERVICES

Gen. Charles Gates Dawes is one of the Americans designated to consider the German budget with its possible application to a program of reparations. The United States is not exactly making an official appearance, but the good services of Gen. Dawes and others may properly be tendered. The general has achieved an extensive reputation as a pruner of budgets and if he could be of value in measuring German capacity against French demands Uncle Sam and the rest of the world would be glad to approve.

BRINGING UP PARENTS

Some of the upstanding members of the rising generation revert with some pain to the trouble they are having in bringing up their parents in the way they should go. Parents nowadays do not seem to understand—or, if they do understand, they do not respond. Complaints in this direction are quite bitter and frequent. In some cases a strain of positive wildness is indicated by the old man and perhaps the old lady herself develops a streak of recklessness. The seniors will sneak off and visit some show of which the children could not approve. They fall into the company of bridge fiends or indulge in the secret practices of home brewing without any commerce or association with their young. Nothing is more pitiful than to see an old guy striving to deceive his offspring. He has been off on a seclusive debauch with some of his cronies. They have been reading Whittier and blowing smoke rings, but he is trying to cover the orgy with glib tales of a strip poker party. The behavior of parents is certainly furnishing a full set of problems for growing youth.

THE BRITISH LABOR PARTY

Since the British Labor party won something like forty additional seats in the December elections and still remains the "opposition party" in the House of Commons there is naturally considerable speculation in other countries as to whether J. Ramsey MacDonald, the opposition leader, is likely to be called upon to form a ministry; and what the domestic and foreign policy of a Labor government would be.

Ramsey MacDonald, leader of the Labor opposition, has written a series of articles in which he sets forth what Labor would do if it were to obtain the reins of government. He says that there would be a strict observance of all treaty obligations and that there would be no interference with foreign trade.

Labor has denied its hostility to capital. Mr. MacDonald says that the Russian experiment has proved that capital is an absolute essential to employment and that a Labor government would encourage its accumulation. He stipulates, however, that it would be under a stricter governmental regulation than at present.

The Labor party has absolutely repudiated Communism. Mr. MacDonald says there would be no attempt to introduce Communistic forms in Great Britain. The right of private ownership of property would not be infringed upon.

As to the more radical planks of the Labor party, Mr. MacDonald says that they are ideals rather than present realities; that they are things which it would require at least a generation to introduce. The first aim of the Labor government would be to keep the ship of state floating in smooth waters. There would be no violent changes; but a Parliamentary campaign of education would be conducted.

As one reads the statements of the Labor leaders it becomes apparent that the party has grown in power by divesting itself of radicalism. It has become steadily more democratic and less Socialistic. The campaign of education has made its greatest progress in educating the Labor leaders themselves. The party no longer adheres to the principles of government and economies formulated by the German Socialist Marx.

The Labor leaders would not nationalize land and industry, even though they could command a Parliamentary majority. They would enforce a stricter regulation of industry and would impose additional land taxes. But there would be no confiscation.

Viewing the situation from this distance, it appears that radicalism has lost out in the Labor party and that the Conservative wing is in full control.

WHEN PRIMAS DISAGREE

Lilli Lehmann, once world-famous opera singer and now a coach for eager young aspirants for prima-donna honors, has made public her best recipe for success. She is a firm believer in the idea that "he travels the fastest who travels alone." For Mme. Lehmann declares that love and a career on the opera stage do not mix and she carries her opposition to Cupid so far that she refuses to coach any pupil who pleads guilty to being in love. She cites numerous instances of splendid careers that have been blighted when a fair soprano heeded the call of the little god or the bow and arrow.

However, there are other careers that should encourage the budding young opera star who has one eye on the laurels of a diva and the other on a wedding ring. Chief of these is Schumann-Heink, who declared that she sang much better after she had fallen in love than before. And her first success in opera was made when she was the mother of a very young baby and had to run home from the theater to see that it was properly fed. Mme. Lehmann believes that devotion to art cannot be complete if any other thing occupies a space in the singer's heart. But Schumann-Heink's large family occupied most of her heart for a very long time and she climbed to stellar heights.

However, it is not necessary to get worked up over the possibility of numbers of beauteous young opera stars taking vows never to gaze fondly on the opposite sex. In no other profession do people seem to fall in love so frequently. It is doubtful whether the public would be interested in a prima donna who had never had at least one love affair. They would be apt to think her abnormal in not living up to their preconceived idea of the hectic existence of a singer.

LINE BUSY

The United States leads the world in the number of telephones used, California leads the United States and Los Angeles leads the Golden State. Therefore, according to the simplest rules of logic, Angelenos have more telephones and use them oftener than any other people in the world.

The State Railroad Commission is authority for the statement that of the 58,000,000 telephone calls made daily in the United States residents of the State of California make 3,700,000. Los Angeles, with its 1,500,000 calls daily, has it all over her sister city of San Francisco, with a mere 840,000. Think of this next time you are tempted to pull the phone out by its roots because you get a busy signal repeatedly. It is estimated that the average number of calls per phone in other parts of the country is four daily, but our citizens get their full money's worth by putting in at least 7.5 calls a day.

Telephone company officials gloomily announce that a vast number of these calls are useless and prevent people who have real business to transact from getting service over their lines. While the service is nothing to brag about, still there is no limit placed on the time of conversations and the numbers of calls that may be made in a month, as is done in so many eastern cities. And if some of the 1,500,000 calls were eliminated persons in a hurry for a doctor or the undertaker might be able to get a connection occasionally without endangering their own health and dispositions.

OUR NATIVE SONS

The birth rate of the State is increasing and the completed figures for this year will run it up to twenty-one for each 1000 of population. This is considerably higher than past records. The young folks are just beginning to appreciate the advantages of a California birth and are qualifying as native sons and daughters at a swelling pace. At the same time there is a slight slump in the death rate. The statistician says that if this difference is maintained for 9,000,000,000 years the native sons of that time will live forever. On the whole, the outlook may be said to be fine.

GROWING MARKETS

Some of the economic experts are affirming that Uncle Sam's trade with the so-called Latin-American republics this year will aggregate nearly $2,000,000,000, as against some $750,000,000 in the year immediately preceding the big war. In this vast volume of commerce our own exports—which have increased nearly 300 per cent—furnish much of the showing.

Back in 1913 only 48 per cent of Mexico's imports were from the United States. This year the proportion will reach 76 per cent. In 1913 Cuba took only 51 per cent of her imports from the United States. This year the percentage is more than 75. In the countries once dominated by Germany we have made great gains. Argentina took only 15 per cent of her imports from the United States in 1913. This year the imports from America make nearly 30 per cent of the whole volume of foreign trade. In Brazil the share drawn from the United States jumped from 16 per cent before the war to 31 per cent in 1921 and will be much heavier this year. In Uruguay the proportion from America has nearly tripled since the war. In the case of the Dominican republic the imports from the United States now form 84 per cent of the total.

It is understood that of the total exports from our soil to the nations to the south virtually 80 per cent is represented by manufactures and machinery. In return we draw heavily on tropical products, food stuffs and sundry raw materials. It forms an admirable exchange and there is no reason why it should not be amplified and extended indefinitely. To the manufacturers and producers of the Los Angeles district this South American commerce should especially appeal. The increase is largely due to our own activities and with better understandings this trade will rapidly expand.

PERILS OF ECONOMY

The noodle of the average politician seems to be made up of two-thirds fog and one-third blue mud. At any rate, it is a dense and Stygian combination.

At Washington a lot of Congressmen are of the opinion that some villainy is going on because many voters and many newspapers have given their unaffected approval to Secretary Mellon's program of tax reduction. The politicians cannot understand it. They are looking for the little joker.

If the average politician should meet two men on the same street who took pains to inform him that it was a fine day he would arise in his place in legislative halls the next day and solemnly warn the country against the perils of this California propaganda, which was trying to saddle its climate, like an incubus, upon the very capital of the nation. In other words, if any considerable number of the citizens are of one mind or in favor of some particular measure there is something strange or dangerous about it.

Most perilous of all is any suggestion of economy or thrift. Most propaganda has a raid upon the treasury behind it. A campaign to save money is deep and unfathomable. What a politician cannot comprehend must be damnable. That is why some of the solons are now calling for a rigid investigation of the interests behind the Coolidge economy program. There is something sinister about movements to save the public funds. The tax-reduction projects are discredited by politicians of both parties. The Congressmen do not want to retrench and therefore are disposed to cast doubt and suspicion upon all suggestions to that end. We must be spared from the parsimonious horrors of national thrift.

FLAG OF THE FREE

The city of Detroit now flies an American flag that is 90 by 150 feet in size and weighs over 600 pounds. Its field of stars is 50 by 60 feet and it is declared to be the biggest flag in the world. The alien would have to be some tramp who could trample that under foot.

TWO MINUTES OF OPTIMISM

BY HERMAN J. STICH

You Never Can Tell

The most popular of American composers once played the piano in a New York East Side dive.

England's greatest living poet not so long since tended bar in Greenwich Village.

A country bumpkin tired of the plow went behind the counter, was fired, tried again—and in the course of years became the master alchemist of time—Frank W. Woolworth, who made millions out of nickels!

The man who enables us to turn night into light, to make Caruso sing at our pleasure, to mock distance, space and time was once known as "the brightest newsboy on the Erie—Tommy Edison."

"Why can't I do in tobacco what Mr. Rockefeller is doing in oil?" asked a young tobacco peddler of himself on reading a story about the oil king. Today James B. Duke has a first lien on pretty nearly every leaf of tobacco marketed in the United States and he practically dominates the "weed" industry in Europe. He says it is just as easy to become a tobacco king as to become an oil king!

Talking of kings, "king of the movies" would be a very appropriate title for George Eastman, who first got the idea for workable motion-picture films while trying heroically to support a widowed mother and several sisters and brothers.

Then there is Theodore N. Vail, who has put almost everybody, everywhere, on speaking terms.

And Gen. Goethals, who sliced a continent in two so North America and South America could lie back to back.

And Charles Schwab, who is still "steeling" marches on the best business brains in every land.

And hosts of others, such, who, when their years were young and their minds and muscles strong, kept their eyes and ears wide open, their mouth shut and their thoughtworks and energies hustling overtime.

It is mighty bad judgment and worse form to poke fun at or look down upon the man who has the habit of dreaming and "plugging."

You can never tell—he may finish up among the million_aires while the rest of us straggle along with the millions.

RIPPLING RHYMES

EARNING AND SAVING

"I envy James Augustus Steer," my neighbor, Dingbat, said; "he draws twelve thousand bucks a year, no lean wolf foes he dread; the demon care, a thing of fear, does not behind him tread. No matter what he may desire, he has the price on hand, a palace or a rubber tire or farm of fertile land; and handing all he may require, the merchant princes stand." "I do not envy those who earn great salaries," I cried, "unless they keep a cast-iron churn and put the coin inside; his coin James Steer is prone to burn as fast as it's supplied. I envy more the man who draws a stipend half as large and blows it not like Santa Claus or Cleo on her barge, but places it, with prudent paws, in yonder banker's charge. The country's full of gifted gents whose salaries are brave; where we acquire a row of cents, large rolls of bills they wave; but some day they will make laments unless they learn to save. Oh, don't let envy crush or mar your spirit, be serene; save money, do without a car, swear off an gasoline; to save a plunk is better far than blowing in eighteen." WALT MASON.

A REAL SERVICE

In his budget message, transmitted to Congress, President Coolidge has performed a valuable service for his country. In plain, blunt words he has shown us that we must choose between tax reduction and the soldier bonus and why that choice must be made, and made now. He makes the issue so plain that the dullest or the most evasive Congressman cannot miss it or avoid it.—[Philadelphia Ledger.

The discussion of the prices of turkey will now lie on the table until another Christmas rolls round. It has been a subject of debate for many years and just what makes the difference of from 10 to 20 cents a pound for the same kind of a bird in establishments not a square separated has never been settled.

A Los Angeles man has been named as one of the American committee to look into the finances of Germany and fix the amount of money that she is able to pay. THIS IS THE DAY

Iowa was admitted into the Union in the year 1846.

Woodrow Wilson, twenty-eighth President of the United States, was born at Staunton, Va., in the year 1856. He graduated from Princeton University in 1879. He was nominated for the Presidency in 1912 and, owing to a split in the Republican party, was elected. Was re-elected in 1916. He is the author of many essays and biographies, his best-known work being a "History of the American People," published in 1912. His state papers were literary models.

The last big battle with the Indians was fought in the year 1890. Gen. Nelson A. Miles, with 900 United States cavalrymen, defeated 3000 Indians commanded by Chief Big Foot. The Indians fled to White Clay Creek, where they were dispersed with heavy loss.

THE POOR

BY ALMA WHITAKER

Some people are so nice and practical about the "poor." Personally I am a rank amateur. During the Christmas season several dear people sent me some nice little lumps of wealth to dispense, so I had a great time oozing vicarious charity.

It wasn't at all hard to find "the poor." I had quite a sizable list and decided it would be good for my soul to take care of it myself.

This isn't going to be a sob story, but a confession.

For instance, I discovered, after psyching myself, that I like my "poor" to be really distressingly, hopelessly, disgustingly poor. When they were clean and courageous and a little proud and made their honorable best of the situation it did not have half the lacerating effect upon my sympathies.

It was the hopeless, miserable squalor, the whining despair, the tearfully inefficient who seemed so utterly incapable of doing anything courageous or proud, who had let their squalor get the best of them and were just darned wretched and dejected, that aroused my benevolent patronage to its most ardent generosity.

You see, the clean, courageous, proud ones, while so very much more deserving, make one feel so deucedly uncomfortable. One hates to seem patronizing, advice seems so futile, and—er—sympathy must be commensurate with his self-respecting standard of poverty. It dosen't seem quite decent to help them in a small way. Anything one does seems so inadequate and trumpery.

But in the squalid home, the utterly dejected home, one can be so magnificent on so little. And one can be so lavish with advice and even a little admonition on the side. They are used to patronage and accept it humbly. They know they are just "poor things." The sick father whines mournfully but gratefully, quite frankly with the hope of favors to come. The sloppy, pale mother gazes at one with pitiful thankfulness and pours her woes into one's ears. The dirty, ragged children stand around pop-eyed, as though one were indeed a guardian angel.

A few groceries, a few second-hand clothes, some old bedding and $5 worth of toys for the children make a perfectly sumptuous hit in a family like this. They call one "lady." They grovel. And, try as one will, one can't help feeling frightfully superior and kind and lady-bountifulish on—oh, well, the price of a couple of days' living expenses in one's own home.

But the neat, clean, self-respecting family calls for infinite tact. To be patronizing makes one feel indecent. And, besides, there is always that uncomfortable, subconscious feeling that, under other circumstances, this family would be quite as good as one's own. In fact, one has horrid visions that similar calamity might befall one's own family if fate should be unkind.

So one gives with embarrassment. One fears to insult. One pokes around in one's mind for the most tactful things to say. And the gift has to be more worth while—new, clean, carefully selected. One even feels the added responsibility that one should try to get the eldest boy a good job and help father out with a little credit at one's tailor. Oh, it is altogether much more exacting when one's "poor" are proud.

And when one's poor are quite obviously "gentle folks"—well, it is just an awkward nuisance. There seems to be a little cynical undercurrent whirring around one. The graciously expressed gratitude in the best English makes one sort of shiver. They are sorry for themselves for having to be grateful. They almost seem to be patronizing one by permitting one to help them.

Awkward social standards intrude themselves. Everything is so decorous and etiquettish. In fact, don't you know, this sort of "poor" can so easily make one feel vulgar, parvenuish. One yearns to apologize, to explain that one isn't really disgustingly rich, that, in fact, one has to be very economical and careful oneself. One yearns to tell them they need not be grateful all the time thinking they ought to be lots more grateful and humble. Which, of course, one never acknowledges, even to oneself. How dare the "poor" try to maintain their best social standards? How dare they not seem righteously completely, properly poor?

But perhaps the most distressing form of benevolence of all is when one tries to be gay and cheery and consoling and generous to a woefully disabled veteran.

How the dickens can one be gay and cheery and consoling to a man who has lost all that is worth living for in the cause of his country, my country, our country? Anything one says or does seems utterly fatuous. He has given everything, nothing left to give, nothing left worth giving. And we expect to "cheer him up" with [illegible] well, what? How utterly inadequate anything we can give seems. If we gave him $1,000,000 it would still be irony, still be piffling. And if he is grateful—it breaks one's heart. How shudderful to have him be grateful for a little trifling consideration at Christmas time, a little pity, a little hasty, inadequate sympathy.

Sometimes they are not specially grateful. There is a little cynical smile around what is left of their poor faces, a little cynical gleam in miraculously spared eyes. That affronts one, too. How dare a patriot, a war hero have that sort of a disposition? He ought to be magnificent to the end. . . .

And so, dear God, ought we to be now that Christmas is over, glad that our fine effulgence of benevolence is not expected to shine quite so brightly. . . . well, perhaps that is why that cynical little smile is apt to haunt one.

I don't know. This matter of being a benevolent benefactor leaves lots of queer, uncomfortable memories behind. You see, the poor are "always with us." They ought to be considerate and only be poor at Christmas time. And then, by all means, they should be desperately poor, with [illegible] uncomfortable pride.

How it looks to Mars

[From the Martian "Observer."]

"All doubts that Earthites are human beings, capable of reason, may now be set at rest, as a result of the first radiophonic conversation ever held between Mars and Earth," Prof. Marwin, proponent of the Marwinian theory, announced last night. "I talked with an Earth woman just as one would talk with a fellow-Martian by wireless telephony and have her own assurances for it that Earthites, except husbands, are entirely reasonable," he continued.

"To make this test unquestionable I first studied Earth news and Earthites in the news, both by radiophone and radioscope, and selected one who gave least promise of being reasonable, a St. Louis lady who had just secured her thirteenth divorce.

"'Do you look on marriage as a success?' I asked to break the ice.

"'Success?' she responded. 'No, rather as a succession.'

"'Then why are you so persistent? Is it that you yet hope to find a mate who will prove as satisfactory after as before taking?'

"'Oh, no,' she sighed. 'I'm not that optimistic. I just learned when I was young that variety is the spice of life.'

"'And your ultimate ambition?'

"'Well,' she replied, cryptically, 'we have a saying that there are fifty-seven varieties.'

"'Do you reason?'

"'Absolootly! You just watch how hard some women work to get married once and you'll realize it takes brains as well as—er—figure to get to the altar thirteen times.'

"Realization of that staggering fact was enough to convince me," Prof. Marwin continued, "but I maintained the conversation for some time. It all tended to strengthen my convictions, and I defy Dr. Bri Un to make the test himself."

Dr. Bri Un, leader of the movement to have the Marwinian theory banished from our schools, laughed in a high key when asked to comment on the foregoing.

"I must thank Prof. Marwin for disproving his own obnoxious theory," he said. "Any Martian must realize that men who will still court a lady who has been so much married are incapable of thought. Any Martianess who is married will know that a woman who is still in the marrying game after ten or twelve disappointments is unreasonable, even for a female of the species. And can the social condition which permits such travesties on marriage be called civilization?

"What could be more fallacious than the assertion that it takes brains to get married? [illegible] study of Earthites convinces [illegible] that brains are the one thing [illegible] do not yearn for in their [illegible]. With my X-rayascope I [illegible] looked into the heads of a [illegible] of frequently married [illegible] males last night and compared the brains of any of them [illegible] Post Toasties.

"To further disprove the Bri Unwinian theory I quote that most [illegible] and accepted Earth saying Prof. Marwin also quoted, 'Variety is the spice of life.' All over Earth it is believed and is the cause of incalculable sufferings and [illegible]. All Martians know that sameness is the spice of life, and all things which conflict with it are harmful to health, worthy achievement and happiness. What better example of that could be found than a woman who has tried thirteen varieties of marital unhappiness?"

'side-walk traffic'

In determining the value of business property, "sidewalk traffic" is one of the most important considerations.

With a growth of 400,000 in the last three years, Los Angeles has greatly increased its "sidewalk traffic."

As a result of future growth—

What will happen to present property values?

How far will the "Business District" extend?

What new business centers will be developed?

San Diego Welcomes You

Arrange today to take this delightful trip down the coast to a delightful city.

Come prepared to spend a week, a month or the entire winter. There's much to see and much to do in San Diego all the time. Of equal importance, you will find splendid, reasonably priced accommodations in a hundred or more hotels and a like number of apartment houses. Rentals for furnished bungalows, etc., also, are surprisingly moderate.

Each day will be one of joyful anticipation, because the sparkling, exhilarating air will lure you out of doors. Visits to Point Loma, the missions, beautiful Balboa Park, where each afternoon you may hear a concert at the great open-air pipe organ; the mountains, seashore, and to Tijuana, are suggestive of the many pleasant and interesting trips for which San Diego is the starting point.

You can come by Santa Fe Railway, by Admiral Line or Los Angeles Steamship Company, or by automobile over a highway skirting the ocean for 70 miles, and paved all the way.

If you cannot start today, send the coupon for the fascinating story of

San Diego California

Splendid industrial sites on San Diego harbor, owned by the Chamber of Commerce, and served by two transcontinental railroads; availability of raw materials; favorable power, water and construction costs, invite investigation from those interested in the industrial and commercial aspects of San Diego.

Call at the San Diego-California Club Information Bureau in Los Angeles

The San Diego-California Club maintains an information bureau in the Los Angeles Chamber of Commerce. Call and get acquainted. Those in charge will gladly advise you regarding your trip to San Diego.

SOCIETY

BY CORA YOUNG

One of the interesting affairs of the coming week will be the luncheon which Miss Gwendolyn Longyear is giving at Beverly Hills Hotel on Wednesday. This handsomely arranged event is in honor of Mrs. George Benjamin Hull (Amelia Hogan.)

The decorating will be carried out in holiday fashion, poinsettias being used in profusion with holly and mistletoe.

Dinner-Dance

The Wilshire Country Club will be the setting for the dinner-dance which Miss Catherine Newell will give on New Year's Eve in compliment to Miss Marie Bonner who is in Los Angeles for the winter.

Family Party

Mr. and Mrs. David H. Shol gave a delightful party on Christmas Eve for the members of the family and relatives. The house was attractively decorated with poinsettias and ferns and a large tree.

The guests included Mr. and Mrs. Guy Bush, Mr. and Mrs. Eli Bush, Mrs. Alexander Cameron, Mr. and Mrs. Jack Maddux, Jack Queline Maddux, Mrs. M. MacNaughton, Miss Lorraine MacNaughton and Mary Elizabeth Sharpe.

Driver-Webb

The marriage of Miss Dorothy Driver, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Sinclair Driver, and Mr. George Herbert Webb, son of Mrs. George W. Webb, was celebrated yesterday at 5 p.m., at the home of the bride's parents on South Normandie avenue.

Rev. D. Donat read the service, Mr. Driver giving his daughter in marriage. Miss Camilla F. Noble of Washington was maid of honor with Mr. Charles W. Webb of Houston, Tex., as best man. The flowermaids were Mary and Janet Waltenstiel and Patsy Warwald.

The attractive bride wore a handsome white satin gown and carried orange blossoms. A reception and buffet dinner followed the service and after a wedding trip Mr. and Mrs. Webb will make their home in this city.

Going East

Miss Ethel R. Palmer and Miss Katherine Woodhead of San Francisco are on their way to New York and on January 1 they will sail for Europe. They expect to remain abroad several months.

Ford-Goosman

At the Little Church Around the Corner in Hollywood, Miss Rosemary Ford became the bride of Mr. Ernest Don Goosman at 4 o'clock yesterday afternoon. The bride is the daughter of Mrs. Newton Ford of this city. Mr. and Mrs. Goosman left last night for the East and following their honeymoon trip will make their home in Chicago.

Afternoon Tea

Mrs. James Calhoun Drake and Mrs. Mary Longstreet received a large number of guests Wednesday afternoon at tea at their home on South Hoover street. The affair was in honor of Miss Alice Hicks, who made her formal debut a few weeks ago.

Cheer For Children

Dr. and Mrs. Francis Henry Wade, who are here from the eastern coast for the winter, gave a delightful party on Christmas Day for eighty children at the Children's Hospital on Sunset Boulevard. They distributed dolls, mechanical toys, games, books, and many other appropriate gifts, including a large bag of oranges to each child.

Bridge Luncheon

Mrs. Elmer Mansfield of Cherokee avenue is giving a bridge lucheon today at Wilshire Country Club in honor of Mrs. Richard Carpenter Washburn of New York, who is the house guest of Mr. and Mrs. S. W. Garretson.

Open House

Mrs. Henry A. Coursen and her son, Mr. Walter H. Coursen, kept open house on Christmas day at their home on North New Hampshire avenue. Later they entertained members of the family and a few friends at dinner, including Mr. and Mrs. Charles E. Coursen, Miss Anna B. Coursen, Walter Coursen, Jr., Henry Coursen, Mrs. A. S. Marvel, Mrs. L. M. Fransheim, Mrs. Mary Curran and son, John, and Mrs. H. J. Hull.

Banquet and Ball

"Whatever You Do New Year's Day You Will Do All The Year"—

On the chance that the old superstition is correct, be sure to start the year rightly—especially food-wise. This means the best of everything Quality-wise, but not always the highest price-wise.

Nucoa

The Spread that Betters the Bread is "finest table quality"—absolutely pure, exquisitely fresh and delightful in flavor—the very best quality-wise.

Yet NUCOA, because it is made largely from the rich fat pressed from the snow-white meat of the cocoanut, is just about "half the price" of the usual Spread.

If you're not already using NUCOA be sure to start with it for the New Year.

The Season's Finest Harvests

Quality is something that cannot be imitated successfully, when it comes to food.

The flavor, the texture, the appetizing appearance of quality food is always apparent . . . . you cannot disguise it.

Everything that enters or leaves the Mary Louise kitchens is of the finest quality the market affords.

Which is interesting to the uninitiated, but lacking in news to the regular Mary Louise patrons . . . for all who have cultivated tastes know that nothing but "quality" foods, plus expert chefs, could attain the perfection of the Mary Louise cuisine.

Black Crepe and Jabots

It couldn't be simple, or smarter. But then—it's Vionnet. Black crepe with a long, straight sleeve. Two circular godet-like jabots placed at neck-line and waist-line, showing the dull and the shiny side of the material in their soft cascades. The shoes are the perfectly plain patent leather pumps beloved of the smartest of smart Parisiennes.

Memorial Site Mortgage to be Burned Tonight

The mortgage on a site purchased for a memorial clubhouse will be burned tonight, with appropriate ceremonies, by Los Angeles Council No. 473, Young Men's Institute, at the Gamut Club. The site is at Ninth and Albany streets, and the council expects to build its clubhouse within a year at a cost of $100,000.

"The institute has been dormant in Los Angeles for about six years—because the World War took so many of our members we had to discontinue our meetings—but we are renewing our public activities now with zeal and enthusiasm," said Thomas Connelly, grand president of the Pacific jurisdiction, speaking of the celebration. "We have dedicated ourselves to 'The Boy,' and have pledged that we will do our best toward making the leaders of tomorrow better men, better citizens and better Christians."

A vaudeville program to be followed by dancing has been arranged for tonight by Edward Purpus.

More Money Is Needed to Push Work on Sewer

The work on the new sewer from the city to the sea has progressed so rapidly that an additional $5,000,000 is necessary to cover work already under way or contracted for, the City Council was informed yesterday by the Board of Public Works. The board requested the Council to advertise for bids on a $5,000,000 block of the $12,000,000 bond issue for the sewer authorized in 1922, and that this block of bonds be sold by January 9.

It is expected that work on the sewer will be completed by next November. Work is either progressing or contracts have been let on all sections, it was stated, and the money is needed as rapidly as possible.

AUTO VICTIM DIES

Claude Bergeson, 55, of 1022 Santee street, died at General Hospital yesterday as a result of injuries received Christmas Day. She was a newspaper vender and had but one arm. She was struck at the corner of Ninth and San Pedro streets, according to police report, by an automobile driven by S. Fukin of 118 Gage street.

THE LAST WORD

BY ALMA WHITAKER

HIS TASTES

Big Brother looked distinctly disgusted.

"Oh, I say, mother, whoever gave Jerry a doll?"

Jerry, being a stalwart example of 3½-year-old mascul will understand that Father and Big Brother are proudly sex.

So I was sort of artful, being the sole representative of feminity in the household.

"Good idea—help to develop his paternal instincts," I murmured guilelessly.

"Oh, shucks! Dolls are for girls. Say, Jerry, come over here and look at this fine train. That's more in your line, old man. What do you want with dolls?" Big Brother was trying diplomacy.

Little Jerry dutifully handled the train—with one eye on the pretty dolly. "Me likes the dolly," he announced sturdily.

This was too much for Father and Big Brother.

"Say, don't make him a sissy. Oh, law, fancy a boy playing with dolls. Don't let him have it Mother. Oh, gee, we want a manly boy."

"I don't see why a boy can't be manly and like dolls, too." I observed judicially—but a little uncertainly. It is sort of against traditions.

"Me may keep ve dolly, muvver, can't me? I like the pretty dolly," remarked the person most concerned. And to their united horror, he grasped the doll lovingly to his manly young breast.

We waxed quite controversial after that.

"As a matter of fact," I grinned maliciously, "you two would like to nurse that doll yourselves. You would if you weren't afraid of being thought 'unmanly.' And you'd be giving way to your finer instincts at that. Why does the male of the species always feel that he has to pretend to be hard and hide his nicest sentiments?"

They looked utterly shocked. Really, don't you know, just as though a manly fellow could ever be sentimental—and about dolls.

"But you like to see little girls playing with dolls," I reminded them. "You love to see them playing 'mother.' You think it is quite important that they should be encouraged to grow up nice little mothers and you agree that playing with dolls help them to do it."

"Oh, that's different. Very different. Oh, say, you just can't have that kid going round with a doll," they glared.

But in the meantime "that kid" was trying to give the doll a ride on the train and every time it fell off he picked it up and loved it quite oblivious of the derogation to his masculinity.

"He is going to love the dolly if he likes," I announced ultimatumly. "And maybe he will grow up to be a really nice loving manly father."

"If it was only a teddy bear or a woolly dog," they moaned. "But a doll . . ." words failed them.

"I would just as soon have him love a dear little baby doll as a silly ugly monstrosity of a teddy bear or a caricature of a dog," I snipped. "And as for the toy gun and the box of soldiers—well, they are just going out, that's all. There isn't anything amusing about seeing a little curly-headed boy baby knock toy soldiers down and play war with a toy gun any more."

"Well, but there's the train and the ball and the jumping jack and the airplane," snorted Big Brother. "Oh, say, Jerry" (in a last wild appeal) "come here and look at this fine airplane. Look, it really flies."

But Jerry grasped his dolly tight, while dutifully looking at the airplane, too. "Can I give my dolly a ride in it?" he wanted to know.

That finished Father and Big Brother. All hope for Jerry's manly future was rapidly Maybe they had better and teach him to box ball about and chin something, anything this awful feminine want to tell you about my dinner, too. Up to now I have had nothing to eat except my orange juice and one bottle of modified milk a day and my own precious milk made for me by my dear mamma. I have told you about her diet which she takes to make my milk so splendid.

Well, on Christmas Day I had a Christmas dinner! I had my first taste of solid food. It was only a little, just half a teaspoonful of well cooked farina, before my bottle. Mamma gave me only about one-fourth teaspoonful for the first mouthful, and I liked it! Of course, having only two teeth I did not chew it, but I worked it around well in my mouth, and then mamma gave me the other quarter teaspoonful. The whole family watched me interestedly. Strange, how everything I do interests them so much.

Mamma explained to Grammie that to begin at about six months to feed the baby cereals was the modern way of feeding, and she explained in what tiny amounts the solid food must be taken and how gradually it must be increased, not over one-half teaspoonful every other day.

And Grammie laughed and said: "That's not so very modern! We used to give babies tastes of things from the table in my day." But mamma explained quickly that I was not going to get any tastes of anything from the table! That I was going to have my little tastes given to me very scientifically and only at my own meal times, so that my little digestive track could develop power to handle them. She told Grammie about the directions doctor had given us, and Grammie remembered that table-tastes had sometimes caused trouble in her time!

You remember I gave up my space in our column for a while so doctor could give you those directions for feeding babies. If you have forgotten them and will write my doctor, enclosing a self-addressed, stamped envelope, she will give you a list of modern books on the subject, and she will also give you her article on the diet for the nursing mother, the same as my mamma has.

I'm glad my Grammie is back. I love her.

Au Revoir, Mammas.

ADVANCES BROADWAY EXTENSION

Council Approves Map of Assessment District for Street Improvement

The City Council yesterday took another important step to bring about the opening of Broadway from Pico street to Forty-first street when it approved the map of the assessment district, the property owners in which will pay for the improvement.

The Broadway opening will be the third of three great major street improvements to be put through in Los Angeles in recent years. The first was the opening of Hill street from Washington street to Santa Barbara, actual grading of which is now proceeding as well as the laying of curbs. The cost of the improvement will be about $1,000,000, and over three years was consumed in condemnation proceedings in the courts to secure the land required for the street. When these were decided the houses in the path of the new street had to be sold and removed before the grading could start.

Proceedings have been started and are now under way for the opening and widening of Tenth street from the east to the west city limits, and this improvement will likewise require several years to complete on account of the necessary condemnation of the large number of buildings which must be taken over and torn down or removed. This improvement will cost about $5,000,000.

The Broadway opening will cost between $4,000,000 and $5,000,000 and will provide another north and south traffic artery.

Bail Fixed in Case of Echo Bank Suspect

Bail was set at $20,000 yesterday in the case of Edward Aasen, alias J. E. Swanson, indicted by the grand jury on a charge of robbing the Echo Park branch of the Citizens' Trust and Savings Bank on October 8, last. Aasen is under arrest in Washington, and will be returned here for trial.

The grand jury also returned indictments against George Goldie, accused of a statutory offense against a young girl at the automobile camp on San Fernando Road, and Gerald Carrere, accused of obtaining money under false pretenses from William Strickler, S. J. Ulrey and L. D. Doke. Carrere was convicted of a similar offense recently, but was granted a new tiral. Bail in Goldie's case was set at $10,000.

Elizabeth Jordan's Column

A MERRY CHRISTMAS!

Christmas, which should be the happiest season in the year, finds most of us in too great a condition of exhaustion to enjoy it.

We have had three or four months of the strain of city life, following our return from the country. We have put our homes in order after the summer vacation, and possibly we have had painting and papering and kalsomining done, with the peculiar attendant difficulties of such enterprises at this period of the world's history. Also, we have done our Christmas shopping, and, of course, we have left it till the last possible moment, despite the almost hysterical appeals of merchants to come early and avoid the rush. Furthermore, while we were doing it at the last possible moment, we have been forced to listen to the sympathetic comments of three or four friends who actually did their holiday shopping early, and who are now receiving as their reward the privilege of watching the sufferings of others.

So, of course, as a result of all this, we are tired. Being tired makes us cross. We are not in the Christmas spirit. We suffer from an inclination to snub the children and to bite the stars.

THE USUAL RECORD

All wrong, of course. And all our own fault. For in shopping late we simply proved anew to our circle that we are not really efficient, and in getting nervous and grouchy over it we are proving that we lack self-control. Also, by making those around us unhappy by our grumbling we are putting on them the punishment which we all deserve and which we alone should bear.

Let's do better next year. And let's begin right now by profiting by the blunders we have made this year.

For example, we bought Aunt Maria a clock, when a clock is the last thing Aunt Maria desired. She has four clocks. What she needed and would have been very grateful for, and feels she cannot afford herself, is a new sweater. Let us start our 1924 Christmas list here and now, and put on it a new sweater for Aunt Maria.

We chose for Uncle John a fountain pen. A fountain pen is an excellent thing to own, and there are those who cannot live without one. But, as it happens, Uncle John has a prejudice against fountain pens. He will undoubtedly throw this one into the waste-paper basket. He would have liked a new bill-case, which we could have got for the same price, but unfortunately we forgot that he needed one. We'll make a note to get him a bill-case next Christmas.

THE COOK'S SAD BLOW

We bought the cook a wrapper. She has two, and what she needed was a new overblouse. She will be far, far hence by next Christmas, but we'll give an overblouse to any successor of hers who happens to be brightening our home during the holidays. (After which we'll discover that what the successor wanted was a new wrapper—for this life is full of ironies.)

Mary wanted a mah-jongg set this Christmas. We couldn't afford it, so we'll save up and give her one next year. Meantime we bought a silk scarf for her, blithely regardless of the fact that she already has two.

What grandmother needed was a new wadded jacket, to wear in the mornings till the house warms up. We forgot that, and paid $5 for a collection of Bible stories that are too modernly treated to please her. Besides she knows more about the Bible than any author of Bible stories.

What we got for Jack is too shocking to tell. We bought him a new bridge lamp, poor man, when what he wanted was a smoking jacket!

What we really ought to do is to go out and buy all the right things now, and charge the cost to experience.

Oh, yes, we've all made a mess of most of our shopping because we began too late and didn't give enough intelligent thought to it. Don't let's begin too late next year. And in the meantime let's be merry, anyhow.

A Merry Christmas to all!

BUSINESSES TAX EXEMPT HERE GIVEN

Occupational License Fee Repeal by City Effective Next Tuesday

The repeal of the city occupational license tax becomes effective next Tuesday, and thereafter only those business establishments which receive inspection service from the health, police and other departments pay licenses to the city government. The elimination of the occupational tax will reduce the citly's income more than $600,000 annually. City Clerk Dominguez yesterday called attention to the provisions of the new ordinance and requested that no owners of business establishments here listed send in their usual license payments to the city government:

ADDING MACHINE PLANT GETS AID

Mortgage of $35,000 is Granted Factory

Shutdown Follows Lack of Financial Help

Stockholders Now Predict Early Reopening

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH]

POMONA, Dec. 27.—That a $35,000 mortgage has been placed on the factory of the Teetor Adding Machine Company's plant here, which closed for an indefinite period several weeks ago, was reported here today. It is said that the mortgage was taken by C. L. Waldo, a real estate broker having offices in the Loew's State Building in Los Angeles.

Shortly after the factory closed down, November 24, a director's meeting was held at which time a committee was appointed to secure a mortgage, if possible, so that the plant could resume operations and get on a working basis. Up to the time of the shutdown, tools and other material necessary for the manufacture on a production basis had just been completed.

Funds on hand not sufficient to finance a selling campaign, was given as the cause for closing. President Lamport could not be reached today for a statement, but local stockholders look for an early resumption of operations at the West Second-street plant of the company.

STOCKTON WOMAN HIT BY AUTOMOBILE DIES

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH]

FRESNO, Dec. 27.—W. O. Miller of Stockton today faces the possibility of a manslaughter charge following the death last night in a Modesto hospital of Mrs. O. M. Frescher of Riverbank, from injuries received when she was struck by Miller's machine on the 15th inst. An autopsy has been ordered to determine the cause of the death of Mrs. Frescher, who was the wife of a Riverbank chiropractor and a charge of manslaughter is expected to be lodged against Miller if her death is found by an inquest to have resulted from the accident. Miller was charged with reckless driving and driving without a license after the accident. Funeral services for Mrs. Frescher are being held in abeyance pending the autopsy and inquest.

IMMEDIATE SALE OF BOND ISSUE PLANNED

By a "Times" Staff Correspondent

SANTA MONICA, Dec. 27.—All of the $1,000,000 bond issue voted by this city for improvements on the waterworks system will be issued and sold at once, it was made known this morning. An ordinance has been adopted providing for the immediate issuance of the entire amount. This action was unanimously taken by City Commissioners, despite numerous suggestions that only half the bonds be issued at the present time. Commissioners contend that the condition of the bond market warrants immediate sale of the entire issue. The prospects that municipal securities may not long be exempt from taxation also lead executives to believe that now is the proper time to dispose of the entire issue.

CONDUCT LAST RITES FOR LORENZO PRATT

By a "Times" Staff Correspondent

SANTA MONICA, Dec. 27.—Funeral services for Lorenzo B. Pratt, senior member of the firm of Pratt & Lacy, who died suddenly at his home, 1718 Seventeenth street, following an illness of less than one hour, were conducted this afternoon at Grace Methodist Church. Burial was in Woodlawn Cemetery. Mr. Pratt was born in Oakland county, Michigan, July 18, 1857. He moved to this city in 1919, where he entered business with his son-in-law. Mr. Pratt had made a wide circle of friends during his residence in Southern California.

ROSE FETE FACES DEFICIT

Pasadena Officials Call Meeting to Discuss Shortage of $15,000 Needed for Tournament

By a "Times" Staff Correspondent

PASADENA, Dec. 27.—Tournament of Roses officials today called a special meeting to discuss means of meeting the oncoming crisis, that of facing a $15,000 deficit. As yet no means of meeting this debt has been reached.

The Tournament of Roses Association is a nonprofit organization and in an effort to place the approaching New Year's Day football game on a strictly collegiate basis, the officials turned the affair over to representatives of the University of Washington and Navy. The tournament was to receive a small rent for the use of the stadium.

Now the Navy has returned a block of 10,000 tickets to the Tournament of Roses for them to sell as, they declare, it was found that a great number of the sailors who had expected to attend would be unable to do so as they must stay aboard to prepare for the naval forces' departure to southern waters.

This throws the responsibility back upon the Tournament of Roses to sell all the tickets at $3 each. It was the Navy who insisted upon making all seats sell for $3 so that the sailors would all be able to come.

One plan suggested for meeting the loss was to request 150 citizens to each give $100 as a fund, the understanding being that this money would be returned from subsequent revenues.

WOMAN CAR DRIVER HELD AS SLAYER

Manslaughter Warrant is Served After Crash at Long Beach

By a "Times" Staff Correspondent

LONG BEACH, Dec. 27.—Mrs. Edna Bledsoe, 20 years of age, living at 1407 East Seventh street, was arrested tonight by Detective Sergeants Smith and Hanners on a warrant charging manslaughter in connection with the fatal injury of F. M. Brunton of 2501 East Fifty-third street, Los Angeles, when he was said to have been run down by an automobile driven by Mrs. Bledsoe here Christmas Day. She was released on $10,000 bail for a hearing before Police Judge Hawkins tomorrow at 10 a.m. The complaint against Mrs. Bledsoe was sworn out by I. H. Brunton, brother of the dead man.

The verdict of the Coroner sitting in the investigation of Brunton's death today held Mrs. Bledsoe responsible and stated the findings showed that she drove the machine in a reckless and imprudent manner.

The accident occurred at the intersection of American avenue and Sixteenth street.

Brunton's wife, who had just stepped off an interurban car with him when the accident occurred, was hurt seriously and is being attended at Seaside Hospital. Her condition was said to have been slightly improved today. She is expected to recover.

CHRISTMAS CELEBRATED AT WHITTIER

State School Observes With Athletic Events and Program

[LOCAL CORRESPONDENCE]

WHITTIER, Dec. 27.—The annual Christmas activities were celebrated at the Whittier State School yesterday with athletic events during the morning and the afternoon, a sumptuous turkey dinner at noon and a Christmas entertainment and program in the evening.

The athletic events included baseball, basketball, volleyball, cageball and pushball, played during the morning hours; in the afternoon track and field events interested a large number of visitors as well as the boys at the school, and the contestants.

The evening program began at 6:45 with a radio entertainment which was followed at 7 o'clock by the program. Superintendent Nelles told the age-old Christmas story in a beautiful and impressive way, and a sextet from the boys' band played "Hark, the Herald Angels Sing" as an accompaniment to the ensemble singing by the boys at the school.

"Silent Night" was rendered by the boys' band. A violin solo by Miss Theresa Bessler was one of the artistic numbers on a particularly pleasing program. Santa Claus's distribution of gifts and a short program of motion pictures concluded the happy day.

RANGE CATTLE DYING FROM LACK OF WATER

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH]

SANTA BARBARA, Dec. 27.—Cattle in Santa Barbara county are reported to be starving and dying from lack of water. Late this afternoon a State Highway Commission inspector reported to county officers that fourteen dead cows are laying along the road south of Gaviota Pass. The cows were driven from the range by lack of water and were headed for the ocean when they became trapped in a canyon. Two twin calves were rescued today by the Santa Barbara Humane Society and are being cared for. The mother had died with the other thirteen cows and it is reported that the calves had no nourishment for five days. J. J. Hollister, president of the County Farm Bureau and one of the leading cattle men of the district, reports that conditions are desperate.

COLLEGE WILL REORGANIZE

State Institution at Fresno Plans Changes to Give University Tone to Departments

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH]

FRESNO, Dec. 27.—Complete reorganization of the Fresno State College has been decided on by the executive committee of the institution after several months of investigation and will be put into effect immediately, affecting all departments and branches of the college.

The reorganization is designed to overcome the general impression that the institution is operating a mere normal school and junior college, and to give the college a system of divisional and departmental organization more closely in keeping with the practice of American colleges.

As far as the actual work is concerned, according to plans made public by President C. L. McLane, there will be little change, but members of the faculty will hereafter be employed as instructors in the college, without special designation as to junior college or teacher training capacity. The special organization for purposes affecting the faculty as a whole and the customary scheme of committee activity will be continued as before.

The most significant features of the reorganization will be the avoidance of the terms "junior college" and "teacher training department," and the recognition of two general and co-ordinate sections to be known as the "division of liberal arts" and "the division of education." The official use of these terms will begin at once and each division will be in charge of a director, who shall have supervision over the curricula and other matters pertaining to students in his section.

MEMORIAL PLAN OPPOSED

Bakersfield Rotary Club Frames Protest Against Erection of Useless Mausoleum

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH]

BAKERSFIELD, Dec. 27.—Protest against the expenditure of a large sum of money for erection of a useless mausoleum as a memorial to the late President Warren G. Harding was voiced at the meeting of the Bakersfield Rotary Club today and will be given formal expression by means of a resolution to be forwarded immediately to the Harding memorial committee and to International Rotary.

A decision of slightly less importance was that the Rotary Club shall immediately join the ranks of those who are feting the victorious Drillers by inviting the football champions of the State to a luncheon at the club at a near date.

Frank expression of the opinion of the Rotarians as to the use it is projected to make of the dollars pouring into the Harding Memorial Committee from all over the United States, followed an announcement by Alex Wark, local chairman, that whereas the collections have not been proceeding as rapidly as was expected in Kern county, it is thought that with Christmas over there will be a renewed interest in the project. The query was raised as to what form the memorial is to take and Mr. Wark responded that it is proposed to erect a mausoleum, to purchase the Harding home at Marion, O., and to endow a chair at one of the larger universities.

VENICE, Dec. 27.—Extension of Rose avenue from Lincoln Boulevard to Palms Boulevard, one of the largest street projects proposed for Venice in recent years, seemed assured today with the announcement of the purchase of the S. M. Bernard property extending from the Santa Monica city limits to a point below Rose avenue. The property has been purchased by the S. M. Kraemer Company of Los Angeles and that organization has announced that it will undertake the proposed extension.

City officials have found it impossible to make noticeable headway in the opening of this thoroughfare due to opposition by property owners. But with subdividers taking the work on themselves without cost to the city, legal impediments and personal objections are removed, and the only delay will be the acquisition of materials and ratification of the Venice and county planning commissions.

It is proposed to open Rose avenue to a width of eighty feet and install an ornamental lighting system. The remaining land in the purchase is to be subdivided immediately. Owners say that permanent paving and attractive lights will feature the subdivision.

Drops Dead in Hotel Getting Ready to Dine

By a "Times" Staff Correspondent

VENICE, Dec. 27.—John Chambers, wealthy mining man of Tecopa, dropped dead from heart disease while he and his 15-year-old ward, Margaret Smith, were discussing their menu at a local hotel.

Chambers and the girl had come to this city for the holiday season. They had visited many of the concessions and returned to the hotel for lunch. Shortly after noon Miss Smith rushed into the dining-room and told the manager that something had happened to her "Uncle." Chambers was found on his back on the floor of his room. When Dr. Joseph Saylin arrived a short time later he pronounced the man dead.

The body will be taken to Garden Grove to be disposed of by a brother who resides there.

PASADENA TO DON GAY JUBILEE GARB

By a "Times" Staff Correspondent

PASADENA, Dec. 27.—Carrying out the plans for Pasadena's Jubilee Year celebration during which time scores of conventions and thousands of visitors will be entertained in this city the Chamber of Commerce today decided to paint all the lamp posts on Fair Oaks avenue blue and gold, the city's colors. The painting of these posts will be done as an experiment, it was stated, and if it proves successful all the lamp posts in the city will be so decorated. The bottom and tops will be painted gold, while the main trunk will be a dark blue. No brushes will be used as a method of spraying the paint on has been discovered. Scores of lots are now being plowed and blue and gold flowers planted in them. A great acreage in the Arroyo Seco has also been sown with seeds, all of which is a part of the jubilee preparations.

VETERANS OF FOREIGN WARS HONOR ATTORNEY

By a "Times" Staff Correspondent

PASADENA, Dec. 27.—Election of Harold D. Leddy, local attorney as commander of the Veterans of Foreign Wars was the first step taken in the preparation for the entertainment of 2000 delegates who will attend the departmental convention of the organization in this city during the Jubilee Year of 1924. Mr. Leddy's selection meets with the approval of the entire organization and it will depend upon his executive ability to make the convention a success. He served in France during the past war. The Veterans of Foreign Wars post was organized in Pasadena only a few months ago but is already taking an active part in civic affairs as well as attending to the needs of the service men. Earl F. Clark was chosen Senior Vice-Commander, and I. C. Howard was elected Junior Vice-Commander. Hobson H. Tarte was elected Chaplain.

REZONING PLANNED

Move Considered to Assist in School Establishment

By a "Times" Staff Correspondent

LONG BEACH, Dec. 27.—Changes in the city's zoning laws that will permit the establishment of schools and churches in any district of the city are being contemplated by the City Council, it was learned here this morning. No official action has been taken by the City Fathers on the question, nor has the matter been discussed in open sessions. It is understood that the question will come formally before the Council at its meeting on January 8.

Protest on the part of property owners against the establishment of a private school in an exclusive residential district several weeks ago has brought the matter to a head, it is said. The Council, in this particular case, ruled against the property owners and authorized the rezoning of the district to permit the school's location. The stand was taken that the city's public schools are entirely inadequate and that every private school that can be added here should be encouraged.

CONFETTI AND TICKLERS HIT

Not Sanitary, Long Beach Police Chief Says in New Year Edict

[By a "Times" Staff Correspondent.]

LONG BEACH, Dec. 27.—No confetti, no whips, no feather ticklers.

This was the edict today of Chief of Police Yancy to govern New Year's Eve in Long Beach.

"New Year's Eve will be celebrated quietly here," he said. "We will arrest anybody using confetti, whips or ticklers. Confetti is insanitary; it falls on the street and people pick it up and throw it again."

Horns and rattles are not barred.

GIRD RANCH AT CHINO IN NEW HANDS

Historic Place Passes for Consideration of Over Quarter Million

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH]

CHINO, Dec. 27.—The old Richard Gird home place consisting of a twenty-two-room house and 716 acres of the most fertile soil in the valley, changed hands today, the purchasers being H. C. Davidson and Mr. Hamilton of Long Beach. The consideration was well over a quarter of a million dollars, according to reports.

Richard Gird, was the first white settler to build a house in the Chino Valley, and at his death, the land was acquired by the Chino Land and Water Company. With the passing of the historic old mansion and acreage to new hands comes the report that the property will be subdivided into a country club and residence tract. The setting for such a project is said to be ideal.

LONG ILLNESS TAKES LIFE OF CLUB WOMAN

[LOCAL CORRESPONDENCE]

HUNTINGTON PARK, Dec. 27. After an illness of several months, Mrs. Sophia Bartlett, 54 years of age, a native of Wisconsin, died at her home here early yesterday morning. Mrs. Bartlett was one of the members of the Woman's Improvement Club of Huntington Park. She was the wife of Harry P. Bartlett, Sr., who for several years has been secretary of the Huntington Park lodge of Elks. She is survived by her husband and two sons, Ross B. and Porter P. Bartlett. The funeral services will be conducted tomorrow afternoon at 2 o'clock in the Samuel Easterling chapel. Interment will be in the Inglewood cemetery.

TAXES IN PASADENA BREAK LOW RECORD

By a "Times" Staff Correspondent

PASADENA, Dec. 27.—Compared with cities of its own class only, the Pasadena tax rate was today declared to be lower than any other city in the United States. City Manager Koiner today stated that out of 177 representative American cities with populations greater than 30,000, Pasadena's tax rate for 1923 was next to the lowest. The City Manager obtained his information, he said, from statistics compiled by the Detroit bureau of governmental research.

LONG BEACH POSTAL SERVICE CONGESTED

By a "Times" Staff Correspondent

LONG BEACH, Dec. 27.—Completion of the delivery of Christmas mail, particularly packages, will not be reached until about Saturday, it was said at the postoffice here today by Fred B. Mattison, superintendent of mails. Thousands of bags of mail were still piled up in the postoffice today with every available man and woman in the local mail system working diligently to clear up the congestion. Several mail car loads for Long Beach are still at the Los Angeles postoffice, it was said. All former records for Christmas mail were broken here this year.

WOMAN INJURED IN CRASH AT SANTA ANA

[LOCAL CORRESPONDENCE]

ORANGE, Dec. 27.—Losing control of her automobile when it skidded on the rails, Mrs. Guy Ford, formerly of this city, now residing in Santa Ana, crashed head-on into an Orange-bound Pacific Electric car in Santa Ana, late yesterday, sustaining painful but not serious injuries. Mrs. Ford, driving alone, was showered with flying glass, receiving numerous lacerations and bruises. Her car was wrecked.

TEMPORARY BULKHEAD PLAN FOR LONG BEACH

By a "Times" Staff Correspondent

LONG BEACH, Dec. 27.—As the first step toward the establishment of a practical waterfront along the west shore of Long Beach, recommendations for a temporary bulkhead of sheet piling, protected by riprap, are slated to be made to the City Council by City Engineer Van Alstine. If the project is followed out, approximately 300 acres of waterfront land can be reclaimed, the city engineer will point out to the Council.

JURY DECLARES BANKER SUICIDE

Tragedy Occurred After Christmas Party

Check of Accounts Shows Them All Right

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH]

FRESNO, Dec. 27.—After a dramatic story by the widow of events that led up to the tragedy, a Coroner's jury today brought in a verdict that Joseph E. Andres, assistant cashier of the Valley Bank, who committed suicide early yesterday by shooting himself in the head, came to his death from a gunshot wound in the head, self-inflicted.

Sobbing out her story to the jury, Mrs. Andres revealed the fact that she and her husband had just returned from a Christmas party at 1:30 o'clock yesterday morning when he went into the living-room, procured a revolver, pushed his wife away when she attempted to take the weapon from him and sent a bullet into his brain while she was seeking help of a neighbor.

The body was found by Mrs. Andres and Frank M. Eaves, a teller in the Valley Bank and neighbor, to whose house the wife ran. Mrs. Andres testified that her husband had been suffering from nervousness and had worried over an automobile accident in which he wrecked his machine Christmas Eve while returning home after working late at the bank.

Andres's accounts at the Valley Bank were checked today by officials of the institution and were found to be in excellent condition. Funeral arrangements are awaiting the arrival of an aunt from Los Angeles.

Two Dead at Long Beach of Auto Injuries

By a "Times" Staff Correspondent.

LONG BEACH, Dec. 27.—Two additional deaths resulted today from automobile accidents within the past five days, and two coroner's juries met. Mrs. J. O. McDonald, 48 years of age, of Walnut Park, and Francisco Morez, 56, of Wilmington, died in Seaside Hospital.

Mrs. McDonald was hurt Friday night when her husband's car ran into an ambulance carrying Thomas A. Elliott, a sailor from the U. S. S. California, who had been hurt on a ride at the Pike. Elliott died soon after arriving at the hospital. These were the cases considered in Coroner's court, and the juries absolved the Jackrabbit Racer Company and E. J. Wood, ambulance driver, in each case, holding the sailor was hurt through his own negligence and Mrs. McDonald through her husband's.

Morez was struck down Christmas night on East Anaheim Road when he got out of his car to change a tire. The car that struck him went on without stopping and has not been identified.

METEOR SCORNS QUARANTINE

Hits Roof of Home at Long Beach Closed for Diphtheria

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE]

LONG BEACH, Dec. 27.—A meteor that fell on a quarantined residence here Christmas Eve broke into print today when the diphtheria quarantine ban on the home was lifted.

According to R. H. Beach, whose house was picked by the celestial rock for its terminus, the meteor is about the size of a cocoanut. It struck the roof, setting fire to it, and rolled off on to the lawn. When Beach tried to pick it up he found it too hot to handle and finally toted it inside on a shovel. He still has it and says it will cut glass like a diamond.

DRY CHASE SUIT LIKELY TO BE FILED

Utah Father Whose Son Was Shot by Officers to Bring Action

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH]

VENTURA, Dec. 27.—Suit to collect damages from Federal and Ventura county authorities as a result of his son, Floyd Waterbury, 18 years of age, being shot when he failed to stop at the command of Federal and county officers seeking bootleggers near here a week ago, will be instituted by Charles Waterbury, business man of Utah, and father of the boy.

Waterbury said he did not know they were officers and thought they were highwaymen. The officers shot nearly forty holes in his car and one bullet hit the youth in the shoulder.

AUTHORITIES SEEKING SISTER OF DEAD MAN

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH]

PORTERVILLE, Dec. 27.—Deputy Coroner Carl F. Lloyd is making effort to locate a sister of Hans Jensen, 53 years of age, Swedish ranchhand, who strangled himself to death with a shoe string at the Anderson Improvement Company's ranch west of here, yesterday. Personal effects of the dead man indicate that a sister lives in a town in Idaho, but at a late hour no answer had come from wires sent to her there. The body will be held at Lloyd's awaiting instructions.

SHEEP FOOD SHORTAGE

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH]

BAKERSFIELD, Dec. 27.—Although sheep men of the northern valley counties are killing off lambs because of a lack of natural feed for ewes, local sheep men do not anticipate taking such measures, with lambing season just starting, L. V. Olcese, prominent sheep raiser, declared today. A similar want of feed is felt in Kern county also because of the seasonal drouth.

JUNGLES URGED FOR NERVES

Mrs. Burge Tells of Shooting Lion Ready to Spring and of Perils of Wilderness

Trekking hundreds of miles over rough desert country and through almost impenetrable jungle, pausing now and then to shoot a lion or rhino, and being awakened at night by trumpetings of elephants prowling about camp, are all experiences that combine to cure a woman of "nerves" and restore her to the highest degree of physical vigor, says Mrs. R. T. Burge, wife of former Police Commissioner Burge, who arrived in Los Angeles yesterday to join her husband, whose return from an African hunting trip was reported a short time ago.

Mrs. Burge accompanied her husband on the entire expedition, which involved thousands of miles of travel through the wildest parts of the African continent, India and Ceylon. Mr. and Mrs. Burge brought back hundreds of mounted specimens of animals and birds shot during their trip. To Mrs. Burge belongs the honor of bringing down the first lion, a mammoth beast which she shot at a distance of only thirty feet and just in time to prevent its making a spring.

DUBIOUS OF HARDSHIPS

"It was a thrilling trip," said Mrs. Burge in describing her experiences, "and the best part of it was the benefit I derived physically. "When I left Los Angeles eighteen months ago the thought of the hardships of such an expedition left me somewhat dubious. I had not done any tramping or riding for years and had a notion that I should not be equal to the exertion of a long jungle journey. But I was mistaken. Riding a mule and wandering over the rough ground looking for game tired me at first, but before I knew it I was able to tramp all day long without fatigue and when we started for home I was hard as nails. There is nothing like living in the open and roughing it to tone up the system.

Mrs. Burge said the shooting of her first lion unnerved her and she also collapsed—when it was all over.

"We had reached the district where lions were found only the night before and had set off early to see if we could bag one. We had tramped about for hours and I was alone in a small open space among the rocks and tall jungle growth. Suddenly from behind a large rock a lion appeared. It paused on seeing me, growled and gathered itself for a spring. I leveled my rifle and fired almost instantly. The huge beast lurched forward and in less than a minute was stone dead.

NEVER WAS COOLFR

"I don't know how it happened that my self-possession did not desert me when I first saw the animal, but I never was cooler in my life. It seemed as if the gun in my hands gave me courage, and I fired as if it were no uncommon thing to shoot at a lion, although this was my first experience with big game. My husband, hearing the shot, appeared in a minute and as we walked over to examine the dead king of beasts my knees began to give way and I trembled all over. I couldn't make myself believe that I had actually killed the big brute and it was some minutes before I regained my composure."

After this episode the woman big-game hunter took part in the chase with a sangfroid equal to that of the men of the party. She shot other lions and even brought down a rhino, considered by some sportsmen the most dangerous of all African game.

"One morning early when we were encamped on a river I started down the bank alone, armed with a rifle," she said. "We were then in territory full of wild animals of all kinds and my husband had given strict orders that nobody was to leave camp unaccompanied. He was not awake yet and I disobeyed orders. Presently I reached a place where a huge hippotamus was taking his morning bath. I immediately opened fire and succeeded in killing it. My firing aroused the camp and dozens of our black porters came rushing up. They gazed in astonishment at the big river horse and then went back for ropes to drag the body ashore. We estimated that it weighed more than three tons."

Mrs. Burge suggested that while a hunting trip like this is fine as a health restorer, anybody who tries it must make up his mind beforehand not to show the white feather when confronted with a wild beast.

SHOULD SHOOT QUICK

"While most of the animals will run on seeing a human being, there are some that will stand their ground. When this happens there is only one thing to do and that is shoot and shoot quick. If the hunter shows signs of timidity and retreat, chances are ten to one that the animal will charge and that usually means an abrupt end of the nimrod's career. Some creatures are more treacherous than others, but it is well to keep a sharp eye on any jungle beast."

The party was housed in tents at night and one of the discomforts of the situation was the intense heat. "We were right on the equator and the sun's rays in that region have a penetrative quality found nowhere else," said Mrs. Burge. "We were of course forced to wear thick cork helmets all the time, lined with green cloth, as green has the power of breaking the force of the sunlight. The upper part of our spines was protected by a heavy pad for the same purpose. Unless these precautions are taken, sunstroke is inevitable to a white person. At that, the heat was often almost intolerable even on cloudy days, the cloud screen appearing to intensify the power of the sun, if anything."

Mr. and Mrs. Burge, who are guests at the Biltmore Hotel, are planning to build a home here, the interior of which will be furnished and decorated in tropical woods, such as ebony, mahognay, satin-wood and rosewood.

"But I hope to take another trip to Africa some time," said Mrs. Burge. "It was the most enjoyable outing I ever had."

SENTENCED FOR FRAUD

Use of Telephone to Victimize Papers Brings Term

Zine J. Brown, who was convicted recently of using the telephone to insert advertisements for which he never paid in local papers was sentenced yesterday by Judge Reeve to spend from one to five years in the penitentiary at San Quentin.

Brown's method of escaping payment was to give a false name and address when the ad was inserted. Collectors were unable to locate him, and a search was instituted, following which he was arrested.

James Taylor and L. Silva were also sentenced by Judge Reeve during the morning calendar. Both had applied for probation, but were denied. Taylor was accused of issuing false checks, Silva of burglary.

FUGITIVE CAPTURED

Arthur Langdon was rearrested yesterday in Los Angeles by Deputy Sheriff Heller after brief liberty from the County Road Camp near Lancaster from which he recently escaped. Deputy Sheriff Hunter on Tuesday notified the Sheriff's office here of the escape and asked them to watch the home of Langdon's parents near Elysian Park. Yesterday he was seen at the house.

LECTURER ENDS SCIENCE SERIES

Satisfaction in Material Things Lacking

Wrong Thinking Declared Man's Curse

Incorrect Thoughts Arise in Mortal Mind

Frank Bell, C.S.B., member of the Board of Lectureship of The Mother Church, The First Church of Christ, Scientist, in Boston, Mass., delivered the last of a series of lectures on Christian Science last evening at Tenth Church of Christ, Scientist.

The lecturer spoke in part as follows:

"The Bible avers that all things were made by God, that without Him was not anything made that was made. The Bible avers that God saw, comprehended, all that He had made, creation in its entirety, and behold, it was very good. It was right.

"The Bible avers that everything that was made, all reality, not only was in the beginning perfect and complete, but is now and everlastingly will be perfect and complete.

CONFLICT CITED

"But while revelation and reason agree as to the unanswerable fact, human sense argues through a thousand daily experiences, that discord, fear, sin, and disease, myriad forms and phases of evil, do exist, are a part of actuality; that creation, if it ever was good and right, was not sufficiently good and right to remain forever good and right.

"There is conflict, in other words, between pure reason and human experience. This conflict apparently is so one-sided that the propositions of scholastic theology seem sometimes to be reduced almost to a basis of mere blind hope of better things in another world; while materialism is tempted to continue the quest for contentment in things seen and felt, and animality is glad for an excuse to wallow in forgetfulness. These expedients of course do not suffice. Fear and doubt walk hand in hand with blind hope. There is no real satisfaction in material things. Pangs of suffering disturb the dream of sensualism. Human history testifies that the way of the believer in imperfection is hard.

PURPOSE GIVEN

"This fundamental proposition of Christian Science is indeed "according to the Scripture." Writes St. Paul to Timothy: "All scripture is given by inspiration of God, and is profitable for doctrine, for reproof, for correction, for instruction in righteousness: that the man of God may be perfect." The purpose of the Bible is to reprove, correct, instruct in rightness, until naught remains that denies the perfection of God's man. According to the Scripture, God is true, and aught that argues to the contrary is false.

MARY BAKER

When Mary Baker Eddy learned that it is the physical senses which presume to take issue with God's perfection, she saw that it is the impressions of these senses which constitute what the Bible terms the carnal mind, that is, enmity against God. If God's man is all right, the mind or sense which says that he is partly wrong is a lying minr, a false sense; and it is the business of Scriptural Christianity to reprove, correct, and instruct thought until the false sense disappears, that 'the man of God may be perfect, throughly furnished unto all good works.'

WARFARE CEASELESS

"Mortal mind must be put off. Why? Because it is composed of that material sense which is unable to resist the temptation to believe that mindless, inert, nonintelligent matter has the capacity within itself to think, to act, to live; to believe that man, therefore, is not the image and likeness of God, Spirit, but is a piece of physical mechanism. Mortal mind consists of the thoughts that it thinks. Therefore, as the Bible declares, 'we wrestle not against flesh and blood.' We are engaged in a warfare against wrong thinking."

Optimist Club Picks Officers for Next Year

James V. Westervelt, vice-president of the Pacific Desk Company, and for the past eight years secretary of the Los Angeles Optimists' Club, was elected president of the organization at the annual election yesterday. Lou B. Webster was elected vice-president, K. L. Carver second vice-president, Vierling Kersey secretary-treasurer and L. S. Rounsavelle sergeant-at-arms. H. H. Smock, Warren B. Bovard, E. U. Wheelock, Frank E. Geiger, F. H. Schreiner and Clayton L. Parkhill were elected governors for 1924.

James V. Westervelt

Mr. Westervelt, who was one of the organizers of the Optimists' movement, which was started in 1915, has taken a prominent part in all the club's activities since its inception.

During the past few years the Optimists' Club has fostered many charitable movements in the city of Los Angeles, among them being the erection of a library at the Barlow Sanatorium, and feeding the undernourished children of Los Angeles, to whom were supplied upward of 100,000 bottles of milk during 1923. At the recent Christmas meeting more than $5000 was raised for the benefit of the crippled children of Los Angeles. The Optimists' Club now has a charitable fund of more than $10,000 for the care of the crippled children during 1924.

HARDLY KNEW LOS ANGELES

Professor Who Lived Here Fifty Years Ago Returns; Old Love Romance Revealed

He had wanted to tell of the romantic days of the California of fifty years ago, but before Prof. E. A. Drake concluded his interview at the Alexandria yesterday he had disclosed another romance—the story of his recent marriage to the girl he had loved for forty years before he asked her to become his wife.

Prof. Drake is professor of economics at the college of mines, University of Texas, in El Paso. With his bride, whom he had secretly adored for forty years before their marriage, he came to Los Angeles a few days ago to show her the scenes where he had spent his youth. But the places that had remained so intimate in his memories could not be found. They had vanished and another California with great cities and greater beauties had arisen in their place. It was to relate these two comparisons—the Los Angeles and Southern California of fifty years ago and the Los Angeles and Southern California of today—that urged him to summon a reporter to his hotel suite. But another and sweeter story was obtained.

CAME WEST IN 1873

Prof. Drake came to California over the old Central Pacific Railway to San Francisco in 1873. He journeyed to Santa Barbara, then a town of 2500 population, by steamer, and obtained a position as school-teacher in the Santa Maria district, seventy miles north of Santa Barbara.

"I was only 17," he said. "There was not a school building in the district, but at that time Don Juan Pedro operated a saloon and billiard room in the same building. He moved the billiard table over to the saloon side and I taught my class of Mexican children in the billiard room, the lessons always punctuated by the raucous rabble in the saloon."

At the close of one of his school terms Prof. Drake journeyed southward to visit the thriving city of Los Angeles, which then boasted of a population of 6000. He traveled by steamer aboard the "old tub Kalorama," and planned to debark at San Juan Buena Ventura. A storm at sea prevented the ship from landing its passengers so, instead of spending a few hours aboard, the passengers were compelled to spend one week on the vessel. They were taken all the way to San Diego and then back to Santa Barbara.

A few months later the youthful professor again attempted to reach Los Angeles. He made the trip with a team and found here a bustling town.

"The population was chiefly Mexican," he said, "and the business district was at the junction of North Main and Spring streets, where the postoffice now stands. The streets were of dust, the sidewalks were of creaking boards and the principal attractions seemed to be the races that were being continually run along the business streets by the gaily caparisoned horses of the dons."

Prof. Drake saved money in Southern California. He took his savings back to Wisconsin, where he entered the university. Mary Lamb was a classmate. He fell in love with her, but before he gathered enough courage to ask her to marry him she had married another. For forty years thereafter he remained a bachelor, the while teaching classes in various State universities, in Missouri, in the University of Wisconsin, in the New Mexico State School of Mines, where he was president of the faculty as well as editor of the weekly newspaper in Socorro, and, finally, in the University of Texas.

"Was it your love for the girl who married somebody else that caused you to remain a bachelor?" he was asked.

"Well—I suppose so," he admitted. "She was the only woman I had ever cared for. None others interested me, so I just remained a bachelor."

FORTY YEARS PASS

Forty years passed, Prof. Drake said, but he continued to secretly love the girl of his college-day memories. She had gone East. He had gone West. They had never heard from each other, neither had never known where the other was, had never seen each other until shortly before Christmas, 1922.

"I read in the home paper where the girl I had known as Mary Lamb had become a widow and was back in the home town," Prof. Drake continued. He boarded the first northbound train, found her, renewed his courtship and they were married on Christmas Day, 1922. Their first anniversary was spent last Tuesday in Los Angeles, which, during his lonely forty years, had grown from a pueblo of 6000 to a metropolis of 1,000,000.

But one of these two romances Prof. Drake did not expect to reveal. He didn't think it was news.

COLLEGE ROMANCE ON BAR

Couple Married at Stanford University in Trouble; Wife Asks Divorce For Cruelty

A romance that had its inception on the campus of Stanford University struck a snag in the weary road of life yesterday when Rose C. Cheeseman, daughter of a professor of the University of Michigan, filed suit for divorce against Evans R. Cheeseman, said to be an official of the Mutual Life Insurance Company.

Among numerous acts of alleged mental and physical cruelty Mrs. Cheeseman said she suffered at the hands of her husband, was one in which for a period of two months he slept on the floor of the living-room of their home in preference to any of the beds in the house.

BONDS TAKEN

Cheeseman was also alleged to have withdrawn $1950 in Liberty Bonds belonging to the plaintiff from a safety-deposit box in a Pasadena bank for the purpose of securing a loan which he was said to have admitted he lost later in playing the New York Stock Exchange.

The complaint, which was prepared by Attorneys Fred Aberle, Jr., and Goodwin J. Knight, further recited that Cheeseman pursued a course of cruel treatment toward the infant daughter of the couple. He was declared to have beaten the child on several occasions, once with such severity as to leave black and blue marks on the child's body.

HEALTH BAD

Mrs. Cheeseman stated for several months during their married life she was in poor health, but that her husband had refused to recognize the fact, telling her she was "faking" and there was "nothing the matter" with her; that she was merely "neurasthenic."

While they were living at 4461 Oakwood avenue in this city one of the neighbors, according to the complaint, once said, "they — the neighbors — would have reported Mr. Cheeseman to the authorities long ago," were it not for the health of Mrs. Cheeseman."

After beating her on one occasion, Mrs. Cheeseman said, her husband said to other persons: "For three years I have tried to keep my hands off that woman and I am glad I beat her."

RECONCILED FOR WHILE

The plaintiff declared that she thereafter left the defendant and lived apart from him for eleven months, but they were reconciled on his alleged promise to mend his ways. He failed to live up to the terms of his asserted promise, according to the complaint, which said the couple finally separated the 17th inst.

They were married September 18, 1921, at Stanford University, it was stated.

BOY KILLED IN ACCIDENT ON TRAILER

Two Men Hurt in Truck and Auto Crash; One is Expected to Die

A boy was killed and a man so badly hurt he is expected to die, in traffic accidents yesterday. The dead boy is John Briggs, 11 years of age, of 1440 East Fortieth street. With another boy, he was hopping a ride on a trailer on San Pedro street, according to police report, and fell beneath the rear wheels when he tried to get off at the corner of Jefferson street. The driver of the truck was K. Hirata of 1228 South Hobart Boulevard. Officer Nelms saw the accident and took Briggs to Receiving Hospital, but the lad was dead.

Roy Manley, 45 years of age, of Central avenue, Burbank, suffered a basal skull fracture and Odin Askeland, 27, of Glendale was cut and bruised when the car he which they were riding collided with a truck at Sunset Boulevard and Western avenue. Manley was taken to General Hospital. The car was driven by Lloyd B. Davis of Glendale and the truck by W. A. Robinson of 454 West Forty-first street. Davis, Robinson and George I. Staub of Glendale, another passenger in the Davis car, were not injured.

FILM DIRECTORS TO BE AT WAMPAS BALL

The Motion Picture Directors' Association, through its secretary, Francis Powers, yesterday assured members of the Wampas, screen press agents, that a large number of the directors' association membership will attend the Wampas annual ball and frolic to be given in San Francisco on January 19. As the principal film actors and actresses already have promised to make the journey on the Wampas' special train, a full representation of the motion-picture world is assured.

Amanda Chapel Plans Program for All Creeds

The task of formulating a program of ethics which will satisfy the religious instinct of everyone, regardless of creedal faith, has been given to Rev. William C. Isett, who yesterday announced his acceptance of the pastorate of the Amanada Chapel Carthay Center.

Rev. William C. Isett

The position was offered to Mr. Isett several days ago by the founders of Amanda Chapel, whose idea was to make this a community church at which every one would be welcome to worship, regardless of their affiliation with churches of various denomnations. This policy will be carried out by Mr. Isett, who also announced that ministers of various denominations will be invited to speak from the pulpit from time to time.

Mr. Isett was recently pastor of the First Presbyterian Church of Kansas City, Mo., and will be remembered as the organizer of the educational and Chautauqua work at the Pacific Palisades.

Services will be conducted at Amanda Chapel next Sunday morning.

POLICEMAN'S FUNERAL ATTENDED BY OFFICERS

Thirty-eight uniformed policemen, with color sergeants and guards, yesterday attended the funeral of Patrolman Albert C. McGuire at Edwards Brothers' chapel, 936 West Sixteenth street. The services were conducted at 2 p.m. by Dean MacCormack of St. Paul's Cathedral. McGuire had been working out of the Central Station since his appointment to the force in May, 1918. He was 35 years of age.

ENGAGE ENGLISH STAR

RUBY MILLER TO APPEAR IN NEW FINE ARTS PLAY

By Grace Kingsley

Following the announcement that Frank Elliot, English actor of stage and screen, is to act as the new stage director at the Fine Arts Theater, comes word that a famous London actress is to be the star of the new play, "Tiger, Tiger," which will follow the successful run of "R. U. R."

The Fine Arts star will be Ruby Miller, who had her own theater, the Garrick, in London, where she produced many plays. She appeared in plays of Shaw, Ibsen, Galsworthy and others. She had toured South Africa and Australia before coming here. Miss Miller is a beautiful and brilliant young actress, whose record guarantees that she will be a huge success here, and it is expected that France Goldwater, manager and producer of the Fine Arts Theater, will send her back to New York in a new play later on.

"Tiger, Tiger," by Edward Knoblock, served as a vehicle for Jack Barrymore and Frances Starr in New York under David Belasco's direction. It is considered one of the finest dramas ever on the New York stage. The leading role which served Miss Starr is the one which Miss Miller will essay. It is the part of a slavey, and has great acting possibilities. Miss Miller played a leading role in a Robertson-Cole feature picture, and those who know say that when the picture is released it is certain to gain other big film roles for her.

A note of interest in connection with Miss Miller's engagement is the fact that Doris Lloyd, another well-known London actress who first gained fame in England when she played a supporting role with Miss Miller in "The Edge of Beyond," is now appearing with Margaret Lawrence in "Secrets" at the Majestic.

The leading man who will play opposite Miss Miller is none other than Vernon Steele, also an English player, who has been in the West playing in pictures during the past year.

Other important parts are to be played by Dorothy Cummings and Marjorie Bennett, the latter a sister of Enid Bennett.

A season of great prosperity is looked forward to by Miss Goldwater, who has purchased the rights to several important plays for production at the Fine Arts Theater. "R. U. R." has been doing so well that it is considered necessary to run the play another week after this. Sunday night performances also had to be introduced to meet the demand for seats.

Miss Goldwater has purchased the rights to a number of clever plays. That which will follow "Tiger, Tiger" will be "The Adding Machine," another brilliant satire, this time on the efficiency expert, which was played in New York last year, and which is expected to make as big a hit as has "R. U. R."

MADGE BELLAMY WILL PLAY FEATURE ROLE

Lovely young Madge Bellamy has been loaned by Thomas H. Ince to the Fox Film Corporation to play the featured role in a big western picture shortly to be commenced at the Fox studios.

Jack Ford will direct the picture, which is to be made largely on the desert. The company is to leave for location on Monday.

Miss Bellamy has been playing in an all-star cast picture directed by Bruce Mitchell at the Ince Studios with Lila Lee and James Kirkwood also co-featured.

Juvenile to Wed

Romance has once more invaded picturedom, and a wedding in filmland will shortly take place. Edward Phillips, rising young juvenile, who is playing a leading role in the Fox production of "The Plunderer," which George Archainbaud is directing, is soon to marry.

Phillips's bride will be Patricia Crawford, daughter of a prominent lumber merchant of Vancouver, B. C., and the wedding will occur sometime early in the new year, according to present plans.

The pair met in San Francisco while the young actor was appearing in "The Fog" last February. The introduction took place at a private party and it seems to have been a case of love at first sight.

Warners to Resume

The Warner Brothers' studio is to resound with activity in the near future, the go-off to take place on January 7, when cameras will start to grind on the Harry Rapf production "Broadway After Dark," which Monta Bell is preparing for the screen. Mr. Bell, recently associated with Charlie Chaplin in the direction of "A Woman of Paris," will direct, under the supervision of Harry Rapf.

Casting is now in progress, with Adolphe Menjou and Norma Shearer already signed for leading roles. Charles Van Enger will handle the photography. While actual production is to begin on January 7 some of the film on already been shot. Rapf recently returned from New York with a couple of cans of film under his arm, the motion pictures of the Actors' Equity ball in New York, where Nora Bayes, Elsie Ferguson, Madge Kennedy, Irene Bordoni, Joseph Santley, Fred and Dorothy Stone, W. C. Fields, Irene Castle, Ann Pennington, Vera Gordon Raymond Hitchcock, Frank Tinney, Paul Whiteman and other stars were photographed for a scene in the picture.

Other productions are shortly to be commenced at the Warner Brothers studio, the announcement of which will be made within a week or two. Warner Brothers own the rights to several notable books and plays.

Cody as Dan McGrew

The agony is over at last, and the actor who will play the title role in the S-L production of "The Shooting of Dan McGrew" for Metro has been chosen. Lew Cody is the happy man. Announcement of the selection of Mr. Cody was made yesterday by Arthur Sawyer, supervisor of S-L productions, following the compiling of the votes cast by exhibitors, exchange managers and salesmen for this coveted role.

Several months ago Mr. Sawyer sent a form letter to 500 leading exhibitors and to all Metro exchange managers and salesmen, asking that they vote for the actor they would pick for Dan McGrew. He inclosed a short synopsis and a week later was flooded with answers. Lew Cody was the popular choice.

Barbara La Marr will have the part of the Lady Lou in the picture, which Clarence G. Badger will direct. Actual shooting of the picture will be commenced at the Metro studios next week.

Heading Straight Up the Ladder

Eleanor Boardman,

Who not so very long ago was almost unknown, is now ringing the bell in leading roles for Goldwyn. "Souls for Sale" and "Three Wise Fools" established her. She appears next week at the California in a featured part in "The Day of Faith."

'OUR CLUB' AT THEATER

Young Cinema Actresses to Attend Criterion Tonight

Tonight is the night for "Our Club," at the Criterion Theater. A score of sparkling, young and beautiful stars will attend the evening performance of "The Hunchback of Notre Dame," and will be presented to every patron in person.

"We have no blue-stocking ideas at all," says Helen Ferguson, who was their founder, and is now vice-president, under the leadership of Mary Pickford, the president. One of the things which these girls make a point of doing, however, is to go to see every picture in which one of their numbers appears. But they always just go as members of the audience. Tonight, though, for the first time since the club was formed, they will not only come to see the picture, but will make, each of them, a personal appearance. In this way they will pay tribute to Patsy Ruth Miller, who is one of their group, and has the feminine lead in the feature, and they will also meet the patrons of the theater.

Those of "Our Club" who will appear are Helen Ferguson, Vola Vale, Edna Murphy, Laura La Plante, Gertrude Olmsted, Zasu Pitts, Lillian Rich, Carmelita Geraghty, Carmel Myers, Virginia Fox and Gloria Hope.

FINEMAN IS NAMED GENERAL MANAGER

Signalizing the resumption of production activities at the Robertson-Cole studios on a broader scale than ever before, J. I. Schnitzer, vice-president of Film Booking Offices announced yesterday the appointment of B. P. Fineman as general manager of the cinema plant at Melrose avenue and Gower street.

Long prominent in the independent field as one of the brilliant group of young executives, "Bernie" Fineman has created a record of accomplishment as an independent producer which embraces a long list of successful attractions. Among them are "Where is My Wandering Boy Tonight?" "Don't Marry for Money" and "I Am the Law."

Mr. Fineman also will represent Film Booking Offices in its contact with independent producers on the west coast. The young executive is the husband of Evelyn Brent.

FAST-MOVING STORY COMING TO GRAUMAN'S

The modern novel seldom furnishes sufficient dramatic substance for a feature photoplay. Hence the present clamor for costume plays which invariably contain a wealth of detail that can be transcribed to the screen in stirring fashion, and with spectacular effect.

An example of the fast-moving, dynamic and yet intensely heart-appealing historical romance is Norma Talmadge's "Ashes of Vengeance" which opens at Grauman's Million Dollar Theater Monday. It tells a story of love and court intrigue during the reign of Charles IX of France in the sixteenth century. It is magnificent in its spectacular element yet the story is pre-eminent, never once taking second place to the spectacle.

The picture was directed by Frank Lloyd and Conway Tearle, Wallace Beery and Courtenay Foote are in the cast.

NEW CONTRACT

NIBLO SIGNS FOR A LONG PERIOD WITH MAYER

By Edwin Schallert

Fred Niblo, director of "The Three Musketeers," "The Mark of Zorro," "Blood and Sand," and more recently "The Famous Mrs. Fair" and "Thy Name is Woman," will continue to make pictures for Louis B Mayer for release through the Metro organization. He has just signed a new contract with Mr. Mayer for a long period of time, and this will take effect immediately upon completion of his present agreement, which still has some time to run.

The new arrangement is one of the results of the trip to the Coast made by Marcus Loew and J. Robert Rubin, Metro executives. The new features are to follow out Mr. Mayer's and Mr. Niblo's plans for large productions and will be released over a period of several years.

The newest Niblo release, "Thy Name is Woman," will shortly be shown in New York, and will have a special presentation. The premiere there will be arranged by Mr. Loew himself.

F. B. O. Studios Now

Appointment of B. P. Fineman as general manager of the F. B. O. (which is the new name for the Robertson-Cole) studios has been announced by J. I. Schnitzer, vice-president. The remainder of the personnel, it is stated, will not be changed. Mr. Fineman will be in charge of production, under the direct supervision of Mr. Schnitzer and Maj. H. C. S. Thomson, now managing director of F. B. O. in New York.

A series of Witwer stories called "The Telephone Girl," are being made, featuring Alberta Vaughn, and other attractions will shortly be put into production, it is announced.

Beery as Pirate

The cast of "The Sea Hawk" has been increased by the addition of Wallace Beery, who will play a pirate sea captain. It is a good-bad role that Beery is assuming this time, for an important part of his duties in the picture is to fight spirited battles with fists and swords in defense of Sir Oliver, played by Milton Sills.

TO HOLD "DANCER OF NILE" ANOTHER WEEK

Owing to the enthusiastic reception given "The Dancer of the Nile" at Clune's Broadway Theater, Manager Larry Lund has decided to continue this feature for a second week. "The Dancer of the Nile" features Carmel Myers, who has just been chosen to appear as Iras, the siren of "Ben Hur," soon to go into production for the Goldwyn company.

Opposite Miss Myers appears Malcolm MacGregor, while in the role of King Tut-Ankh-Amen, Bertram Grasby is distinguishing himself.

The production was directed by William P. S. Earle, who has introduced a new angle in picture making, using for his backgrounds painted sets, which are attracting much attention from the technical men in the profession and which cannot be discerned from the most lavish scenery by the laymen.

TOUGH GUYS LOOKED LIKE COLLEGE MEN

Edith Roberts, who plays a principal role in "Big Brother," now showing at Grauman's Rialto, tells of several interesting experiences she had while filming the Rex Beach story. Many of the scenes were taken on Tenth avenue near Hell's Kitchen, one of the roughest districts in all New York.

One night, Miss Roberts and Mrs. Raymond Hatton were standing on the sidewalk watching Mr. Hatton make a scene when a group of young men approached and began talking to them. They looked like harmless college boys so you can imagine their surprise when two burly policemen ordered them to their car, saying: "Those fellows belong to the toughest gang in the neighborhood. They were probably planning to knock you down and steal your jewelry."

MAE MURRAY TRIES A DIFFERENT ROLE AGAIN

Production upon "Mademoiselle Midnight," Mae Murray's next starring picture for Metro, is now well under way at the Goldwyn studios.

Miss Murray's role in "Mademoiselle Midnight" will be a radical departure from anything the star has ever attempted, and upon this picture's release the public will see a new Miss Murray, a different one than even the exotic Mae of "Fashion Row," now showing at Loew's State.

Included in the supporting cast are Monte Blue, Arthur Edmund Carew, Johnny Arthur, John Sainpolis, Paul Weigel, Clarissa Selwyn and Earl Schenck.

ANNEXATION ELECTION IS SANCTIONED

Council Acts on Plea of Citizens of Sherman and West Hollywood

Residents of Sherman, West Hollywood and the section located between La Brea avenue and Beverly Hills will on January 29 vote upon the question of annexation to Los Angeles. This district has a population of about 10,000. The Council was petitioned by registered voters of the district to call a special annexation election, and this the Council did yesterday.

The Council also formally adopted the ordinance with which Cienega Addition is annexed to the city, as the result of an election held there at which annexation carried by three to one. This district is bounded by Rimpau Boulevard, West Adams, West Washington and Culver City. The ordinance will become effective in thirty days and then after certification by the State officials, annexation will become a fact, and the police, fire and other city departments notified.

MUSIC FEATURE OF RADIO BILL

Filipino String Orchestra Warmly Greeted

Pasadena Choral Club is on Program

Teacher of Blind Tells of Work Being Done

BY K. G. ORMISTON

The illuminated Christmas tree in the corner, with its glistening tinsel and dangling decorations; the gilded bird cages, the handsome and inviting furnishings of the softly lighted and warmly inviting studio furnished a background for the artistry of the sixteen talented persons who last night gave to Radioland a splendid program from The Times' radio station.

Grouped in a semicircle about the suspended microphone were the eight members of the Filipino String Orchestra. They are ever-popular radio entertainers, with their novel string ensemble and distinctive interpretation of the popular dance numbers.

The orchestra is composed of R. Beltrano, first mandolin; A. Curcuera, banjo piccolo; P. Bacalod, banjo 'cello; P. Ramajo, banjo alto; C. Tempongko, banjo E flat; C. Cardernal, banjo guitar; P. Bandalan, bass guitar and manager, and D. Mangabat violinist and director. They played at KHJ through the courtesy of the Bluebird Cafeteria, receiving many telephoned requests for encores.

WALLENIUS SINGS

Then there was A. W. Wallenius, of the tenor voice so well suited to radio broadcast. He was accompanied by Mrs. Myrtle Kendall. His songs carried a warmth and depth of feeling.

The Woman's Choral Club Quartet of Pasadena, composed of Mrs. Wendall G. Robinson, soprano; Mrs. Alfred C. Eggleston, second soprano; Esther M. South, first alto, and Mrs. Frances M. Antrobus, second alto, with Mrs. Myrtle Kendall at the piano, gave a well-chosen program of charming quartet numbers. These included "The Old Road," by Scott, "Her Rose," by Coombs, "Mr. Mocking Bird," by Hahn, and "The Firelit Dark," by Winston.

Mrs. Robinson and Miss South gave a duet, "Passage Bird's Farewell," by Hildach with Mrs. Kendall at the piano. Altogether the portion of the evening's entertainment which was given by these generous and artistic ladies from Pasadena was marked with a charming dignity and harmonious combination of really excellent voices. Mrs. Kendall's accompaniments supplied a sympathic background that left nothing to be desired.

RECITAL ENJOYED

Manuel Emanule, an Italian operatic baritone, possessed of a sonorous, rich vibrant voice offered a program of songs including "Rysoor's Cantabile," from "Patrie," by Paladilke, "At Dawning," by Cadman, "Life and Death," by Taylor and others. He was accompanied by Mrs. Myrtle Kendall. A pupil of Minardi, the baritone has been well received in Canada and the East. He only recently came to the Southland, and has fallen under the charm of California. His recital was thoroughly enjoyable.

Kate M. Foley, home teacher of the blind for the State Board of control told Radioland of the splendid work being done in encouraging the blind in their own homes, and leading them over the difficult path. The teachers are blind themselves and are therefore familiar with the handicaps and discouragements which overwhelm the the adult but recently deprived of sight.

UNCLE REMUS

Gladys Blackwell Pickering, soprano, was heard on the noontide broadcast, her sweet never-to-be-forgotten voice being the feature of the program. "Hand of You," by Bond, and "Land of Sky Blue Water," by Cadman, were beautifully sung, with Carrie Preston Rittmeister at the piano.

Uncle Remus came up to the radio department on a still hunt for possums, and was drafted into service in the studio. He caressed the ivories as though they were cubical with black spots on 'em and presented a line of coon songs that savored of chicken frying in the pan and watermelons basking in the moonlight. It was a possum consigned to Uncle Remus that chewed up Radio Kindness, so his brother canary, Radio Happiness, simply glared at the colored gent, and refused to chirp a chirp.

Earl Kennedy was also on hand with his ukulele, and he entertained with several Kanaka songs, strumming his own accompaniments.

CHILDREN ENTERTAINED

The children's program was given by the Loomis twins, Maxine and Virginia. These dainty little screen juveniles proved to be charming entertainers, and sang with sweetness and harmony. Mrs. Rowena Beckley, reader, told the lads and lassies of the "Flight of the Stick Candy Man," by Foley, and other tales.

Harry James Beardsley announced the kiddies' program, and O. G. Pirie was guest announcer for the evening concert.

CONTINUE TRIAL OF CONSTABLE LARIMER

Trial of David S. Larimer, Superintendent of County Constables and in charge of transportation of prisoners for the Sheriff's office, indicted by the county grand jury on counts of embezzlement and forgery, was yesterday continued by Judge Shenk to January 23. At the same time the court continued the case of Gilbert C. Blasdell, fellow-officer of Larimer, to January 2. Blasdell is accused of embezzlement of public funds in connection with the transfer of convicted criminals from Los Angeles to the State penitentiary. According to the District Attorney, the men obtained refunds on unused portions of railroad tickets for which no accounting was made to the County Treasurer.

Capt. Edward A. Salisbury, famous explorer, will talk.

HEARING CONTINUED

The preliminary hearing of O. L. Russell, a railroad brakeman, charged with shooting and seriously wounding Augustino Lopez and Ramon Madregal, was continued yesterday by Justice Baird until January 3. Depositions were obtained from the two men yesterday at the General Hospital, where they are convalescing. These state that Russell shot them when they refused to give him $1 each, after he had caught them riding on a freight train. Dep. Dist.-Atty. Heinecke is prosecuting Russell.

ANTIANNEXATIONISTS LOSE

Superior Court Denies Application for Injunction on Long Beach Addition Vote

The court fight to prevent Long Beach from conducting a special election to annex a "shoe-string" strip which would virtually cut off industrial development in the harbor district was lost yesterday. Judge Cole of the Superior Court, after listening to argument for and against the annexation move the better part of the day, denied the application for a temporary injunction to prevent the election.

Immediately after the court's decision was made Attorneys Wood and McArthur, who led the fight against the election, declared they will continue the fight if the election is successful on a petition to prevent Long Beach from administering the district annexed. They added further that the original petition will be amended and a permanent injunction sought to prevent Long Beach from governing the district or the results of the election from going into effect.

PLEAS MADE

In their arguments yesterday the two attorneys contended that annexation of the strip would be an unjustifiable encroachment on the rights of the people living in the territory inclosed by the strip, because it prevents them from joining any other city. It is also an encroachment on other cities, they asserted, since no other city would be able to annex the territory which is surrounded by the long and narrow section.

Irregularities in publishing the election notice were also charged by the attorneys. They asserted that the notice was published in but one newspaper and the circulation manager of the paper, Clark F. Wait, took the stand and testified that the journal had no circulation in the district which it is proposed to annex.

POINT UNDETERMINED

Judge Cole, however, ruled that the rights of those living in the county territory enclosed by the strip were not in jeopardy and that these residents themselves had asked that the strip be annexed to Long Beach. Whether the strip is actually contingguous to Long Beach or the Long Beach annexation district in the proper meaning of the word, Judge Cole refused to state, indicating that this question was one for a higher court to decide. He pointed out, however, that the strip touched the territory which will be voted on at two points.

The question of whether county territory can be included within the limits of a city without being governed by that city was also argued by the attorneys. This question arose when it was pointed out by Wood and McArthur that a part of the territory enclosed by the strip will remain county territory even if the election carries.

As a result of the decision the election will be conducted today. In a decision Wednesday, Judge Cole declared that the petitions for annexation of the Burnett-Signal Hill district were incomplete, and issued a temporary injunction to prevent the election in this district.

CITY POSTAL RECEIPTS IN CLOSE RACE

Seven Million Goal to Place Los Angeles at Top of Gain Column

Postmaster O'Brien is wondering whether the close race in postal receipts in evidence at the close of 1918, when it was hoped that the figures would reach $3,000,000, is to be repeated in this year of grace 1923, when it seems to be a neck-and-neck race whether the figures for the calendar year shall reach the coveted mark of $7,000,000.

The total receipts of 1918 were $3,070,760.31, just over the border line of safety. This showed a good increase over the previous year, 1917, when the total was $2,640,202.18.

The aggregate of $3,000,000 in round numbers was reached only five years ago, and today the Los Angeles postoffice officials are fully expecting the totals to show more than $7,000,000.

And they are not entirely disinterested in the matter. If the mark is touched the salary of Postmaster O'Brien will be $8000 instead of $6000, the present figure. The salary of Assistant Postmaster Foster will be boosted $300 a year, and there will be increases for many of the heads of the departments.

If the $7,000,000 mark is reached, and officials are optimistic that it will be, it will mean that the increase in the postoffice business in this city during the year that is just closing will have been equaled by no other city in the United States. That is an honor of which Angelenos ought to be proud.

And what is the outlook for the $7,000,000?

The receipts up to last Monday night (no later figures are available) were a total of $794,000 in round numbers for the first twenty-four days of the month.

It is therefore necessary to gain $117,000 during the last six days of the month to put the totals safe in the $7,000,000 column.

Will the metropolis of the Pacific Coast do it? Both Postmaster O'Brien and his assistant, A. B. Foster, believe that the goal will be reached, but both agree that it will be by an eyelash. There is nothing to do but wait. Under the postal laws boosting postage-stamp sales is not allowed by the Postoffice Department.

Suit Filed for Accounting in Deal in Stocks

H. W. Conroy and his wife, Estella Conroy, yesterday had on file in the Superior Court a suit in which they asked an accounting from W. W. Reese and his wife, Ella Reese, on a deal in stock in the Argus Sterling Mining Company said to involve $200,000.

According to the complaint, the Conroys entered into an agreement with Reese whereby they were to buy and sell stock then in escrow with the understanding that they were to share in the profits. In accordance with the asserted agreement, the complaint recited, Conroy and his wife put up about $11,000 to negotiate the deal. Despite the alleged fact that the plaintiffs were to share in the benefits of the sale of the stock, Reese was said to have procured about 745,000 shares in his own name and sold them in Los Angeles, Chicago and other cities without making an accounting of the profits. The Conroys stated they believed Reese had realized $200,000 profit on the deal, of which amount they said they were entitled to $100,000.

GROTTO BALL TONIGHT

Public Invited to Annual Affair as Circus Aftermath

As a sequel to the Jinnistan Grotto Circus and Arabian Fete held at Prager Park earlier in the month, the organization tonight will hold its annual ball at the Venice Ballroom.

According to A. W. Shaw, who was managing director of the circus, it was decided to invite the public to attend the Grotto's annual ball because of the fact that high winds and threatening rains made it necessary to close the Prager Park circus one night earlier than originally planned.

A variety of entertainment has been arranged. The Scotch Kilties Band will be present, and music for dancing will be provided by the Grotto band.

TREATY SITE PURCHASE IS DECIDED ON

Deal for Buying of Cahuenga Pass Lots to be Closed

The City Council's finance committee yesterday afternoon agreed to consummate the purchase of the site of the signing of the Treaty of Cahuenga by Gen. John C. Fremont and Gov. Pio Pico under which Los Angeles became American territory. The city agreed to pay $15,000 for two lots near Cahuenga Pass, and had paid an initial deposit of $5500 when the question arose as to whether or not the lots were the exact site of the signing of the treaty.

Extensive historical research by the Councilmen and by the Native Sons caused the Councilmen to conclude that the lots were the correct ones and the committee yesterday recommended that the Council authorize the payment of the remaining $9500. The transaction will be completed in time to enable the Native Sons to celebrate the anniversary of the signing of the treaty at the Cahuenga Pass site on January 13.

The Native Sons own the table on which the treaty was signed and it will be used at the ceremonies and at the same time a tablet will be unveiled which will permanently mark the site. The present buildings on the property will be remodeled and used as an historical museum.

INFATUATION CHARGED

Bungalow-Court Tenant Said to Have Stolen Husband

Declaring her husband became infatuated about a year ago with one Rita Ulrich, a tenant of their bungalow court in Venice, Mrs. Irene B. Bowdish yesterday filed suit for divorce against Morris C. Bowdish.

According to the complaint, Bowdish was seen to kiss and embrace the "other woman" and on several occasions went to her bungalow and remained there for periods of as long as two hours, during which time the shades would be drawn.

Mrs. Bowdish also cited as one of the grounds for her action the alleged fact that her husband, who, she said, is 59 years of age, accompanied the Ulrich woman to a motion-picture theater.

The complaint listed community property valued by Mrs. Bowdish at $40,000, on which she said there was a mortgage of $18,000.

The couple were married in Lansing, Mich., October 2, 1893, and parted last June, according to the suit, which was prepared by Attorney Floyd S. Sick.

COME TO LOS ANGELES

Mr. and Mrs. J. Chick Levy (Miss Floria Siegel) are recent arrivals from New York City and are domiciled at 220 South Berendo street. Mr. Levy has disposed of his successful manufacturing and importing business in that city to associate himself with the Los Angeles firm of Myer Siegel & Co

Shipping Board Seamen Freed of Dry Charge

A directed verdict of acquittal by U. S. Dist. Judge J. Whittaker Thompson, yesterday resulted in the release of Capt. J. S. Hulings, O. Dyrness, first mate; Fred W. Kilkern, second mate; H. Daniels, third mate, and W. L. McGuinness, steward, of the Shipping Board oil tanker Hoxabar, charged with violating the tariff law of 1922 in bringing into Los Angeles Harbor on the 1st inst., twenty-one cases of liquor.

When the case was called and a jury impaneled, Russell Graham, Assistant United States Attorney, said that the goverment had no witnesses. Two sailors had furnished evidence that resulted in the seizure of the liquor and the defendants, but the sailors had disappeared. He recommended to the court that a directed verdict of acquittal be given.

All of the defendants, with the exception of Capt. Hulings and First Mate Dyrness, have been in the County Jail since their arrest. Dyrness obtained his freedom on Christmas. Announcing

The devotion of our entire organization, plant and equipment to the manufacture and sale of super-quality PIONEER roofings and building papers

Our new $1,250,000 factory unit, including felt mill, asphalt refineries, warehouses and roofing plant, was completed less than two months ago. Today, due to the phenomenal increase in demand for Pioneer products, we are again faced with the need for further expansion.

With the dawn of the New Year, we will become exclusive manufacturers of roofings and building papers—the largest exclusive producers of these materials in the West.

Two and a half acres have been acquired adjoining our present sixteen-acre plant at Vernon and our program for 1924 calls for the construction of additional factory units and the introduction of new Pioneer products upon the market.

In order to concentrate upon the manufacture of Pioneer roofings and building papers, we have sold our coarse and wrapping paper division to Blake, Moffitt & Towne, effective December 31st. Thus, after thirty-five years, we will retire from the jobbing field to specialize in the production of Pioneer Super-Quality Flaxine, Sanded and Slate Surfaced Roofings, Pioneer Slate Surfaced Shingles, Pioneer Waterproofing, Insulating and Mulch Papers, and products of Light Chip Board and Felt.

To our thousands of customers in the coarse paper and roofing divisions, we express the fullest appreciation for patronage during the past years; and wish you all a very Happy and Prosperous New Year.

Brawley Constable is Shot as Weapon Explodes

City Absolved After Suit on Kidnaping

City Hall Bond Proposal Cause of Protest

BRAWLEY, Dec. 27.—Constable William O'Brien is undergoing treatment in an El Centro hospital for a serious wound in the leg caused by his own pistol. The constable remarked that he would remove his pistol, an automatic, from his coat pocket to avoid accident and as he did so, it was discharged. The large caliber bullet plowed through his thigh, came out and re-entered the calf of his

CITY OFFICIALS BLAMED

CALEXICO, Dec. 27.—Attorneys for Andres Laseter have announced that the city of Calexico has been absolved from any liability in connection with the asserted kidnaping of Laseter from an El Centro hospital last month. Suit for damages aggregating $1,200,000 was filed against Chief of Police Joe Hardwick, City Recorder C. E. Oakrey, City Trustee of Calexico and the city, in which the complaint asserted that the defendants had all conspired to aid in the kidnaping of Laseter and his delivery to Mexican officials. Laseter is held in Mexicali jail on a smuggling charge. He was alleged to have been wounded during a battle with Mexican officers, brought to El Centro for surgical treatment and then disappeared. The attorneys declared that Laseter does not desire any of the taxpayers' money, but will merely seek to recover damages from the officials named as individuals.

BONDS CAUSE PROTEST

BRAWLEY, Dec. 27.—W. F. Beal, former city trustee, county supervisor and assemblyman, has filed a protest against the proposed issuance of city bonds of ,000 to provide for a new City Hall. Beal said the City Hall now in use is good for at least twenty-five years longer and that this is no time to float a new bond issue and cause more expense to Brawley taxpayers.

"Just because we desire a thing does not mean that we can afford to buy it," asserted Beal. "I will fight this bond issue to the finish."

GROWERS TO MEET

EL CENTRO, Dec. 27.—Asparagus growers of Imperial Valley will meet January 3, at the Farm Bureau office, to adopt by-laws and complete the organization of an association whose purpose is to standardise the valley crop and market it along systematic lines. The association has been incorporated under the laws of California. The construction of a packinghouse is considered by the organization.

CALM DEMEANOR BALKS BANDITS

Garage Robbers Depart on Receiving Unruffled Reception

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH]

FRESNO, Dec. 27.—Two men drove their machine into the B. and L. garage on Broadway, asked for gasoline, then leaped out of their car and covered the night man, George Riggs, with revolvers, as he started to fill their tank.

"We're going to search the place," one of the bandits declared.

"Hop to it," Riggs replied, coolly. "Help yourselves, if you can find anything, you're luckier than I am."

The nonchalant reply stopped the highwaymen. They looked puzzled, then the leader turned to his companion and said:

"Come on, let's beat it."

They did, and Riggs rushed to police headquarters with a report and descriptions. Thus far the two haven't been turned up.

DRY INQUIRY FROM FAR-OFF TASMANIA

FRESNO, Dec. 27.—From far-off Tasmania a plea has reached Fresno for enlightenment concerning the operation and effect on general business conditions of the Eighteenth Amendment. The request for information, to which is attached a questionnaire of "fourteen points," was received by Secretary Guy E. Leonard of the Fresno county Chamber of Commerce from H. C. McPhee of Parliament House, Hobart, Tasmania. The curiosity of the Tasmanians evidently does not extend to the moral issues involved, for the questionnaire is limited to matters directly concerning business conditions. It is the first request for such information received here, and Leonard is a bit puzzled as to how to answer it.

TULARE BOY SCOUT LEADERS TO CONFER

VISALIA, Dec. 27.—Tulare county Boy Scout officials, committeemen, Scoutmasters and others interested in the work will have a leadership conference at the Kaweah Kiddie Kamp, beginning at 10 a.m. Sunday and ending at 4 p.m. on New Year's Day. Every phase of Scout work and kindred subjects will be taken up during this time. A faculty of trained Scout leaders will be on hand to carry on this program.

BIRTH RATE HIGH IN PORTERVILLE

Deaths Are Exceeded by Eighty in City

Dining-Car Menus Carry Whitney Pictures

Possums Being Hunted on Kaweah River

PORTERVILLE, Dec. 27.—Dr. Stork handed the count to the Grim Reaper in Porterville district for the year of 1923, according to present reports of City Recorder George D. Avery. Births in this district for the year totaled 243, of which 127 were boys and 116 were girls. There were 163 deaths during the same period, 104 being males and 59 females. The death rate was about normal, according to the health board's report.

WHITNEY ON MENUS

"Mt. Whitney, the Top o' the United States," is shown in an unusual photograph on the cover of new dining-car menus just issued by the Southern Pacific Company. These menus display scenic attractions via the San Joaquin Valley and the picture of the famous Sierra Nevada peak is declared one of the most striking ever published.

Allan Pollok, superintendent of the Southern Pacific car department, stated that 60,000 copies have been printed and are now in distribution on Southern Pacific diners, operating from Portland, Or., and Ogden, Utah, to New Orleans.

Camp Nelson, in the hills near here, is the nearest motor point to Mt. Whitney, and the back country. From there pack trains lead over the trail to the inner recesses. Official survey of the proposed Mt. Whitney Midland Trail, connecting Camp Nelson with Lone Pine, Inyo county, was made this summer. Officials of Tulare and Inyo counties are endeavoring to secure aid in financing construction of this road, so called, as it skirts Mt. Whitney, and would connect with the Midland Trail from Utah.

WRECKS OLD BRIDGE

A new bridge is now under construction at the Main street crossing of Porter Slough and when the construction crew began operations some of the timbers of the original structure were removed. An interesting disclosure concerning the first bridge erected at this point is made by Miss Laura Guthrie, 708 Hockett street, who announces that timbers for the first structure were hauled from Redfield's mill, about seven miles back of the Jack Ranch by Josiah Box and Payne Smithwick. At that time the Main street crossing was about where Division street crosses.

Redfield's mill formerly operated in what is now called the Mountain Home section, included in the recent donation of 160 acres making up Tulare county's new park, which is called "Balch Park," in honor of Mr. and Mrs. A. C. Balch of Los Angeles, donors.

POSSUMS ON KAWEAH

WOODLAKE, Wec. 27. — Welcome news to hunters of this section is announcement by Robert T. Curtis that opossum have appeared in the lowlands along the Kaweah River, south of Woodlake. A number of residents of that section report several recent successful hunts.

The 'possum of the Old South is about two and a half feet long, including the tail of a dusky gray color with white hair. They have a pouch to which the young are transferred as soon as born. When attacked the animal plays dead, from which the expression "playing 'possum" originated. They are not natives of this district and considerable speculation has been made as to how they were brought here. The most accredited theory is that they were brought in as pets and made their escape.

FAKE EX-SOLDIERS ORDERED TO DEPART

MEN SELLING MAGAZINES SENT FROM HANFORD BY OFFICER

HANFORD, Dec. 27.—One man of a party of five who posed as ex-service men to make sales of magazines made the mistake of calling at the residence of Deputy City Marshal Sparks, who is adjutant of Hanford Post, American Legion. Conversation led Sparks to believe the solicitor was a fake ex-soldier. After questioning the man he visited the other four at their hotel and asserts he found them to be frauds. Sparks and Dist.-Atty. McKay, also a Legion man, decided to tell the men to leave town. Sparks says other cities in the San Joaquin Valley are being visited by bogus ex-service men trying to sell magazines or soliciting funds to put them through college. He is going to notify all posses in the valley to guard against the imposition.

PUPILS COMPETE FOR FARM BUREAU PRIZE

TULARE, Dec. 27.—Rural school pupils are competing in an essay contest this month under auspices of the Tulare County Farm Bureau. Their subject is "How Farm Bureau is Helping Father," with competition limited to sixth, seventh and eighth grades. More than fifty schools have recently been visited by representatives of the Farm Bureau, acquainting them with the contest. County prizes are $10, $5 and $3, and prizes are also offered in each school of $2, $1.50 and $1. This contest is conducted with the annual membership campaign of the Farm Bureau which will start the first of the year.

FRESNO REGISTRATIONS

FRESNO, Dec. 27.—Announcing that he expects a total registration of 60,000 in 1924, Chief Deputy County Clerk, T. E. Pryor, in charge of the registration department, has started preparations for registrations for the 1924 elections.

BOOZE RUNNER IN JAIL

HANFORD, Dec. 27.—Tom Avila, booze runner, formerly of Boston but recently of Corcoran, this county, was sentenced yesterday by Justice Hurlbut to pay a fine of $600 or serve one day in jail as an alternative for each dollar. He was out of funds.

MRS. SWEET WILLED KIN HER ESTATE

Brothers and Sisters Are Chief Beneficiaries of Train-Wreck Victim

The bulk of the extensive estate of Mrs. Carrie O. Sweet, who was killed recently in a wreck of the Twentieth Century Limited in Chatauqua county New York, is left to her brothers and sisters and their children, in the will filed for probate yesterday by Mrs. Sweet's brother, M. A. Hamburger.

The estate, consisting of stocks, bonds and real estate, is expected to amount to several hundred thousand dollars. A large share in the Carrie O. Sweet Corporation, left in the will to Mrs. Sweet's husband, Otto, reverts to her brothers and sisters because of the death of Mr. Sweet, who also was killed in the wreck.

After a few specific bequests of $5006 each, the estate is divided into five equal parts among M. A. Hamburger, Belle A. Hamburger, Evelyn Hamburger and the children of David A. Hamburger and the heirs of Mrs. Jennie H. Marix, a sister. The children of David Hamburger are Arthur, 17, Florence, 15 and Howard, 5 years of age. The heirs of Mrs. Marix are Florence, Ida, Evelyn and Irving Hellman.

Bequests of $500 each are made to the Kaspare Cohn Hospital and the Jewish Associated Charities of Los Angeles, to Miss Tilly Selling of Portland, Or., Miss Evelyn Adelsdorfer of San Francisco, Sofie Buck, Mrs. Sweet's housekeeper, and to Karl Ernest and Augusta Sweet, brothers and sisters of Mrs. Sweet's husband.

The petition explains that the deceased left no children, and no father and mother, and that no executor was nominated. Mr. Hamburger, the petitioner, asks for letters of administration.

LINCOLN PARK MUSIC

Special Piece to be Played at Concert Sunday

New Year's music especially composed and arranged by Gene Rose, pianist-composer with Herb Wiedoeft's orchestra will be the feature of the public concert by Wiedoeft at Lincoln Park Sunday afternoon.

A special number composed by Rose is expected to please by its humor and comedy. Rose has titled it "12 O'clock New Year's, and Another Hour To Go."

The new composition is to be interpreted on clarinets by Gene Sigrist, Freddie Biebesheimer and Lawrence "Red" Abbott.

REVENUES AT HARBOR MOUNTING

November Returns Nearly Double Amount Received Same Month Last Year

The constantly increasing revenues derived from the city's investment in municipal docks, wharves, and other property at Los Angeles was shown yesterday in reports submited to the Board of Harbor Commissioners by Traffic Manager Sandberg.

During November, the reports showed, 155 vessels were handled at the harbor by the city pilots from which pilotage fees were collected amounting to $18,517.71, as compared with but 86 vessels during November last year and income that year of $8867.02.

The operating division of the harbor department collected during November a total of $86,249.95 in wharfage and dockage fees from vessels using the city wharves. The income from the municipal belt line railroad connecting all of the city docks was $10,429.52, while the receipts from the city scales were $188.25 making the month's total harbor revenues from these four sources $115,383.43, as against but $60,358.71 for November last year, or nearly double this year over last year.

Mayor Cryer Still on Road to Recovery

Mayor Cryer was able to sit up yesterday for ten minutes and to eat a lamb chop, the first solid food he has had since his illness began. His temperature, it was said, is normal, and he is considered slightly improved.

His family asked yesterday that friends inquiring about his condition do so at City Hall, where his secretary, H. H. Kinney, is furnished with full details.

RITES FOR MRS. A. LIGHT

Funeral services for Mrs. Abraham Light, 49 years of age, who died last Monday at Denver, will be conducted at 2 p.m. today from the Bresee Brothers' mortuary, 855 South Figueroa street. Burial will be in the Home of Peace Cemetery. Mrs. Light had been a resident of Los Angeles for seven years. She was visiting two of her children at Denver at the time of her death. She leaves her husband and nine children.

A VISIT TO OUR OFFICE WILL CONVINCE YOU, OR PHONE 298328 FOR APPOINTMENT, MADE ON REQUEST

MILLER & HANSEN,
CONSTRUCTION COMPANY,
5271 MONETA AVE.

I WILL LOAN ALL THE MONEY TO FINANCE AND BUILD A BUNGALOW COURT, flat or bungalow on your clear lot, subject to my appraisal for which there is no obligation.

Phone my office for appointment. Let me give you the address of an eight-unit bungalow court now under construction in Culver City for Mr. Fred B. Allen, estimated income $460 per month. I financed this court 100% and the lot cost Mr. Allen but $3750. Mr. Allen will pay me $371 per month for 48 months, which reduces the principal to the first mortgage, after which all monthly payments cease.

Call my office for an appointment any time, day or evening.

BAR NONE, OUR PRESENT STOCK OF LIGHT CARS IS EQUAL TO ANY IF NOT THE BEST. 40 TO 50 GOOD ONES TO CHOOSE FROM, mostly slightly used Stars and Fords. We try to keep all models on hand. We have a complete selection now.

Sport types, coupes, sedans, roadsters and tourings. Several light delivery wagons and 2 or 3 moderately priced 6 cylinder cars.

TAKE TIME AND PRIDE in selecting a used car. Compare its condition and then the price. Keep in mind that the big factor in buying a used car is the firm back of the purchaser. We have been serving you 12 YEARS ON AUTOMOBILE ROW, which makes your investment doubly safe. We take just as much time and pride in selling you a used car as we would a new one. CONVENIENT TERMS TO RESPONSIBLE PEOPLE.

NOTE

A USED STAR CAR sold by us is the most sensible and safest purchase you can make. They are guaranteed. The Star has a reputation for economy, sturdiness, hill climbing and ease of operation equal to no other car in its price class. A Star car a year old runs like a new car. There is some one in your neighborhood who owns one. Ask him.

HOLLYWOOD—

ATTENTION!
MY OHIO AND KENTUCKY FRIENDS.

You won't find one like this one back home. This elaborate home is offered for a short time only, $8000 in furnishings. Offered at a sacrifice, 9 large rooms, 4 bedrooms, library-den, 3 complete bathrooms in tile, shower bath.

A very well built home of English Colonial style in stucco, woodwork of solid birch, mahogany and egg-shell cream enamel [illegible]. All hardwood floors, [illegible] construction. Approach to real English-style stoop with large white columns through [illegible] finish hardwood door to large reception hall. Living-room and dining on respective sides of hall. Both front and rear stairs.

Artistic and most [illegible] built-in features, such as [illegible] in real mahogany and [illegible] style of Georgian period. Wall decorations in Brocade silk. Large built-in dressers in the dressing rooms that connect with bedrooms. Large basement, furnace, hot water heater.

Space does not permit mention of many other real valuable features, such as double garage, etc. A wonderful and most inspiring view of mountains. Location north of Sunset in West Hollywood. I recommend this to you as an opportunity at $21,000. It is worth $26,000.

A HOME AMONG ORANGE TREES.

Spend a month hunting, and when you are through you will admit the Pasadena country is the most beautiful in California. More millionaires there than any other locality. Why? We have a few lots near the foothills in full-grown orange trees priced several hundred dollars cheaper than nearby tracts, and we must close them out this week. All improvements going in; located on two boulevards. Big future for such choice locations. Only a few of these lots and priced very low for quick sale.

WE CAN FINANCE YOUR DWELLING.

Call, drop us a card or telephone your address to Metropolitan 4647 and we will call and take you out. No obligation whatever on your part. Ask for Mr. Andrews, JORDAN NATIONAL SERVICE, 211 Delta Bldg., 426 South Spring St.

HERE IS THE BEST OPPORTUNITY YOU WILL EVER HAVE TO MAKE REALLY BIG MONEY.
A group of experienced business men desire one or two conservative investors to join them in the development of a legitimate project possessed of almost unlimited possibilities, enormous profits. Product sells itself because of the tremendous world-wide demand, which is ever increasing. This is no scheme, but a proven commercial enterprise which will stand every acid test of scientific analysis. Bankers and efficiency engineers vouchsafe every statement made about this business. An investment of $2500 to $5000 immediately will let you in absolutely on the ground floor, with an assured profit in excess of $25,000 within one year; investment secured by a steel-clad agreement. Element of chance positively eliminated. If you have the cash and really want to make money, we will go into the fullest details of the proposition at a confidential interview. 919 Wright & Callender Bldg., or phone 826-516, ask for MR. CLARK.

Coolidge Acts on Plan to Have American Ships Handle Island Trade

Senator Jones Offers Other Ideas for Strengthening Shipping Board

BY ROBERT B. ARMSTRONG
(EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH)

WASHINGTON, Dec. 28.—Extension of the coastwise shipping laws of the United States to include the Philippine Islands and thus make ships between the islands and the United States engaged under the American flag is likely to come within a few weeks. President Coolidge after a conference with Senator Jones, chairman of the Senate Committee on Commerce, announced that he would have the War Department make a survey of the availability of American shipping to handle the Philippine Island trade and that he would also consult the Shipping Board officials.

Under the Merchant Marine Act President Coolidge has the authority to extend to the Philippines the coastwise shipping laws of the United States whenever he ascertains that the American ships are adequate to perform fully the necessary service to and from the islands. It is estimated that even now one-half of the entire shipping is handled by American vessels and the War Department, Navy Department, Shipping Board and other officials of the Federal Government have been urging that the laws be extended by Presidential proclamation and the Philippine trade be made entirely American so far as traffic to and from the United States is concerned.
